'Charm' Demonstrated at Meet'g Woman's Club

Miss Agnes F. Schmitt of Lincoln, Noted Authorly, Gives Fine Talk From Her Long Experience

From Monday's Daily—

The program highlight of the year that drew a record attendance was given last night at the meeting of the Plattsmouth Women's club at Hotel Plattsmouth when Miss Agnes F. Schmitt of Lincoln, beautiful of note, gave an illustrated lecture on "Charm, Make-up, and Hair-style." Miss Schmitt is owner and manager of the Cornhusker Beauty Shop in Lincoln, has been president of the Nebraska board of examiners for 11 years, and is a past president of the Nebraska Hairdressers' association. She was awarded recognition in Paris at which time she was a guest of Marcell, the Frenchman who originated the Marcel wave. She took post-graduate work in Paris, London and Berlin, and was the first woman hairdresser to act on a jury to judge hair style entries in Berlin at an international cosmetology institute. For fifteen years she has worked with the Charm School at the University of Nebraska and she also cooperates with the morticians of Lincoln in leading the services of herself and her employees.

From her splendid record it can readily be seen she is a person well qualified to lecture on her chosen subject. Her charming personality, her beauty, and her well-groomed appearance give evidence that she practices what she preaches.

Her talk was very interesting when she dealt in generalities such as the fact that cosmetology is a Greek word meaning exterior decoration and that the permanent wave was first introduced in Europe in 1923, but was even more interesting when she got down to personalities. She chose individuals at random from the audience to illustrate correct make-up and hair-style for that particular type. Those serving as models were Mesdames William Woolcott, Philip Hinz, James Mauzy, Harrison L. Gayer, R. C. Shellenbarger, E. H. Wescott, Misses Ruth Colby and

Amelia Martens. She spoke very highly of the hair-styling work done by the local beauty shops as evidenced by the appearance of the ladies in the audience. In her talk she stressed two important things that make for charm—"Beauty is based on glowing health and happy thoughts," and "A woman who is mistress of her hours is mistress of her years."

The business meeting was deferred until after Miss Schmitt's talk. Committee reports were heard and an account given of the free publicity accorded the club by the Plattsmouth Journal. Members were astounded to learn that in 1940 from March to December alone it amounted to over $200.

The Nebraska Scholarship Loan fund was discussed and it was voted that each member pay ten cents per capita into the fund so that the club can be recorded at the convention as 100 per cent contributors. The call-to-convention letter from the district president, Mrs. W. S. McGrew, was read by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frank Horsak. Convention matters were discussed and last-minute instructions given the committees by various committee chairmen. The club women were delighted to learn of the $15 donation, given them by the Chamber of Commerce to help with convention expenses. Voting delegates to the convention are Mrs. E. H. Wescott and Mrs. Aubrey H. Duxbury, and the alternates are Mrs. R. C. Shellenbarger and Mrs. William Heinrich. At a late hour welcome refreshments were served by the hostess committee, who were Mrs. A. R. Case, Mrs. H. L. Gayer, Mrs. E. H. Bernhard, Mrs. Carl Ofc, Mrs. Joseph Wiles, Mrs. Arnold Lillie, Mrs. George Frinklow, and Miss Mathilda Soennichen.

MRS. LINHART RETURNS

From Monday's Daily—
Mrs. Helen Cvietnina Linhart, who was confined at the Anton Kani hospital, Omaha, was able to return to her home today. Mrs. Linhart had been quite ill and several days ago she underwent a major operation. During her illness her children are being cared for at the Joseph Cvietnina, St. home.

FUNERAL OF W. P. RICE

Funeral services for the late W. P. Rice will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Sattler funeral home at Fourth and Vine streets.

Tuesday afternoon at the office of County Judge A. H. Duxbury occurred the marriage of Herman Washington, Jr. and Frances Marie Autrey, popular young colored people of Omaha. They were accompanied here by John Phillips and Simon Hughes, also of Omaha, who witnessed the wedding.

Jesus Condemned and Crucified

Luke 23:13-25; 32-34.
We are reviewing the record of unimpeachable witnesses of the most dreadful drama the world has ever seen. It reveals to us the depths to which a human can fall, when outside the will of God, and when possessed by hatred it turns upon a holy person or persists in resisting revealed truth. All four gospels give a graphic account of the proceedings. Matthew devotes 125 verses, Mark, 109; Luke, 129; John, 237 (seven chapters, almost one-third of his gospel).

In biographies of noted men, their ancestry, youth, schooling and achievements in life are recounted—their sickness and death. Death counts very little in their life. It is just the opposite with the Lord Jesus.

In biographies of noted men, their ancestry, youth, schooling and achievements in life are recounted—their sickness and death. Death counts very little in their life. It is just the opposite with the Lord Jesus. By the former, nothing is accomplished by death. Our Lord came to die; it was his death that completed his work. It was by his death that he made atonement for sin, redeeming all who would believe on him; reconciling men unto God, obtaining for us a full pardon for our sins, and that precious gift, which is eternal life. Little did those who took part in putting Christ to death realize that on this day there was being enacted the most important single event that has ever taken place on earth.

We look on a contrast in two gardens—Eden and Gethsemane. In one, sin came into the world; in the other, the penalty is paid. Death was conquered in Gethsemane. The redemption of the human race was practically finished when Jesus had fully surrendered to His Father's will: "Nevertheless, not my will, but thine be done."

We omit the betrayal scene, also the healing of Malchus' ear, also the arrest, the shameful acts of the High Priests and Sanhedrin. After being condemned to death, they needed Roman authority to carry out the sentence. So we find them in the court of Pilate the governor. This man was convinced of the innocence of Jesus. He had a hard struggle with his conscience. While he was not a good and clean man, he still knew the Jews. Envy had prompted them to accuse Jesus of many things; they could not prove. Pilate tried, and we think sincerely, to save Jesus. But political expediency won the day for the Jews. We regard very highly Pilate's confession: "I find no fault in him."

The depravity of the Jews stands out in bold relief, when they plead for Barabbas, a murderer. How much farther and deeper could they go and 34). "The Son of Man shall be delivered into the hands of men. He shall be slain, and three days after shall he rise again." "The Son of Man shall be delivered into the hands of men. He shall be slain, and three days after shall he rise again."

But unrighteousness prevailed! How He triumphed! Sentence is pronounced! Jesus is delivered to the lust, passion and fury of the mob. Jesus knew six months before what would happen. (Mark 10:33, lived into the Chief Priests and unto the Scribes, and they shall condemn him to death; and shall deliver him to the Gentiles and they shall mock him and shall scourge him and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him." Here was the shadow of the cross upon his path. Like the unjust judge who helped a poor widow from her adversary because she troubled him, Pilate feared the Jews would make him trouble, so he granted their request. Does that excuse Pilate? Retribution overtook him and he died in disgrace. Will that be all the punishment he is going to receive?

To cruelty and suffering, shame is added. His clothes are removed and he hangs naked on the cross; but He despised the shame. (See Heb. 12:2). To fill the cup of Christ's shame, Jesus was placed between two malefactors, in fulfillment of the scriptures. (Isa. 53:12). He was numbered with transgressors.

Man disobeyed God's law. Now a law is not complete without the punishment clause. The first law which we find on record is in Gen. 2:16-17, which is very plain and explicit. Man disregarded the law, and death was the result, both physical and spiritual. The virus of sin is inherited from the first lawbreaker; another must undo what the first committed; one without fault, as Pilate said, innocent, pure, holy, could appease the wrath of God, pay the penalty of disobedience, restore man to God's favor on one condition, that is, believe on Jesus, who bore our grief, our sorrow, our transgression, our iniquity.

He was sinless; only such a sacrifice could a just and holy God accept. We will never be able to fathom the depth of God's love, that gave His only Son to redeem man; this belongs in the realm of faith. Thy faith has made thee whole. Lord, increase our faith! All things are possible to them that believe. Faith can open prison doors, bring the dead back to life; faith is the victory that overcomes the world. Through the death of Christ, life came to the world.

DRAWN DOWN FINE

Robert Taylor of LaPlatte was arraigned Saturday in the county court on the charge of driving a car while under the influence of alcoholic liquor. The defendant first entered a plea of not guilty but this was later changed to that of guilty. Judge A. H. Duxbury gave a fine of $50 and the suspension of the driver's license of the young man for a period of one year.

DRAWN DOWN FINE

Monday afternoon in the court of Judge C. L. Graves, Robert Stegson of Nebraska City, was arraigned on a charge of traffic violation preferred by the city police. He was charged with speeding and ignoring a stop sign. He was given a fine of $5 on each count, and the costs, a total of $13.25.

RESUMES OLD JOB

Joe Libershal, long a familiar figure on the police force of the city, is again back on the job as a member of the night force that assists in protecting the community while the residents are at rest. Mr. Libershal started in his work Saturday night and is back in the old stride. He was a member of the police department for some fifteen years and has been engaged in other activities. In his long years on the force Mr. Libershal made an excellent record of service.

IN OMAHA HOSPITAL

Lunetta Falk, 18, daughter of William Falk, and granddaughter of Mrs. Olive Skinner, is in the Anton Kani hospital, Omaha. Miss Falk was rushed to the hospital Saturday and upon her arrival was operated on immediately.

BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD DISTRICT COURT OF HONOR

The Arbor Lodge district of the Cornhusker Council, comprising Cass, Otoe, and Nemaha counties, will hold a mammoth Court of Honor, first of the year, at Peru, on Friday night, March 21, at the Peru State Teachers College auditorium, at 7:30 p. m. The Scouts will be guests of the college. W. R. Pate, president, said. Troops of Scouts, leaders, and adults from 11 communities will join in this quarterly salute to those Scouts who have advanced a rank in Scouting. Music will be furnished by special arrangement and two one-act Scout plays will be staged. A special feature will be the award of the Silver Beaver, highest Scout Citizen award, to one whose identity will be kept a secret (and who doesn't even know himself) until the moment of presentation, by Roy D. Ridgway, Scout executive, who will head a delegation from Lincoln.

E. H. Wescott, Plattsmouth, district advancement chairman will preside. New Scouts and new troops organized since the last court will be recognized, and delegates from towns expecting to organize troops in the future are most cordially invited.

JUNIOR TWIRLING TEAM ORGANIZED IN JR. HIGH

Since the formation of the senior drill team last year, baton twirling has taken the city by storm. In response to this great interest in twirling, Mr. Leland Flora, director of music, has organized the junior twirling team to give the younger girls a chance to learn twirling and to give them experience in such an organization. This group is composed almost entirely of 7th grade girls. They rehearse three times a week, Monday, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. Miss Irene LaHoda is acting as drum major.

Mr. Flora reports much enthusiasm and fine progress. He hopes that these girls will be able, in coming years, to replace the graduates from the senior drill team and thus retain for them the distinctive title of "state champions." The junior team makes its first appearance on Wednesday evening, March 26, in the high school gym. The high school band and the senior drill team will also appear at this performance.

FIRE AT BORN HOME

Late Sunday afternoon the fire department was called to the Born farm west of the city on the Louisville road. The chimney of the farm home had caught fire and burned out, causing some alarm that the overheated chimney might cause serious damage. The burning chimney was soon checked by the work of the neighbors and firemen and the residence, one of the attractive farm homes in this section, saved from serious loss. The farm is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Born and family.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

G. H. Manners, who has been at the U. S. Veterans' hospital at Lincoln for the past seven weeks, has so much improved that he was able to return home Sunday. Mr. Manners has not been in rugged health for the past several years but seems much benefited by the course of treatment.

GOES TO ROCHESTER

From Wednesday's Daily—
C. F. Price, of this city, who has been in poor health for some time, departed today for Rochester, Minnesota, where he will enter the Mayo Clinic for treatment and observation.

NEWLYWEDS VISIT CITY

From Monday's Daily—
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Dynek of Los Angeles, California, were here today to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Rebal, grandparents of Mrs. Dynek. They were accompanied by Mrs. Tina Morey, sister of Mr. Dynek and Lyle Van Reussen, of Omaha.

The young people were married on February 24th at the Holy Name church in Omaha, the wedding being celebrated by the Rev. C. J. Connelly, pastor of the church. Following the wedding the party was entertained at a breakfast at the Hotel Blackstone, some thirty being in the group and motion pictures were taken of the bridal party. In the evening a reception was held at the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. James Rebal, Jr., 1471 South 17th street, a large number of the friends of the young people being in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Dynek are planning on returning to Los Angeles on March 23rd where they will make their home. Mr. Dynek is engaged in the contracting business on the west coast, where also the bride has been located for the past few years.

VACATION DAYS ARE HERE

Vacation days are starting at the general offices of the Norfolk Packing plant in this city as the clerks and officers prepare to take off their allotted time to rest and recuperate in preparation for the big rush that marks the crops growing season. Miss Anne Knieke, one of the clerks is the first to enjoy the opportunity of a holiday from her desk.

During the absence of the vacationers from their posts, Mrs. William Nelson, a former employe in the office is assisting as substitute.

HAVE FINE SERVICE

From Monday's Daily—
Last evening at the First Methodist church a large congregation enjoyed in addition to the message a fine song program given by the members of the church.

The men occupied the church loft and gave many of the fine old songs of the church under the leadership of Don C. York.

After the service a social and get acquainted hour was held at the parlors of the church.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Old friends in this city will be interested in learning that Mrs. Dora Peacock, old resident here, is now recuperating at the Community hospital at Long Beach from the effects of an operation.

Mrs. Peacock was operated on March 12th at the hospital for a tumor and a report received here by the members of the family are to the effect that she is getting along very well. Her daughter, Miss Florence Peacock, is with her mother and assisting in her care.

Many Attend K of C Initiation at Omaha Sunday

Francis P. Matthews Class Initiated in Order—Plattsmouth Council Has Number to Join.

Sunday afternoon at the Knights of Columbus club rooms in Omaha, a class of some fifty was initiated into the Plattsmouth members receiving their final degrees.

The class was named the Francis P. Matthews class in honor of the supreme knight, an Omaha resident. The Plattsmouth members to receive the ritualistic work were Donovan Rickett, Willard Brink, Jr., Frank M. Smith.

The initiation was followed by a banquet at the Hotel Fontenelle, very largely attended and at which Timothy E. Galvin, of Hammond, Indiana, supreme master of the fourth degree of the Knights of Columbus, was the main speaker. Mr. Galvin, an attorney and a past president of the National Alumni association of Notre Dame university, was chosen supreme master of the fourth degree this year.

Those attending from Plattsmouth were Walter H. Smith, grand knight, Frank A. Nemechauer, John M. Melinger, Willard Brink, Sr., Edward Delaney, James J. Holy.

READY FOR BOYS STATE

The Junior Chamber of Commerce at their meeting Monday evening voted to complete the work of arranging to send one of the local high school boys to "Boys State" at Lincoln this summer. The Chamber has paid their part of the expense for the youth who will spend the week at the state capital city. The boy is yet to be selected. This year there will be two from Plattsmouth at the "state," the American Legion also to send a boy.

Following the business meeting the members of the Chamber enjoyed the showing of the motion pictures of "Boys State" taken last year and proving very interesting to all of the audience.

TO ATTEND DISTRICT MEET

Coach Vernon Waterman of the Plattsmouth high school debate team, with members of the squad, will be at Lincoln Friday to participate in the district debate tournament. The members of the Plattsmouth team will comprise Billy Robertson, Bill Hula, Clayton Sark, Ruth Lawson and Margaret Fricke.

HERE FROM LINCOLN

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Johnson and Mrs. Maude Fricke, of Lincoln, were here Monday to attend the funeral services of H. F. Goos, an old time friend, as well as a short visit with relatives and friends.
