WRITES OF CAMP LIFE

Progress of members of the 157th infantry at Fort Sill, Okla., as described in a letter to The Brush News (Colorado) this week from Capt. Clinton E. Blauer, follow in part:

"We are progressing fine in our training here and have just completed graduating the first 400 men inducted from Colorado. By graduation we mean the men have completed their home training which does not include tactics or warfare training.

"Our advance party leaves this week for our new station at Camp Barkley, Abilene, Tex., and the entire division is to be moved by Febr. 28. Another of the Brush boys has received his promotion to second lieutenant—he is William Armstrong and is now serving with the regimental and anti-tank company.

"Albert Eikenbary who was also recently promoted, is making an excellent record with Company G, and Lieut. Thompkins who received his commission at the same time is now battalion transportation officer.

"Company L has been under the temporary command of Lieut. R. DeVault from Craig, Colo., and the group has made a most successful accounting. Now that I have finished my basic training class I will be back in command of the Brush unit for a while at least.

"All of the men are taking their training seriously. We really work hard and at times the going is tough. However, the morale is superior and everyone keeps in excellent spirits. We have had a large number of promotions and transfers from our company. There has been no case of sickness except from ordinary colds. To date there has been not a case of company punishment.

"Colorado should be most proud of her first group of draftees. Saturday we will have our final camp review for our commander, General Marshall. The entire division less our advanced party at Camp Barkley will pass in review—about 22,000 men, fully armed and equipped.

"On behalf of the company I wish to extend the best of regards to the Brush people."

The Albert Eikenbary, aged 22, referred to is a son of A. R. Eikenbary, of Brush, Colorado, and a grandson of A. R. Eikenbary, one time Cass county treasurer. He is a nephew of Mesdames James Pitman, T. W. Swan and E. B. Chapman of Union and a stepson of Mrs. Fanette P. Eikenbary. The Cass county relatives and friends are pleased over his recognition in the services of his country.

MANY OUTSTANDING DOLLAR DAY VALUES
If you have complained of how little a dollar will buy, you are due to change your viewpoint after reading the Dollar Day ads in this issue of the Journal. There are plenty of "big value" items found in the ads of participating merchants.

Turn your dollars loose this coming Saturday and see how much good merchandise they will buy. It's your golden opportunity!

CO-EDS SEE WORK AHEAD
AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—University of Texas co-eds say that college isn't husband-making for them. A survey made by their dean of women showed that 85 per cent of the June graduates planned to go to work, 10 per cent planned to marry, while 5 per cent went home.

UTAH INDUSTRY BOOMS
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UP)—Utah industry experienced its best year in a decade in 1940, a report by the state department of placement and unemployment insurance has revealed. Payrolls totaled $100,845,000, distributed among 7,000 employers.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

FEDERAL TRADE SCHOOLS AVAILABLE IN THIS AREA

A visitor in Plattsmouth this week was Howard I. Stites, city manager of Burbank, California, who is temporarily with the U. S. government, traveling about the country and visiting different localities in which an influx of population is contemplated as the result of location of defense projects like the bomber plant at Fort Crook.

His primary purpose is to sort of inventory the towns and here he was concerned over a multiplicity of city information, including tax levies, indebtedness, assessed valuation, housing facilities, sanitation, adequacy of schools, etc.

Mr. Stites advised a Journal representative that henceforth WPA aid will be extended almost exclusively to projects that tie in with the needs of the defense program and all other sorts of work will be curtailed. If population increases are about to make inadequate a town's school system, its water supply, or sewerage facilities, the government stands ready to lend a helping hand. Particularly is Federal aid being made available to towns that will undertake preliminary training of workers to fill skilled trade positions in the defense industries. Certain requirements of the community are set up, and beyond that the government is ready and willing to pay the bill.

Coming from a town in which the great Lockheed aircraft factory has grown rapidly the last few years, Mr. Stites is well versed in the need and fundamental requirements for airplane assembly workers. He says the men with fundamental ability are put to work, usually working six hours a day while being paid for eight, and spend an additional six in company schools learning to improve their knowledge and ability.

He predicted fully 75 per cent and up to 90 per cent of the men given jobs in the new Fort Crook plant, when it opens, will be men from a moderately small mid-western area, since, he declared, the country has been combed for capable men, and it will be those communities which set up rudimentary trade schools for the untrained youth of their community, with Federal aid, that will be able to place men in the new plant when it is ready to open.
