

Bishop Brinker Confirms Class at St. Luke's Church

Impressive Service and Rites Celebrated by Bishop Howard R. Brinker and Father Tyner

The St. Luke's Episcopal church, one of the oldest houses of worship in eastern Nebraska, was the scene Sunday of the impressive rite of confirmation when eight were received into the membership of the church.

The Rt. Rev. Howard R. Brinker, bishop of Nebraska, conducted the service and gave a very inspiring sermon at the close to the members of the class and the congregation.

Father St. George Tyner, rector of St. Luke's church made the presentation of the class to the bishop for his acceptance of them into the body of this ancient faith.

Those who were received into the church were: Mr. and Mrs. Vern Hendricks, Mrs. Guy Long, Billy Potter, Frederick Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Barryman and Ralph Gansemer.

The members of the congregation also had the pleasure of having at the service Canon W. J. H. Petter, former rector of St. Luke's who is here from his charge in Texas, for a visit.

FIRE AT WEHRBEIN FARM

The fire department was called to the John F. Wehrbein farm, west of Plattsmouth on the Cedar Creek road about noon Tuesday to put out a fire that had been caused by the igniting of tractor fuel that overflowed while a tank on one of the tractors was being filled and ran down onto the hot exhaust pipe.

Fred and Ralph had been plowing corn and when they came in for dinner, Fred began filling Ralph's tractor for the afternoon, gauging the amount by what his own usually consumed in a morning. The motor was not running. The amount he estimated it would take was too much, and the flames spread to the full tank, shooting high into the air, but not exploding the tank as first reported. The tractors were near the storage room in which 50 gallons of gas and nearly 100 gallons of tractor fuel were stored, creating a real hazard. Fred used his tractor to pull the burning tractor away from the buildings, thus relieving some of the danger.

A call to the Ofe oil station to bring out a couple of fire extinguishers sent the fire boys out and they soon had the blaze under control, with only nominal damage to the tractor.

THANKS FIRE DEPARTMENT

We wish to thank the Plattsmouth Volunteer Fire Department for their prompt response to call for assistance, and for extinguishing the fire at our farm Tuesday. Also friends and neighbors who came to our aid.

SUFFERS SEVERE INJURY

Glen Pankonin, employed at the Conoco service station at Sixth and Vine streets, suffered a severe scalp wound Sunday afternoon as the result of a fainting spell. He was at the station and sitting on the edge of a table in the office at the station when Bob McClanahan, station operator, was called out to service a truck, leaving the young man to look after any station business.

Shortly afterwards Warren Taylor, also employed at the station came to work and as he entered the office he discovered Pankonin lying on the floor and bleeding profusely from a scalp wound. Taylor and Tom Gradoville who had stopped at the station attempted to secure medical aid but without success and Ed Ofe, Red Cross first aid man was called to the scene and gave a temporary dressing and stopped the bleeding.

It was evident that the young man had a sudden fainting spell and fell from the table striking his head on the sharp edge of the table and on the hard floor.

Two years ago Mr. Pankonin had a severe injury while working in a well, a large bucket falling and striking him on the head, making his condition critical for some time. He has since that time suffered from these fainting spells.

SUFFERS SEVERE LOSS

Sunday morning when Mrs. Charles Koke went to her brooder house to feed and turn out her chicks she was shocked to find some fifty-two of the fine birds, weighing about 1 1/2 or 2 pounds each, had smothered during the night. Mrs. Koke had a large wash tub which she kept feed in. The chicks had jumped into the tub which had a small amount of feed in it and had kept piling up each layer smothering the bottom chicks until there was a tub full.

Mrs. Koke feels the loss very much as she had bought the extra fine chicks, fed them on commercial feed and had them almost ready for the market.

Mrs. Koke feels that this might serve as a warning to other poultry raisers not to leave empty or partly filled feed containers in their brooder house.
