By MRS. THOMAS MURTEY
Sunday, July 20, was reunion day for Nebraska Wesleyan University students and graduates living in Cass county. It was a day for reminiscing, for talking over present conditions and planning for the future of their beloved college. Harvey Thompkins was local man in charge of all arrangements. The reunion was held at the Weeping Water Methodist church.

Dr. Alfred Hunter, Wesleyan field secretary, spoke at the morning service using the subject, "The Place of Christian Education in Our Lives" and "What Nebraska Wesleyan has to Offer a Student Interested in Education."

Elmwood Folks Enjoy Music by Town's Musicians

V. G. Clements, Director; Charles Long, Assistant Director; Jean Bothwell, Majorette.

The sun might shine, the strawberries might be ripe, and the mosquitoes might swoop, but if Elmwood didn't have band concerts it wouldn't be anything like summer.

Long before players now tooting away remember, Elmwood was band conscious. Practically since the town was established, some band or another has been active in community life.

The band pictured in Sunday's Lincoln Journal was organized in 1925 and has given summer evening concerts since that time. V. G. Clements is director of the band, which has a membership largely from Elmwood, Murdock and Eagle, and Charles Long is the assistant.

Mr. Clements, who has marched in every Memorial day parade since 1913 with one exception (and illness laid him low that May occasion), is the mortician. Mr. Long is a farmer.

Other occupations represented of a Wednesday night and on rehearsal nights are medical students, superintendent of schools, veterinarian, city marshal, bank clerk, mail carriers, insurance salesman, ministers, and druggist. And, of course, there the usual young people who will grow up to be teachers and lawyers and band musicians.

The first director was the late Prof. Henry Knies, who had served with the German army in World war No. 1. His successors were Charles Long, Murdock; A. W. Hankins, Weeping Water; Prof. August Dietz, Lincoln; V. G. Clements, Elmwood; the late Peter Gradoville, Plattsmouth; and Mr. Clements.

Jean Adair Bothwell is the drum majorette and no small part of the general effectiveness of a concert, given each Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. If you are out motor-ing, the bandstand is just off Main street, and you are welcome.

The typical run of business men in a small town make up the personnel. The president and manager, Milo Frisbee, is a hardware merchant; Morris Penterman, secretary-treasurer, manages the lumber yard in his less musical moments.

Contrast the huge, cumbersome-looking biplane in the upper photograph with the sleek, streamlined monoplane in the lower picture. These photographs from the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, typify the spectacular progress made by the American aircraft industry in 23 years. The plane at the top is the 1918 Martin MB-2, America's first twin-engine bomber, while the ship at the bottom is the Martin B-26, latest U. S. medium bomber, described by the Army Air Corps as "faster than most of the pursuit planes now fighting in Europe."

This is the Martin B-26 Medium Bomber that will be assembled at Fort Crook!

Auburn Wins from Locals by a 3 to 2 Score

Phillips Homers in Error—Noble Leads Hitting—Error in the Ninth Coily.

By ROBERT COOK

An error in the ninth inning Sunday proved to be the downfall of the Plattsmouth Merchants as Auburn marched to victory behind the five hit twirling of Red Gerard. Joe Noble returned to the mound for Plattsmouth but failed to receive the proper support at the crucial moments. Joe led his team at bat with three hits in four trips.

Auburn scored early in the second. Helm tripled to right center and scored on Hoback's line single to left center.

From then on it was a nip-and-tuck battle until the fatal ninth. Auburn tallied first. Poggemeyer singled to center. Helm was safe on Noble's fumble, and Livingston singled to left center putting ducks on the pond. Gerard's grounder went through Phillips' legs into center field, and Poggemeyer and Helm came in.

Phillips did his best to remedy his bobbie but it wasn't enough. Noble doubled to left, and Phillips hit a home run over the left field bank. Gerard braced himself and retired Petet, Smith, and Ault in a row to end matters.

The fielding highlights were Helm's running, leaping catch of O'Donnell's long smash in the first and Hoback's running catch of Jack's poke in the fifth.

TOWN CHAIRMEN FOR THE DEFENSE ALUMINUM DRIVE

There is a place in each town to deposit aluminum and people are urged to donate only articles that will not need to be replaced.

Kocians Spend Entire Vacation in Nebraska

Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Kocian and Twins Enjoy Two Weeks with Friends and Relatives in Nebraska

When Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Kocian and children, Patricia and Cyril made arrangements for their 1941 vacation they decided to remain in their native state of Nebraska. The Kocians have several relatives in the state, and this gave them an opportunity to see and visit with them personally. Mr. Kocian, the local representative for the Metropolitan Insurance company, was granted a two-week leave.

The Kocians first motored to St. Libory, Nebraska, where Mrs. Kocian's relatives reside. St. Libory is her home town and in addition to relatives she also has a large group of friends who were glad to see her and her family.

From there they went to O'Connor, where they renewed acquaintances with Rev. Robert O'Neill, an old friend of the family. Rev. O'Neill was just ordained a priest last month and is serving as assistant pastor at the Catholic church at O'Connor.

Burwell was their third stop and here they were guests of more relatives.

From Burwell they journeyed to Spencer, where Mr. Kocian's parents and relatives reside. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kocian, and on their return trip to Plattsmouth they were accompanied by the former. Mr. Kocian spent the week-end here and today left for Brainard, Nebraska, where he will visit before going on to Spencer.

The local vacationers returned Saturday and Mr. Kocian was at his post Monday morning.

They report that that section of Nebraska has been visited by rains and the residents there seem assured of favorable crop production this year.
