

Weeping Water

By Journal Field Representative

Rev. W. D. Lenker and wife were over to Lincoln last Tuesday looking after business.

The living room of the Methodist parsonage, which was constructed years ago, has been replastered.

The road two miles north of Weeping Water, west from No. 50 highway, has been given its initial treatment of crushed rock, which will make an all-weather road from farm to market.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Sudduth of near Murray were visiting Sunday afternoon at the home of the parents of Mrs. Sudduth, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Askew, where all enjoyed a very pleasant visit.

Carroll Lehman, son of Mrs. Jack Lehman, who makes his home in Los Angeles, accompanied by the family arrived in Weeping Water and have been visiting with the mother for the past few days.

Jimmie Schumacher, who was at Fort Crook, and while riding in an auto was injured in a collision, has been in the hospital there since, is reported as getting along very nicely and feeling much improved.

Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Lenker of the Weeping Water Methodist church are departing late this week for the western part of the state and will visit with friends and relatives in Colorado also. They expect to be away for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Binger were in receipt of a telegram last Saturday which read as follows: "Mrs. Fernhaugh and little 7 1/2 pound baby girl doing nicely." No other word from Lima, Ohio, where the M. L. Fernhaugh family make their home has yet been received.

Charles Philpot, who with his family have been making their home at Glendale, Calif. and who returned to Weeping Water for a visit have concluded to again make their home here and Charles Philpot jr. will be engaged in business with his father, B. L. Philpot.

Mrs. Wm. Gussett who has been ill for many months and who underwent a major operation some months ago and has been compelled to remain in bed since, has of late been showing improvement and able to be up part of the time and able to get outdoors some. Her many friends are pleased to know of her improvement.

Home and Feeling Better

Joseph I. Corley who has been kept in a Lincoln hospital for some weeks has shown enough improvement that he was discharged from the institution and allowed to return home. Having been home for a few days he is now able to be down town and visit with his friends. Mr. Corley says he is mending fairly well and expects to be his old self soon. The family has been having their share of ill fortune as Mrs. Corley was kept at home for some time with a broken limb, but she is able to be about which is very pleasing to her and all the family and friends.

Have Heavy Wind.

While the farmers over the county were well pleased with the copious showers that came last Monday evening, for it sure was fine for the corn, and put off the hot wind scare, which comes this time of year, but the rain had a bad companion in the form of a heavy wind and hail, which played havoc with shocked small grain and doing damage to buildings on some farms.

Corn is looking good, but critical days are ahead, and there will be a big crop if the rains continue and the hot winds do not damage it.

At the farm of Eugene Colbert a mile and a half east of Wabash, large trees were broken down, out houses toppled over, cob houses, smoke houses and other houses were blown down, machine sheds were unroofed. The rain was accompanied by hail which beat crops into the ground where it came.

John Murphy had a field of flax beat into the ground and but a short ways from the home of Mrs. Colbert a threshing crew was at work when the storm came. To protect himself from the violence of the storm and especially the hail, Henry Thoms crawled under the threshing machine, still holding to the lines to keep the horses which he was using from running away when an excessively strong surge of wind came, overturning the machine which caused Mr. Thoms to get out and as he did so, looked up, and an unusually large hail stone struck him squarely on the chin, but his fellow workers said Henry "took it on the chin all right." Henry Crozier agent for the insurance company was out and adjusted the insurance on Tuesday morning.

While there will be some variance at the several cities because of difference of equipment and instructors available, the work and instruction will cover besides the sheet metal, machine shop and industrial sewing, the following: Welding, forging, laundry casting, woodworking and radio construction. Articles produced will be noncompetitive to commercially marketed articles.

This coming week, a special article on activities at the Bellevue resident project will be published.

LEAVES FOR DUTY

Mr. and Mrs. Pollock Parmele, son, Lieutenant Charles Calvin Parmele and daughter, Miss Polly Parmele, of Lincoln were here Sunday for a short visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Soennichsen. The party has just returned from San Antonio, Texas, where they attended the graduating exercises of the air corps at Randolph Field, at which Lieutenant Parmele was given his wings.

RETURNS FROM DUTY

Lieutenant Burton Rishel, who has been on training duty at Fort Leonard Wood, Rolla, Missouri, has returned from his tour of duty and is now looking after his work at Lincoln. He was here Monday to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Rishel, returning last evening to Lincoln. He has spent several weeks at the army post in special training and enjoyed very much the fine experience in the modern methods of warfare. He is still in reserve and may be called into active service at any time needed.

NEW OFFICER ON FORCE

Saturday evening Officer Theodore Svoboda retired as a member of the police force, having filled the position of merchants police for the past several weeks. In the place of Mr. Svoboda, Willis Eaton has been named as a member of the force and will be on the job for the present at least.

HERE FROM CHICAGO

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCulloch and Mrs. Mary Pickrel, of Chicago, are here for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Pickrel. Mrs. McCulloch is a sister of Mr. Pickrel and Mrs. Pickrel mother of David.

Enjoyed Five Days' Furlough

Ralph Binger and Marvel Specht, both of Weeping Water who are located at Camp Robertson, with four boys from Omaha were allowed a five days furlough and renting an auto they drove to Weeping Water and Omaha where they enjoyed visiting with their families and friends. The party returned to camp last Friday, starting in the morning and were able to get to camp late that night.

Youths to be Trained for Defense Positions

Resident Project at Bellevue to Give Instruction in Essential Trades for Work at Bomber

Special Bellevue News Service.

Press dispatches this week state the National Youth Administration is working toward a goal of teaching 1,900 Nebraskans sheet metal, machine shop and industrial sewing trades in defense work-experience projects.

When the objective is reached, the youths will be working in three shifts at Hastings, Lincoln, Omaha, Bellevue, Beatrice and Kearney. The projects, because of request from employers will give youths more specialized experience with one machine rather than a diversified experience on a number of machines. The students will be assigned to machines in proportion to national demand for certain workers.

The work-experience jobs will take about 160 hours a month. Of this 160 hours will be spent in production and 60 in instruction. The instructional work will be handled by the state vocational education department.

Students at the resident project here in Bellevue and the one at Kearney will be paid $30 a month, from which $20 will be deducted for maintenance. Youths at nonresident projects will receive $25 a month.

MEETING ATTRACTS MANY

From Tuesday's Daily—Last evening a fine group of the young men in the community were at the Recreation Center to hear discussed the plans for the vocational education expansion at South High school in Omaha, a move that would give an opportunity of having from twenty to thirty from this city to attend.

The classes would be for training in welding and other trade lines that might be needed in the defense work and for young men in the late thirties would be given an opportunity of learning these trades.

Attorney James F. Begley, of the vocational education committee of the Chamber of Commerce presided and explained the plan that has been proposed.

Food Stamp Plan in Bellevue at Early Date

Sarpy County Merchants Organize—Schwab Chairman and Cockerell, Sec'y-Treasurer

Special Bellevue News Service.

The merchants of Sarpy county have formed an organization so they can take advantage of the federal government's food stamp plan as outlined by the State Department of Agriculture.

The recent legislative session passed an enabling act that sets up a state revolving fund which relieves counties of the burden of putting up stamp money and waiting for long periods for reimbursement, so now many counties that have not used the food stamp plan are beginning to take advantage of it.

Mr. Schwab of Papillion was elected chairman and W. L. Cockerell of Bellevue was named as secretary-treasurer.

LARGELY ATTENDED PICNIC

Sixteen hundred people attended the Brandies store picnic held Wednesday at Plamore park on the north side of the Platte river. It was just about the biggest thing in picnics the Journal representative has ever seen with several hundred cars in the parking lot and a fleet of specially chartered buses that had been leased for the occasion.

The popularity of Plamore as a picnic grounds attracts people from great distances.

MANLEY SENDS ALUMINUM

John Crane of Manley has sent a nice consignment of aluminum collected there in connection with the National Defense drive to Plattsmouth Chairman Don Selver, by the Journal field man. This lot along with that collected here and in towns over the county generally will all be turned over to County Chairman Norris at the conclusion of the drive about August 1st.
