INDIANS BUILD DAM

Indian agents, according to workers of the Nebraska Writers' Project, WPA, always had trouble getting work out of their charges. Clever as the Indians were, they developed a monumental stupidity whenever given a job to do. According to the Gering Courier, February 7, 1902, a typical incident had just occurred at the Sioux Agency.

The Indian supply depot at Omaha received a requisition for quite a large supply of plows to be sent to this Indian Agency, whereupon a check of their records revealed that this was the second request for this implement within a short time. The superintendent ordered the situation investigated.

The inspector found that the first shipment of plows had been received and the Indians had used them to prepare their lands for irrigation as the agent had told them that "heap big crops" could be grown by watering their lands. Upon the request of the inspector to be shown the ditches and reservoir, they led him to a large dam built where the stream was narrow and built so high the surrounding country was flooded.

The back part of the dam consisted of the entire shipment of new plows, which had been placed there to add more strength to the structure.

SUNOWA CAMP FIRE

The Sunowa Camp Fire met at the library Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by our president, Helen Yardley. The minutes were read and approved. We then had roll call.

We reviewed our past activities and accomplishments and discussed plans for the future. The meeting was adjourned.

Friday evening at the library Mr. Shumaker, from the state recreation committee showed his lantern slides of birds, flowers and beautiful scenery, accompanying them with a very interesting and instructive informal talk.

As the Sunowa Camp Fire had sponsored this unusual lecture, we were very disappointed that so small a group were present to enjoy Mr. Shumaker. The evening was unusually hot but we soon forgot the weather in following Mr. Shumaker through Fontenelle Forest and up and down the Missouri river in his search for unusual birds in their nests. His pictures of the Nebraska spring flowers were just lovely. Nor will we soon forget his pictures of cute fuzzy baby birds or those tiny new squirrels.

We wish to thank Mr. Shoemaker for giving us such a very entertaining evening. We are sure our nature honors will be easier and that we will want to earn more of them.

ELIZABETH PERRY, Scribe.

OMAHA PARTIES WEDDED

Thursday afternoon at the court house John Wiederkehr and Naomi Dooley, both of Omaha were married by Judge A. H. Duxbury in his usual impressive manner. The marriage was witnessed by Jack Campbell and Deloris Dooley, also of Omaha.

A GIRL AND A GUN

In a male world much has been said of the ways of a man with a maid and too little about the ways of a maid with a man. Workers of the Nebraska Writers' Project, WPA, unearth the story of a girl who had her own defense measures.

A young man near Niobrara, in 1903, according to the story, was courting his girl with some regularity. One evening after they had talked several hours he declared his intention of kissing her. Apparently indignant, the girl said she would tell her father if he did.

The young man remembered that faint heart ne'er won fair lady. He kissed her. Jumping up, the young woman walked into another part of the house.

"Father," she said, "Mr. N. wants to see your new gun."

"All right, all right," said the old man, delighted with a chance to show his new shotgun.

Taking it from the rack, he stepped into the parlor.

According to the story, the young man broke four window panes in getting out. He was last seen running up the road toward town.

ATTENDS BANK DEDICATION

Tuesday afternoon H. A. Schneider, president of the Plattsmouth State bank of this city, with Carl D. Ganz, of Alvo, president of the Nebraska State Bankers' association, were at Falls City to attend the dedication of the new building of the First National bank.

The First National has just completed a very fine and thoroughly modern banking house at Falls City that was formally dedicated last night and brought to that city many of the leading bankers in the central part of the west.

The visitors were entertained at dinner at the Hotel Weaver, a very delightful repast being arranged in honor of the notable occasion.

E. H. Towle, a member of one of the pioneer families of Richardson county, is the president of the banking house and received the many friends in the banking business who formed the banquet party together with many of the leaders in Falls City.

ROTARY MEETS OLD FRIEND

The Rotary club Tuesday had an informal but very pleasing program, as well as the opportunity of visiting an old friend. Arthur Troop was the program chairman and the speaker who had been expected to furnish the chief feature of the luncheon was unable to fulfill the date.

R. Foster Patterson, of Tarkio college, former Plattsmouth man, was a guest at the luncheon and was presented for a few remarks by the chairman. Mr. Patterson is always a clever and entertaining speaker, his contribution to the program being very much enjoyed by all of the group.

Entertained on Birthday

Sunday, July 27th marked the birthday of Herman J. Rauth and Miss Anna V. Rauth entertained her parents at her home in Omaha in honor of the father's natal day. A delicious dinner was served and a splendid visit enjoyed.

Too Many Accidents at Corner

Despite the fact that a clear view from all directions is to be had by motorists approaching the intersection of State highways 1 and 50, a mite case of Manley, the number of accidents at that point have been far too numerous. Just what should be done to help the situation is a problem, but it would seem that well rounded approaches to permit getting from one road to the other might help some. Many of the main traveled roads offer this method of approach at important intersections. To do so would require the acquisition of some farm land. And then, of course that would not prevent intersection collisions between cars going at right angles. Designating the most traveled road as the main or through highway and placing of stop signs on the cross route would help some—if the stop signs are observed, as they should be.

The first evening program was sponsored by the Reading club, which included local and guest entertainers. The second evening's program was presented by the Mothers'-Daughters' Council club. One outstanding feature of that program was a musical skit presented by the Cass County Woman's Chorus. A pretty pageant was presented at the close of the program that was of a patriotic nature. All the numbers of both programs were well given and much enjoyed by a very large crowd.

Rev. and Mrs. Hammel had the privilege of enjoying a two weeks' vacation. The first week they visited friends in the western part of the state and the second week they drove to Minnesota, where they enjoyed cabin life for a few days. They found the weather extremely hot for Minnesota, so had no relief from the severe heat wave that Nebraska people have been forced to endure the past two weeks.

Nevertheless, it was a change and a rest from the regular routine of things here. They returned home Wednesday feeling better for having had a change.
