Richard Hatt is Married in Seattle, Wash.

Former Plattsmouth Boy Wed to Elizabeth Mitchell on Saturday, August 16

Many of the friends who had toasted the bride's parents in the same home twenty-two years ago felicitated Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dean Hatt, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Mitchell, Saturday evening, August 16 in the home of the bride's great-aunt and great-uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Broderick, Seattle, Washington.

It was in this home, scene of many other happy affairs, the reception was held after the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Broderick Mitchell to Mr. Richard Dean Hatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Hatt of Plattsmouth, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening in the Church of the Epiphany. Here, too, a bit of sentiment was attached to the setting, because it was in this church the bride took her confirmation vows.

The Rev. Elmer B. Christie read the service in the presence of 200 guests. The aisle was in white, with candelabra at the pews tied with white gladioli and asters. White urns of white and peardly gladioli were placed in the chancel, with candelabra on either side. The altar, too, was all white, with a few greens.

Before Rev. Christie read the double-ring ceremony Miss Mary Needham, organist, played "Ave Maria," "Moonlight Sonata," "Largo" and "At Dawning."

Bride in Satin and Lace Miss Mitchell, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white slipper satin and Alencon lace. Made on princess lines, it had a sweetheart neckline and an inset panel from bodice to hemline. The skirt flowed softly into a voluminous train and the sleeves were fitted to the wristline. Her illusion veil caught to a fitted cap banded with Chantilly lace was the one worn by her mother.

She carried a white satin prayer book, covered with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis. The attendants, Miss Barbara Saxe, maid of honor, and the Misses Margaret Hokanson and Betty Ray Titus, were gowned alike in classic models of white Jersey, with quilted jersey jackets, and they wore folded white jersey turbans. They carried loose arm bouquets of white gladioli tied with satin ribbon. The bride's sister, Miss Joan Mitchell, as junior bridesmaid, was in a starched chiffon and Valenciennes lace frock and wore a eolot of the same material. She carried a Colonial bouquet of Swainsona and Cecil Brunner roses.

Brother Best Man Mr. John Newman Hatt was his brother's best man and ushers were the Messrs. Larry Pease, William Rouzie, George Gross and Robert Shearer. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Mitchell was gowned in champagne chiffon with soft rose-colored turban and corsage of Cecil Brunner roses. Mrs. Broderick wore a hyacinth-blue faille gown, matching turban, double fox scarf and spray of baby orchids. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John V. Hatt of this city, were unable to attend.

Reception at Broderick Home The reception was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Broderick. As Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Broderick received guests in the ballroom, Mrs. Mitchell wore a gown of champagne chiffon with a turban of soft roses. Her flowers were Cecil Brunner roses. Mrs. Broderick had hyacinth blue faille with gold turban and a double fox scarf and wore a spray of baby orchids.

The bride's table was covered with an imported lace cloth and centered with three white modanna flower holders filled with white roses, centurias and Humboldt bouvardia. White candles with a pale green vine design in them were placed in silver holders on either side and at one end was the bride's tiered cake with a pale pink decoration and at the other, the silver coffee service. Mrs. J. R. Ryan and Mrs. R. A. Hyatt poured and Miss Betty Inberg and Miss Shirley Jean Smith were asked to assist. Mrs. E. L. Campbell cut the bride's cake and Mrs. Linn Foster was in charge of the guest book.

When the couple left for a trip to British Columbia, the bride was wearing a black crepe frock with velvet trim, black accessories, and a feather halo hat. Her coat was of blue for her corsage of orchids. Mrs. Hatt studied at the University of Washington and her husband in Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davenport and Miss Mary Jean Hatt of Plattsmouth, arrived in Seattle in time to attend the brother's wedding. Mrs. Davenport and her husband are living in Washington, while Miss Mary Jean is expected home shortly.

FEATURE ATTRACTS ATTENTION

From Thursday's Daily— The first of the pre-King Korn Carnival features was staged last evening on Main street and attracted a great deal of attention from the large crowd as the "animals" dispersed themselves along the street. The antics of the "Bull" added the Pan-American touch to the scene while the ostrich disported to the pleasure of the crowd. The elephant also added dignity to the occasion—this being a carry-over from the late election—you've heard of that. The committee expects to arrange other acts for the Wednesdays between now and the formal opening of the carnival.

ADDS TO APPEARANCE

With the long list of improvements made to the buildings on Main street from Third to Fourth streets, is the new sign erected at the Harris Band Box Cleaners and Launderers. This is one that attracts much attention and stands out in its red coloring from all sections of the business part of the city.

Chadron Study Tour Made of the Northwest

Cass County Girl Member of Party That Enjoyed Geographic Study of Much Country.

We left Chadron, Nebraska on Thursday, July 17, 1941 with 43 members under the direction of Dr. J. Calvin McKim, head of the Department of Geography at Chadron State Teachers' College.

The transportation for the tour is composed of a bus, kitchen truck and a station wagon. The kitchen truck also carries luggage, tents, cots, and other equipment.

The first camp was made at Rapid City, South Dakota.

As we go along we make land-use checks, farmstead checks, take pictures, observe the soils and observe the rock formations.

The second camp was at Havre, Montana and the third was at Glendive, Montana.

On the third day we visited the Fort Peck dam which is the largest earth filled dam in the world.

The fourth night the camp was at Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

On the fifth day we drove to Banff, Alberta where we camped that night.

The next day we drove to Columbia Ice Fields and also visited Lake Louise, Canada.

We left Banff and drove to Glacier National Park where we camped for three nights. On the second day we climbed the Grinnell Glacier. It is seven miles up and seven miles back so we were rather a tired group when we got back. We saw icebergs floating on the lake. We walked across the glacier and looked into the deep crevasses on each side.

From Glacier Park we drove to Alberton, Montana and camped there. From there we went to Spokane, Washington and on the next day we drove to Grand Coulee dam. We were taken on a tour of the dam and power house by Major Hutton, the chief engineer of the dam. This was a thrilling experience as we walked under the dam through the tunnels.

After leaving Coulee dam we drove to Seattle, Wash. While there we took a boat trip to Victoria, B. C. On the ship, I met Miss Leonard and Miss Fricke who were also going to Victoria. We made a bus tour of Victoria which we all enjoyed very much.

While at Seattle we also saw the Japanese ship Hela Maru which was being held in port.

We then drove to Olympia where we visited the capitol building and were later received by Governor Langlie.

Our next stop was at Astoria, Oregon. We were taken on a boat trip here. We went out to where the men were fishing for salmon. One of the men presented our group with a fine 30-lb. Chinook salmon which we had for dinner the next evening.

While still in Astoria we visited a tuna fish factory, the Astor Column, and the oyster factory. At two o'clock the ex-governor of Oregon took us on a tour of the historical parts of the city.

On Sunday we made a tour of the Italian Swiss Colony Winery. BEATRICE BEVERAGE.

Legal Assistance Offered Men in Service of U. S.

J. Howard Davis Named as Referral Agent for Cass County to Assist Service Men.

Persons who serve in the military, naval or marine forces, and the dependents of such persons, are to be furnished legal representation and assistance by the lawyers of Nebraska under a plan and organization now being inaugurated by the Nebraska State Bar Association.

One lawyer in each county has been appointed to serve as "county referral agent" to refer requests for legal service to those lawyers who have volunteered to represent the service men and their dependents. Attorney J. Howard Davis of Plattsmouth, Nebraska has been appointed referral agent for Cass county. Local requests for legal assistance, and for information concerning the service, should be made to him.

Statewide lists of referral agents are expected to be furnished to army, naval and marine camps and stations so that Nebraska men in service at such places will know to whom requests for legal assistance should be directed.

Nebraska lawyers are expected to follow a ruling of the American Bar Association which provides that no charge be made for legal services having to do entirely with the processes of enlistment or induction, or in civil matters wherein the service men or their dependents are unable to pay for representation, and that service be not denied for that reason. In other civil matters reasonable fees may be charged.

COLORED DRUM CORPS COMING

One of the features of the forthcoming King Korn Carnival will be that of the colored Elks drum and bugle corps of Omaha, one of the liveliest and most peppery groups in the middle west. The group was one of the big hits of last year's carnival and they have very kindly agreed to come back for this year. Their wild melodies, high stepping and strutting makes them a great attraction in any entertainment or parade.

The colored group will be here on Friday evening, September 19th to take part in the Pan-American program.

SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

The many friends of T. B. Farmer, veteran railroader, will be glad to learn that he is showing improvement at the Clarkson hospital at Omaha. Mr. Farmer has been in very serious condition but is now seemingly showing improvement and it is hoped that he may soon be well on the highway to recovery.
