Miss Helen Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Nelson of Palmyra, and Hilbert Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Anderson of Waverly, were united in marriage at a service performed at 8 o'clock Saturday evening at the Methodist church of Eagle. In the presence of one hundred guests, Rev. R. E. Hammer, pastor of the Covenant church of Waverly officiated before a background of two sets of seven branch candelabra with lighted tapers, tall baskets of orchid pompons and chrysanthemums and fernery. The tapers were lighted by Misses Maurice and Kathleen Johnson of Ceresco. The wedding music was played by Miss Ordell Swanson of Ceresco. Miss Donna Belle Jenkins sang "Because" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told," being accompanied by Mrs. Elmer Jenkins.

Mrs. Myrl Miller, of Elmwood, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a frock of blue taffeta with a lace yoke trimmed with tiny buttons, a shirred bodice, short puffed sleeves and a full, corded trimmed skirt. Mrs. Catherine Hobscheidt was hostess to the Murray Study club on Thursday, October 16. Most of the members and two guests were present to participate in the lovely covered dish luncheon at noon.

At 1:30 the president called the meeting to order.

Mrs. Griffen led in pledging allegiance to our flag. The song of the month, "Old Folks at Home" was led by Mrs. Wohlforth. The members answered roll call by telling of some good safety device. Mrs. John Young gave a very splendid report on the county convention at Louisville. The theme of the convention was America Calls. Mrs. Young told of the various interesting addresses heard throughout the day, most of which centered around national defense. Many things were suggested by which club women may do their part in this service. Mrs. Caley, state president, told in her talk how necessary it is for us to be good mothers, and set good examples, and to work with those who are now working for the American way of life. Rev. Rice, of Lincoln, in his talk, gave some very good advice. His subject was "Religion in the Home." He said that too many of us are so busy making a living we are too busy to make a home for our boys and girls.

Mrs. Young also told of the beautiful musical numbers given at the convention.

After the report, a very profitable study hour was presided over by Mrs. Spangler, the topic of the afternoon being "Home Safety." All present entered into a general discussion of the subject. In addition to the quiz on safety in the home, interesting talks were given on How to Stop Accidents, How to Stop Farm Accidents, Competent Automobile Driving, The Safe Walker, An Appeal to Motorists and Liquor and Safety. The material for these talks were sent the club by Mr. Pearson, of KFNF, who is very interested in safety.

"WATCH US GROW"

This is the hold-type admonition in the Morrison Sanitary Food Market ad this week. And if first samples are any indication "Red" is headed for real expansion. A new face made its appearance in the store Monday morning. Vertus Kvenvold, experienced meat cutter, who has had packing house and retail sales experience, and who will be in charge of the meat counter. A day later there arrived an Ellrich 12-foot electrically refrigerated meat display case and a new 8 1/2-foot vegetable rack.

"Red" says that's about enough improvement for one week, but they plan to start in next week revamping the store and turning it into a self-serve market. A check counter will be located near the front door, where purchases will be totaled and adding machine strip given the buyer.

SELLING MUCH WORK CLOTHING

"We've been selling a lot of work clothing as a result of our ad on the Bomber page," said W. L. Cockrell last week. "Our stock was bought before the rise in prices and we are selling it accordingly—that's why so many are buying their overalls and work gloves here."

Mr. Cockrell's Bellevue Grocery has carried an ad in every issue of "The Bomber" since its inauguration on July 24th.

CROCHETED CAPS MAKE FASHIONS NEWS

And there is no news more welcome to those who like hats only when they're comfortable, easy to wear, and adaptable to the pulling and snatching off that's necessary with our ready-to-go-spirit: A "Costume-Made" look is costly to buy—but now you can make a hat to match every dress and be sure it's the latest word.

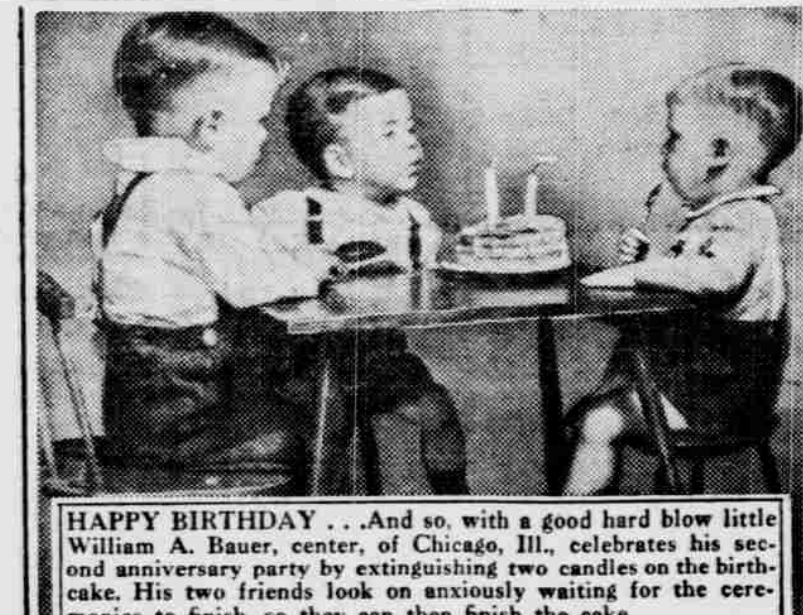

MOVIE STARS WITH THEIR CANINE PETS

HAPPY BIRTHDAY . . . And so, with a good hard blow little William A. Bauer, center, of Chicago, Ill., celebrates his second anniversary party by extinguishing two candles on the birthday cake. His two friends look on anxiously waiting for the ceremonies to finish, so they can then finish the cake.

BOMBER TO CARRY PONS VOICE TO ENGLAND

An American-built bomber which will be ferried to England shortly, will carry, in addition to its regular equipment, the voice of Lily Pons, Metropolitan Opera soprano, in an album of records from "The Daughter of the Regiment," which Miss Pons recently made for Columbia. The diminutive star is shown here presenting the album to Captain Erwin Watts of the American Field Service, who will place them aboard the bomber to be delivered to the American Eagle Club in London.

DARING COWBOY IS FOILED BY A LADY—How about a ride, Cheryl Darline? You have to learn to sit in a saddle early if you are going to be like your Daddy, Roy Rogers. Cheryl thinks the plaster deer is a pretty cold seat, however, though the horns do well for a bride.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS ARE POPULAR CENTERPIECES FOR FOOTBALL PARTIES—Gay yellow chrysanthemums decorated with tiny football charms make a charming centerpiece for a thoughtful guest to wire ahead to his luncheon hostess on the day of the big game; arrangements of fragrant roses, bright-hued gladioli and dahlias are popular choices for football party festivities, suggested by the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association. A substantial hot dish and an abundance of steaming hot decaffeinated coffee are good team mates for luncheons before the big game. With a decaffeinated coffee brew, you can urge every one to enjoy extra cups without creating sleeping problems later. And, since time is sure to be at a premium, a "help yourself" service is good social strategy.

STEPS TO BEAUTY

(Left) June Preisser, who was formerly starred in the Ziegfeld Follies, has originated a new dance step called the "Hollywood Hop" and it combines the grace of an aerobic dance and the speed of a tap dance. (Right) Take it from Lorraine Day, cute little star, the way to keep that beautiful figure is to exercise daily. Walking down the stairs, balancing a book on the head is an old standby that makes for good posture.

MOVIE MAKING THRILLS ARMY PARACHUTISTS

(Above) With parachutes adjusted, a final inspection by the Officer in charge takes place. Equipment must be perfect as there are no rebates on jumps. (Right) Another thing that the students at the school must be adept at is learning how to take falls when they land with their parachutes. Tumbling exercises such as shown in this photograph are very helpful to the would-be parachute jumper.
