Elmwood

By Journal Field Representative

Mrs. Louis Langhorst was reported critically ill at her home the last few days.

A son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Abbott last Tuesday. Mother and babe are doing very well.

Darlene Hollenbeck spent the week end with home folks and had as her guest over Sunday Miss Eileen Youngberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Buff Harmon of Weeping Water were visiting in Elmwood last Tuesday, coming to see Dr. O. E. Liston about a gathering in Mrs. Harmon's car.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Greene of Elmwood and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Keckler of Weeping Water drove to Lincoln for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Lamb.

Edgar Hansen, who is located at Camp Robinson, is enjoying a visit in Elmwood. He is a cousin of Mrs. Morris Penterman and was a dinner guest at the Penterman home last Friday.

Merle Lind, son of Rev. and Mrs. Lind left last week for Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. He enlisted in the U. S. Naval Reserve and has been assigned to a medical unit at Philadelphia.

Donald Kelly, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Thessie Kelly, for a fortnight, left Sunday for the west to resume his duties as a member of Uncle Sam's army stationed at Camp Ord, California.

Donald Gonzales left Monday for Washington, to resume his work in the nation's capital city after two weeks spent here. Mrs. Gonzales is remaining for a longer visit, as she desires to attend a 1934 class function after which she will return to Washington.

Otto Flaischman has completed the picking of his corn, having the work done by George Bornemeier, which expedited the work greatly. The yield was very good. Now Mr. Bornemeier is picking his own field.

town near the railroad tracks he heard a train coming and attempted to stop his truck on the downhill slope leading to the tracks, but was unsuccessful and the truck reached the crossing at just about the same time the train did. As a result one wheel was stripped from the truck. The driver was not hurt, however. A good many congregated to view the wrecked truck before a wrecker arrived from Lincoln to tow it in for repairs.

Hunted in Cedar County

Kenneth West, who is employed in an airplane factory at St. Louis, arrived home late Saturday night and, with his father, C. W. West, spent the balance of the night driving to Cedar county. Arriving about sunrise, which was just the right time for hunting pheasants, they soon bagged the limit. They returned home later in the day.

Got Pheasants Here at Home

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Penterman and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Penterman were driving in the country last Sunday and it happened that Morris had his shotgun in the car. As they drove along their attention was attracted by some pheasants in a nearby field. So they stopped and Morris slipped up within range, when one started to fly and was promptly brought down by Morris' unerring aim. Another took to the air and was likewise killed. So, without having to go out of his home county, Morris was able to get two fine male birds, which is strictly legitimate since Cass county is open territory this year.

Have Quite a Family Now

Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Pifer, who live on the Elmwood mail route on the John Elliott farm, have had the size of their family increased quite rapidly, due to the birth of three boys, each weighing about five pounds, at the hospital in Lincoln. The children and mothers are doing nicely. They had a little girl, 18 months old, and now the family instead of numbers three contains six.

Death of Ben Swanson

Ben Swanson, who has made his home in western Cass county for the past twenty-five years, residing with his daughter and son-in-law since the death of Mrs. Swanson four years ago, died last Friday. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Waverly, conducted by Rev. Mogensen and interment was in the Waverly cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rosenow came up from St. Louis, where Mr. Rosenow is employed in an airplane plant, drove up to attend the funeral.

Reunion of Class

Members of the class of 1934 of Elmwood high school held a get-together reunion last Thursday, with a very good attendance. Mrs. Donald Gonzales, who had been here with her husband, remained to attend the reunion, while he left Monday to resume his work in the east, being engaged in the newspaper business in Washington, D. C. A program and general good time was had, with reports from the members as to what they have been doing since graduation.

Delegates Home from Grand Lodge

Minton V. Wood and Miss Grace Wood, delegates to the I. O. O. F. grand lodge and Rebekah assembly, arrived home last week and speak very highly of the treatment accorded them in the convention city—

Grand Island. The Odd Fellows had about 250 delegates present at their meeting and the Rebekahs 500.

A fine report was given on the condition of the home at York, of which Frank E. Wood, former Weeping Water man is superintendent and Mrs. Wood stewardess. Expenditures were listed in detail, leaving nothing to "miscellaneous." The organization is seemingly very well pleased with the manner in which the home is being conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Wood.

Hand Badly Mangled

While Verle Kuehn was working with his corn picker, he got his left hand in the power throw-off, resulting in the severe mangling of two of his fingers. The injury was cared for by the local physician and unless complications arise, is expected to heal satisfactorily, although it will be a good long time before he is able to use the hand.

Will Move Soon to East

Doan Stark and Robert Acton, who recently secured employment at Wayne, Michigan, are arranging to move their families there in the near future.

AVOCA

By Journal Field Representative
Fred Marquardt attended the football game in Lincoln last Saturday, between Indiana and Nebraska. Fritz Maney and Paul Gifford of the vicinity of Otoe were looking after business matters in Avoca on Monday. Dr. Ones Brendel and wife and Clyde Harvey and wife left the fore part of last week for their home at Zionville, Indiana, after visiting here for nearly a week. Troy Davis of Weeping Water was looking after business matters here this past week, securing material for the improvement of the buildings on one of his farms. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kreifel of Nebraska City were guests last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jourgensen. Mr. Kreifel is a brother of Mr. Jourgensen. A representative of the Union Pacific railroad of Omaha was here consulting with Fred Marquardt relative to shipping grain to the west coast over that railroad. The first shipment of pipe to be used in laying the natural gas line across this portion of the county arrived in Avoca last week and will be followed by many more. Elmer Hallstrom, Clyde Boggaard and Mrs. A. Z. Thomas were visitors in Plattsmouth Tuesday looking after business regarding the settlement of the estate of the late W. H. Boggaard. Several Avoca young ladies are finding employment with the Steckley Seed Corn company, sorting the corn for defective kernels and getting it ready for planting when the time comes next spring. Martin Ross is making quite extensive repairs to his country home east of Avoca, including a new shingle roof, and was in town after material the fore part of the week. Henry Franzen is doing the work. A group of the women members of Congregational church turned out en masse one day last week and set about the task of cleaning and renovating the church building. As a result, the building is now spic and span. Carl O. Zaiser enjoyed his hunting trip in northern Nebraska very much, but paid the penalty for it the following day and for several thereafter, as he was confined to his bed part of last week with an attack of pleurisy. Oscar Zimmerman and Clarence Meyer spent last week end at Scottsbluff, where they found the pheasants plentiful but able to conceal themselves very well in the heavy fellaie that grows in that irrigated country. They were able to get their limit, and enjoyed the hunting very much. A meeting of the Anniversary club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wolfe last Wednesday evening. The club members meet once a month, honoring members whose birthdays occur during that month. Mrs. Wolfe was the one who had a birthday during this month and was thus singled out to receive the month's honors. W. E. Huff, representative of an insurance company, was in Avoca the fore part of last week arranging for some building material to be used in the erection of a house on one of the farms recently acquired by the company through foreclosure proceedings. The old house was so badly dilapidated it had to be torn down and a new one will be built to replace it.

Married at North Branch
Last Wednesday at the North Branch church Miss Ruth Wessell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wessell became the bride of Ralph Stubendick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stubendick. A reception and dance was given for the newlyweds at the Syracuse pavilion in the evening.

Dinner and Program Thursday
The Men's Club of Avoca, a live-wire organization that has been responsible for numerous community get-togethers in years past, has arranged for another of these fine affairs on Thursday evening of this week, October 30. A splendid dinner will be served, followed by a program.

Hunted in Northern Nebraska
Dr. J. W. Brendel of Avoca, with Dr. Ones Brendel, Pete Brendel and Clyde Harvey, who were here from Zionville, Indiana, for a visit, with Carl O. Zaiser drove to northern Nebraska for the opening of the pheasant hunting season and found the birds quite plentiful. They soon had their limit. Returning home, all went to Murray Sunday to enjoy a fine pheasant supper at the home of Mrs. Margaret Brendel.
