Packing House Workers Heirs to $3,500,000

Oklahoma Court Awards Them Share of the Estate of an Uncle and $3,500,000 Each

KANSAS CITY, Kans., Oct. 25 (UP)—The canned food and soap department at the Swift Packing company operated normally today with the presence of Willie and Floyd Mayweather, Negro brothers and heirs apparent to some $3,500,000 each.

They learned last night that an Oklahoma judge had awarded them half of their late uncle's estate—a 160-acre Indian grant tract near Drumright, Okla., the 18 producing wells and the $500,000 gasoline refinery of the Sinclair company that are on it—but they reported to work today.

"But now we're worried sick about seeing a lot of other folks who came into big money losing all of it," said Willie. "We're going to invest it all—half in government defense bonds and half in annuities that'll pay us a little something every month."

"And there isn't any use of selling folks coming around trying to get some of it," Floyd added. "We're going to tell all those people: 'See our lawyer.'"

The big, toothy smiles that wreathed their faces amply hid any worry or concern they felt. They protested, feebly, however, that the money wasn't in their pockets yet.

Principal concern of Floyd's was his estranged wife. She filed first divorce papers in August and Sept. 18 won temporary maintenance from a district court here.

"She was awarded $3 week until further order of the court," said Floyd, "and, boy, oh boy, there ain't no telling what those further orders going to be if I get this money."

Both are high school graduates. Already their wardrobe includes pin stripe suits, tab collared shirts, silk ties—but with the inheritance there aren't going to be any fancy cars, mansions, checked suits, champagne parties.

"I'm going to put on my coveralls and keep right on reporting for work in the canned food and soap department," Willie said.

"And I'm going to be right there with him," added Floyd.

Willie, who was 33 yesterday, has been at Swift's since 1936; Floyd, who is 27, since 1939. Neither has missed a day at work except for brief leaves or absence granted so they could testify in the proceedings at Sapulpa, Okla.

WOULD ABANDON STATIONS

In the past year the railroads in Nebraska have conducted a general retrenchment program and eliminating the non-revenue producing lines where possible as well as curtailing the number of stations that have to be maintained. The use of the automobile and trucks in the smaller places have particularly made the railroad revenue nil.

The Missouri Pacific railroad is asking the state railway commission for permit to dismantle their station buildings at Mynard near this city and Walton, east of Lincoln. The Rock Island is requesting the permit to close their station at South Bend because of the lack of patronage. The closing of the stations will permit the elimination of the custodians as long since the station agents have been eliminated.

EMERGENCY SHELF

No trouble to whisk together and many's the time they save the day!

Baked Salmon Roll with Mushroom Sauce is put together from emergency shelf supplies.

A FRIEND of mine keeps menus for a quick luncheon or supper and several simple dinners pasted on the inside of her kitchen cabinet door. These meals can be put together from the canned soups, canned meats and fish, prepared biscuits and cake mixes and canned fruits on her shelf.

She says her little plan has, on occasion, saved her no end of trouble—and it does seem to make sense.

And there's really almost no limit to the dishes that can be whisked together from canned and packaged foods. This baked salmon roll with mushroom sauce is a good example. The biscuit, made from biscuit mix, is light and delicate. Canned salmon is used for filling, and condensed cream of mushroom soup is the base for the delicious sauce.

Baked Salmon Roll with Mushroom Sauce
 2 cups prepared biscuit mix
 1/2 cup milk
 1 can (16 oz.) salmon
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Pinch of pepper

Stir milk into biscuit mix until a smooth but not sticky dough is formed. Turn out on floured board fold over 2 to 3 times. Roll out dough in a piece about 9x12 inches. Combine flaked salmon, lemon juice and seasonings. Spread this over the biscuit dough and roll loosely, lengthwise. If rolled too tightly the roll will split open on the top when baking. Place in a long pan or on a baking sheet and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375° F., about 30-40 minutes. Glazed baked onions are good with this.

Serves 6
Mushroom Sauce
 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Stir the milk into the cream of mushroom soup. Heat, add grated lemon rind and continue heating 3-4 minutes. Serve over the Baked Salmon Roll.

Corned Beef Hash with Spicy Tomato Sauce

1 can (12 oz.) corned beef, chopped
 1/2 pounds potatoes
 3/4 cup onions, finely chopped
 4 tablespoons butter or shortening
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Select potatoes about the same size and cook with the skins on in boiling, salted water 25-35 minutes or until tender. When cool, peel and cut or chop the potatoes in small dice (about 3/16 inch square). Chop the corned beef or put it through the food chopper using the medium blade. Cook the chopped onions with the butter or shortening until soft, but not browned; then mix the potatoes, chopped corned beef, onions, salt and pepper together. Shape into individual oblong portions and brown on both sides in a hot, greased pan.

Serves 7

Spicy Tomato Sauce

1 can condensed tomato soup
 2 tablespoons sugar
 2 tablespoons vinegar
 2 cloves
 1 stick cinnamon (about 2 inches long)

Mix together and simmer for about 8 minutes to blend the flavor. Strain out cloves and stick cinnamon. Serve hot with the Fan-browned Corned Beef Hash.

The funeral service of George Lloyd, long time resident of Cass county, at the Otterbein church near Nehawka, Wednesday drew a large group of the old time friends. Mr. Lloyd had long lived in that community and the old friends came to join the family in the last tributes to his memory.

Dr. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Plattsmouth, conducted the services at the church and at the grave in the Nehawka cemetery.

Mrs. Hal Garnett and Frank A. Cloidt gave three of the old hymns, "The City Four Square," "It Is Well With My Soul" and "Under His Wing." Mrs. O. C. Hudson served as the accompanist for the numbers.

FIX UP PROPERTY

The property of the First Presbyterian church of this city is being fixed up in excellent shape for the winter season and in which men of the church congregation are active.

The woodwork of the church building is being repainted to add very much to the appearance of this fine brick structure.

One of the improvements at the manse is the construction of a new garage which the farmer members of the church as well as trustees are busy erecting. State Corn Husking Contest Next Tuesday

Will Be Held Near Franklin Where Corn Is Reported at 90 Bushels to the Acre.

By United Press

Albert Krueger, Madison; Elhart Moeller, Hooper; Emil Swanson, Winside, and Harvey Mahloch, DeWitt, were important names today to Nebraska's defending cornhusking champion, James Podliska, Meadow Grove.

As Podliska prepared to defend his state title in the 16th annual Nebraska contest on the Chas. Kahrs farm south of Franklin, the four county champions were considered his leading competitors.

Podliska, who automatically qualifies for this year's state meet, set the new state record of 41.34 bushels in the 80 minute competition last fall.

The state meet will be held Tuesday with 36 county winners seeking to wrest the title from Podliska. Incomplete returns today showed most of the competing counties already have named their contestants.

Krueger has the best county record with 36.2 bushels in the Madison county contest. Moeller picked 35.65 bushels in the Dodge county meet. Swanson finished with 35.47 in Wayne county and Mahloch husked 34.08 in Gage county.

From Washington county will come Otto Sorensen of Herman, who won the state title in 1939. It will be the 11th state contest for the Washington county veteran. His brother, Henry, was the state titlist in 1929 and 1932.

Agricultural experts who have visited the 55-acre tract where the Huskers will compete say the yield will reach 90 bushels an acre. The Huskers will compete in the best field or irrigated corn on the Kahrs farm.
