

Hazuka-Zitka Wedding Saturday in Omaha

Pretty Church Ceremony Unites Popular Young People—Will Reside in Omaha.

Miss Dorothy Ann Hazuka, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hazuka of Omaha, was wed to Ernest Charles Zitka, son of Mrs. Anna Zitka of Plattsmouth, at a ceremony performed October 25 at 9 a. m. at the Assumption Catholic church in Omaha. Rev. John Kraljick officiated in the presence of a large group of guests. Mrs. Charles Lankas sang "Ave Marie." The church choir also sang during the nuptial mass. Miss Mary Kubat was at the organ.

Attending the couple were Sylvia Zaloudek, maid-of-honor; Miss Margaret Hazuka, sister of the bride, and Miss Dorothy Zitka, sister of the groom, bridesmaids; George Pleskac, groomsmen.

The bride wore a velar dress, which featured a long train. Her long sleeves came to a point at the side of the wrist, and her neckline was V-shaped. A three-quarter length veil was held snugly by the Juliet cap she wore. Around her neck she wore a gold cross and chain. She carried a shower-bouquet of white gardenias interspersed with lilies-of-the-valley. She was given in marriage by her father.

Misses Zaloudek, Hazuka and Zitka were dressed identically in Heavenly Blue dresses with velvet bodices and full, taffeta skirts. Each carried a bouquet of rust chrysanthemums. Each wore a gold locket, given to them as a gift of the bride.

The altar at the Assumption church looked resplendent with yellow and white chrysanthemums and tall lighted candles making a beautiful background.

Those who went to Omaha to attend the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wisel and family, Mrs. Anna Zitka, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. James Sedlak and daughter, Josephine, Mr. and Mrs. James Zitka, from St. Paul, Minnesota were Mr. and Mrs. James Jelinek, uncle and aunt of the bride.

Following the ceremony at the church a wedding dinner was served to close friends and relatives at the Leo Hazuka home at 5822 South Twenty-first street. Centering the bridal table was a three-tier wedding cake. Fall flowers were used for decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Zitka came to Plattsmouth Saturday afternoon for a very brief visit with friends and associates of Ernest's. At 4:25 p. m.

Burlycue Picket

Chorines and specialty dance, otherwise "strip-teasers," had a field day at Samuel Goldwyn Studio when they set up a picket line at the entrance because they had not been called to work in Goldwyn's forthcoming "Ball of Fire," with Gary Cooper and Barbara Stanwyck. It has a burlesque background. Their placards demanded that Goldwyn use real burlesque talent instead of the customary extras.

they boarded a train and left for California, where they will spend their honeymoon for the next two weeks. They are to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Jaske, the latter an aunt of the groom.

The bride was graduated from South high school in Omaha, and had been employed by the Wilson Packing Co. in Omaha. The groom is the youngest son of Mrs. Anna Zitka, and is well known by many in Plattsmouth. A graduate of the Plattsmouth high school in 1935, Ernest has worked as clerk at the Black & White for about ten years.

Upon their return from the west coast Mr. and Mrs. Zitka will live in Omaha.

RECEIVES RECOGNITION

Clarence C. Cotner, veteran bus operator, has received a very nice and well deserved token of appreciation of his excellent work as a driver. The Fidelity & Casualty Co. of New York has presented Mr. Cotner with a handsome gold pin and a bronze plate as a reward for a five-year record as a careful driver and for having a no-accident record. The record of Mr. Cotner is really for a much longer period of years but the company makes its awards on the five-year period. Duxbury & Davis are the local representatives of the company.

HERE FROM LINCOLN

Students of the University of Nebraska here for the week-end with their families and friends were Miss Jean Knorr and her guest, Miss Ida Mae Whisnand of Hastings, Misses Janet and Ruth Westover, James Mauzy, Jr.

Misses Ruth and Janet Westover were accompanied home by a friend, Miss Mary Lee Stans, of Anthony, Kansas, a student at the U. of N. All three of the girls are members of the Alpha Phi sorority.

Mrs. Luella Leesley Dies in Missouri

Former Plattsmouth Lady Passes Away Sunday—Services and Burial to Be Held Here

From Monday's Daily—Mrs. Luella Leesley, 82, widow of J. E. Leesley, died at a Kansas City hospital Sunday. Mrs. Leesley was the victim of a fall, sustained a week ago last evening. At her advanced age and possessing a weak heart, the aged lady was unable to withstand the effects.

Mrs. Leesley was the former Luella Shannon, daughter of the late Joseph and Anna Shannon. Born in Paulding, Ohio on August 19, 1859, she was one of a family of three children. On May 30, 1883 she married Mr. Leesley in Plattsmouth. They lived in Plattsmouth a long time, and Mr. Leesley died on January 12, 1911. Since his death she had made her home with children.

Survivors are two children, Earl Leesley of Plattsmouth, Mrs. W. B. Porter, Kansas City, Missouri; five grandsons and three granddaughters. One daughter, Irene Peters, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Leesley's body will arrive in Plattsmouth on the 12:45 p. m. train Tuesday and will be taken to the Sattler funeral home. Last rites are to be conducted at the home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Plattsmouth.

VISIT NEAR ASHLAND

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Long and daughter, Nancy of Pacific Junction came over from their farm home and accompanied Mrs. Hattie Kirker, Mrs. Nellie Shea and Miss Ila Kirker, motored to Ashland. They spent the day at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kirker.

Food Helps Lawns Live Over Winter

Lawn grasses are so hardy that no damage is done to them by low temperatures alone. But extensive winter damage may result from poor drainage, and from the heaving action of alternate freezing and thawing.

Water expands when frozen and contracts when it thaws, as is well known to most gardeners. Since soil is usually moist in the winter, expansion and shrinkage occur whenever freezing and thawing take place. Freezing lifts the soil, and thawing lets it drop, at the same time making it soft and wet. The action is most violent near the surface, since winter thawing is seldom deep, so that shallow rooted plants are often heaved entirely out of the ground by repeated thaws.

Grass which has developed a deep, sturdy root system, will resist heaving successfully. Poorly nourished grass will have shallow roots and may suffer serious injury. A relatively poor lawn may be put into condition by proper attention this fall, though it would be much better if it were cared for throughout the season, and fed to produce a heavy growth which will kill out weeds, and resist the heat of mid-summer.

The most important fact in producing a sturdy, deep rooted turf is adequate plant food. Grass makes heavy demands upon the soil and will quickly exhaust its food supply if it is not constantly renewed. An adequate feeding program calls for four pounds of a complete plant food at the rate of four pounds per 100 square feet in the early fall after the heat of summer has passed. When watering the lawn soak it thoroughly, as sprinkling encourages the development of shallow roots, which suffer from heaving. Do not cut the grass shorter than two inches or let it grow longer than three inches.

When making new lawns start with the preparation of the soil. Spade to a depth of at least six inches and pulverize thoroughly. Apply a complete plant food evenly at the rate of four pounds per 100 square feet and work into the soil with a rake. Wait one day before seeding.

Sow good grass seed at the rate of four to five pounds per 1,000 square feet. If you sow by hand, sow half lengthwise and half crosswise. Roll to imbed seed and insure perfect contact between seed and soil. A tamper or wide board can be used on small areas when roller is not available. This step is essential and should not be omitted.

Water thoroughly, using a very fine spray. Continue to water daily until seed germination is complete—three to four weeks—then water as needed but always water thoroughly. Light sprinkling encourages shallow roots.

CARS HAVE SMASHUP

Sheriff Joe Mrasek was called out to the vicinity of Weeping Water Sunday to look into an auto wreck on highway No. 50, three and a half miles north of Weeping Water. A car driven by D. M. Garrison, of Weeping Water and one driven by Robert Anson, of Wabash, side-swiped as the two cars were passing on a narrow bridge. Both cars were damaged to a great extent but none of the occupants suffered serious injury.

WORD OF APPRECIATION

It is with deepest gratitude that we extend to our dear friends and neighbors for all the assistance they afforded us at the time of the sickness and death of our loved one. Especially do we wish to thank those who contributed flowers, participated in the funeral service itself and those who in any way assisted in making our burden lighter.—The Children of George Lloyd.

SOLDIERS VISIT AT HOME

Three Plattsmouth young men in training at Fort Riley, Kansas, were here over the week-end to visit with the relatives and friends on a short leave.

The trio comprised Virgil Urish, Arnold Buechler and Charles George Kafenberg. The boys are looking fine and make real snappy members of the military forces of the United States.

GEORGE I. LLOYD

Very unexpectedly the death messenger came and removed another pioneer citizen from the community. George I. Lloyd was born in Peoria, Ill., March 1, 1860 and departed this life Oct. 19, 1941 at the age of 81 years, 7 months and 19 days.

When a boy of seven, he came here with his parents, William and Eunice Lloyd to the community known as Three Groves, in the vicinity where Murray now stands. Here they started to break the soil for the new state of Nebraska and saw many developments in that time. In the year of 1892 he was united in marriage to Mary Etta Cotner and to this union five children were born. The wife preceded him in death 13 years ago and one daughter died in infancy.

The living children are: Mrs. Frank Marler (Esther) Mrs. Frank Dill, (Arnes) Mrs. Roy Cole (Fern) and Anderson Lloyd of Colorado. There are nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren; nephews and nieces and a host of friends.

He was a pioneer of Cass county and farmed in this community for 60 years where his family was raised. He had been in failing health for the past five years.

Since the death of his wife 13 years ago his home has been with his children until a few months ago when his condition needed special care and was taken to the Austin rest home where he passed away.

He is the last of a family of six children. He has been a member of the Otterbein church since it was built and also a member of the Masonic lodge for many years.

MARRIED AT UNION

Sunday at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Sawyer at Union, occurred the marriage of James Alfred Roberts and Delores Pauline Eastian, both of Omaha. Witnessing the ceremony was Mrs. Sawyer and Miss Dorothy Clarence of Union.

INSTALL NEW SIGN

The "Forty-Niner" liquor store on North 5th street has joined the ranks of the business houses of the community to install new electric signs. The sign is a large and attractive one and helps make that section of the city much more attractive to the eye in the evening.
