

Discuss Scrap Iron and Machinery Situation

Number Attend Meeting at Weeping Water to Discuss Conservation of Material for Defense.

The following members of the Cass county USDA defense board met in Weeping Water Friday, November 14th to discuss the farm machinery repair and scrap iron situation in Cass county: Evan H. Armstrong, chairman; Willard Waldo, secretary; Leonard Hanks, H. A. Millen, Carl Ganz, Charles Ward, and Charles Jochim. The following implement dealers also attended the meeting: Vincent Adams and C. J. Nestelush, International Harvester Co., of Omaha; Geo. Stites of Union; John B. Elliott of Aivo; Granville Heebner of Nehawka, and John J. Lutz of Weeping Water.

It was pointed out that steel, used extensively in the production of agricultural machinery, also enters into the production of all defense material. Steel mills are working at about 100 per cent capacity, but demands for steel for defense purposes have made it necessary for the Office of Production Management to curtail the consumption of steel in every civilian field. Every ton of steel going into civilian use makes it necessary to produce fewer guns, tanks or ships.

Agriculture must carry its share of the load by cutting its steel consumption in 1941-42. New farm machinery will be produced in smaller volume. There will also be less fence wire, steel fence posts, nails and other iron and steel materials available for farm use. Substitutes must be used whenever possible.

Machines that would be discarded in normal times must be used in 1942 and must be maintained at maximum operating efficiency if we are to reach our production goals. In the spring of next year defense production will probably overload the railroads, truck lines, express companies and the parcel post system. Farmers must expect serious delays, disappointments and losses if they delay repair and reconditioning of their machinery and take chance on having machines break down during the busy seasons of planting, cultivating or harvesting.

Repair your farm machinery and equipment now. The government is taking steps to provide as much steel and other metal as may be needed for all necessary repairs for farm machinery in 1942. To be sure of a supply of necessary repair parts, manufacturers need to know how much will be required.

The only way to be sure of repair parts is to order them immediately. Failure to make repairs now may mean a crop loss later. We suggest you do these things at once: Check over your old machinery. Order necessary parts from your dealer. If parts cannot be obtained notify your county U.S.D.A. defense board.

The farm machinery repair effort is necessary to meet the steel shortage situation. At the same time every bit of scrap iron and steel on the farms of this county is needed for national defense.

The scrap iron campaign is being operated through your local implement dealer as they are in a position to sort this material and prepare it so that it can be used without further sorting when it reaches the steel mills. The prices of scrap iron have been set by the Office of Price Administration and for this county our best available information is that scrap should bring about thirty-one cents minimum price per hundred-weight.

The government does not want farmers to sell machinery that may be useful for repairs. We suggest that if you are keeping old machinery for spare parts, you strip these parts and store them, and sell the rest of the metal for scrap.

If you have questions on this campaign, get in touch with any member of the county USDA board or with the Farm Bureau office.

Louisville Lions Guests of Rotary Club

Intercity Meeting at Hotel Plattsmouth Brings Together Group of Community Leaders

Tuesday evening at the Hotel Plattsmouth the local Rotary club were hosts to the Louisville Lions club, service organization of our neighboring city, this being one of the intercity meetings sponsored each year by the Rotary.

There was a fine representation of the members of both groups at the dinner party and to enjoy the program that followed. Throughout the evening the spirit of good fellowship, so characteristic of these two organizations was enjoyed until the home-going hour for the visitors.

The introduction and the presentation of the guests was made by L. S. Devoe, local superintendent of schools and Rotary president. Arthur Troop was the program chairman and presided.

The officers of the Louisville Lions comprised Andy Lunteigen, Jr., president; Richard Livingston, secretary; P. L. Wright, treasurer; G. M. Corum, lion tamer; A. K. Frolich, tail twister.

The group singing was a very pleasant feature of the evening. Frank A. Cloldt acting as the leader while Roy S. Olson, new member of the school faculty, served as the accompanist. The old and familiar songs furnished means of the musical get-together. Joe Zastera led the Lions' songs.

The address of welcome to the Lions was extended by Richard Spangler, vice-president of the Rotary club and responded to by Andy Lunteigen, of the Louisville visitors.

The men were treated to a very fine surprise in the visit of the mixed double octette of the Plattsmouth high school, giving two numbers, "Salvation" and "Oh Susanna." David Fowler directing the young people. The members of the group were attired in their red robes that made a very colorful picture while their well trained voices gave fine expression to the numbers. The double octette comprised: Juanita Sigler, Gertrude Cloldt, Dorothea Duxbury, Wilma Nolte, Maxine Graves, Rachel McMaken, Margaret Reo, Billie Jean Sylvester, Chris Zimmerman, Russell Nielsen, Conley Galloway, Laverne Rice, Robert Cole, Kenneth White, George Jacobs.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. Paul Iverson, who has just recently returned from South America where he had been a teacher for the Presbyterian board of foreign missions at the Colegio Americano at Bogota and Barranquilla, Colombia. Rev. Iverson had as his subject that of "Subversive Activities in South America." From his observations the speaker told of the intensive campaign that is being made in all of the Latin American countries by the axis powers against the influence of the United States and the democracies of the world. The diplomatic moves and the activities of the foreign agents are found in all countries as competition for the commercial supremacy in the southern Americas is very keen. Germany with its bid for South American products in exchange for manufactured goods of the Nazis has made a great advance up to the present time. The United States has in their "good neighbor policy" made gains in the former strong axis influences, but there are thousands of the Nazi workers scattered in all countries.

'Gene' Mayfield Honored on His 81st Birthday

One of the Nestors of Nebraska Journalism Reaches Ripe Age—One Time Located Here.

Eugene O. Mayfield, who was printer, reporter, editor and publisher in the early days of Nebraska journalism, celebrated his eighty-first birthday recently by recalling some of the gaudier experiences of his newspaper life. His biggest story, he said, was the Eddie Cudaby kidnapping by Pat Crowe, which he covered from beginning to end for the Omaha World-Herald. Mr. Mayfield also broke up the McCarty counterfeiting gang at Bellevue, Neb. He also aided in solving several murders. When Mr. Mayfield was 15 he was "bound out" to learn the printing trade at Louisville, Neb. The first year he received $50, the next year his pay was raised to $4 a week.

In 1883 he established the Louisville Observer, at times published a number of other weekly newspapers in Nebraska. In 1890 he went to work for the late Gilbert M. Hitchcock, World-Herald founder, and, despite frequent absence from the newspaper, he spent 38 years in its service. In 1917 he became a member of the state board of control, but three years later returned to the World-Herald as Sunday editor and feature writer. Later he became superintendent of the World-Herald editorial reference room and library, a position from which he retired in 1931.

He is the author of "The Backbone of Nebraska," published in 1916, and recently completed the manuscript for another book, "Gentling of the West."—Publishers Auxiliary.

Mr. Mayfield was editor and publisher of the News-Herald here back in 1908-09.

W. H. Pitzer Retires as Head of B & L Ass'n

Prominent Attorney and Financier Quits Post with Nebraska City Company.

William H. Pitzer, who for more than forty years has been identified with the building and loan business in the state of Nebraska, requested Tuesday that he be permitted leave from the board of directors of the Federal Savings and Loan Association of Nebraska City, and retire as president and manager of the institution.

Mr. Pitzer was the guiding hand in the affairs of the Nebraska City Building & Loan association for many years and under his influence and business ability the institution has grown and expanded until it became a part of the Federal Savings & Loan association of Nebraska City, which has expanded into a million and a half dollar institution.

The retirement of the veteran head of the institution came after the Topeka Federal Home Loan bank requested that, because of the size of the institution, a full time manager be employed to devote his entire energies to the building and loan work.

Mr. Pitzer in making the announcement of his desire to retire to the board of directors of the company, explained that it would be impossible for him to divorce himself from his law practice, and other interests that include insurance, real estate, abstracting at this time. In the past year the entire burden of the law business and the building and loan business has devolved on Mr. Pitzer when his son, Marshall Pitzer, who has been his assistant, was called into the military service.

The board of directors regretfully accepted the resignation and named John C. Miller, vice-president of the association as acting manager, with Joy Hinrichs as the assistant manager.

Mr. Pitzer is well known to many friends here through personal acquaintance and business connections, who will regret to see him leave the post he has so ably filled. It was here many years ago that Mr. Pitzer first made his start in the legal profession and all through the years at Nebraska City he has been closely associated with the local people.

Woman's Club Alert to Nation's Defense Needs

Moves to Aid in the National Defense Work in This Crisis—Discuss Many Phases.

From Tuesday's Daily.—The Plattsmouth Woman's club at their regular meeting last evening at Hotel Plattsmouth proved that their organization is always ready to meet emergencies. Very shortly after the national defense committees were set up, the General Federation of Women's clubs named corresponding committees; Nebraska was honored by having Mrs. C. W. Hevner of Franklin, named as chairman of agriculture. The Plattsmouth Woman's club have named chairmen to correspond exactly with the national defense committee chairmen. Each of the following ladies told what her department was doing for defense in last evening's program:

Mrs. Lowell S. Devoe, club president, is chairman of organization, and she gave a message from Mrs. John Whitehurst, president of the GFWC about the need for women to get behind the defense program. Mrs. H. L. Gayer, chairman of agriculture, stressed the need of farm products, especially meat, dried eggs and milk to help England. Mrs. George Brinklow, chairman of conservation of defense products, said we should save paper of any kind and boxes as there will be a market for these soon; even old razor blades and tin cans can be converted into defense products. Trash is cash these days. Mrs. Frank Horskamp, chairman of consumer products, urged women to budget carefully and save because food costs are mounting while salaries remain stationary. Mrs. E. C. Giles, chairman of housing, reported favorably on Plattsmouth's recent house canvass. Mrs. E. H. Bernhardt, chairman of industry, said that because of shortage of manpower women did much work in our own Norfolk Packing plant the past year and proved very apt. Mrs. Fred Lugsch, chairman of nursing, stressed the need of Red Cross workers of all kinds. Red Cross teaches first aid to one billion people every year and also give home nursing and advance nurses training. Mrs. Milo Price, chairman of stamps and bonds, explained the denomination of stamps and bonds and told how and where they may be purchased. Mrs. William Heinrich, chairman of registration, announced that registration of our club women will take place soon after Christmas.

Mrs. Frank Gobelman, chairman of patriotic education, urged that every individual promote Americanism in every way possible.

Mrs. Roy Magill, president of the Holdrege Woman's club and field worker for Camp Fire, was a guest of the Woman's club. She gave a short talk on the Camp Fire program, explaining that our youth is our first line of defense.
