WABASH

By Journal Field Representative

John Wood was overhauling the truck of his brother, Minon V. Wood, who operated the service station at Elmwood, and is so much occupied that he cannot do it himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schluter and daughter, Mrs. Wm. Von Spreckel, and the husband were over to Elmwood Tuesday evening to enjoy the concert given by the Blackford brothers quartet.

While H. H. Gerberling was assisting Clarence Gerhardt with his butchering, a good fat hog nipped the thumb of Uncle Henry, inflicting a severe gash, but the wound has done very well and is about healed.

The five people which constitute the KMA Blackford brothers quartet, four singers and the music maker, were guests last Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schewepe for a very fine supper before going to the show.

Miss Gwendolyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Gerberling of Elmwood, who was so sick is much better. Grandmother Gerberling was over to Elmwood and nursed her granddaughter back to health. She was able to visit in Wabash one day last week.

Being neighbors and especially among farmers is a very fine thing as was demonstrated last week when J. H. Hohman, and two sons combined forces after having cleaned out their own corn fields, went to Wabash and gathered the corn of Frank Marshall, and before the coming of the real winter.

Runaways Still Do Happen

The brakman of the Missouri Pacific passenger train, as the train pulled into Wabash, spied some very fine looking chickens away over in the yard of H. H. Gerberling and when he met Henry said, "I would like to purchase four chickens." This agreed to Uncle Henry, but when he consulted his worthy spouse she said, only three.

The three were boxed and the crate taken to the store in the trailer wagon. As Henry was waiting for the mail a paper blew wrong and came hopping past the team. The horses reared back and broke the hitch rain and away they went up the street, not stopping until they had reached the school yard and so Uncle Henry had to walk up and drive them back.

Looks Better For Walton

Dame Rumor has it that Walton, Mynard and Wabash stations were to be closed, but such a report seems to be without foundation, for a few days since a new coal house loaded on a box car, passed through Wabash bound for Walton, which was built in one of the Missouri shops to be used at Walton.

"O'Possum Meat Am Good To Eat"

Of course this is a quotation, but generally taken to be true when the animal is properly cooked and served. True, too much of it is not so good. Eldon West, while scouting about was able to capture a good fat one and negotiated a trade with Frank Marshall, who in turn presented to Leslie Bosworth, Leslie cooked the little animal, ate some and was sick all night and the next day. So the remainder of the mess went to the dump. Leslie was not feeling very well for a time, but was reported better the following day.

Last Of Sisters Passes

It will be remembered that the two Misses Flanders operated a farm northwest of Elmwood and three miles directly west of Wabash, they having lost considerable on the defunct Elmwood State bank and concluded that they would not trust banking institution again placed a big strong box in their attic, and if anyone got the cash deposited therein they would have to do so over their dead bodies. Well, the accumulated reserve amounted to $900 in gold coin and much in certificates and other cash items when Fannie sickened and died. Now comes the news of the passing of Gertrude and

Recalls Tavern Operator

Speaking with John Wood, he recalled when Mike Cavey was a citizen of Wabash and operated a tavern just across the street from the garage where he kept an amusement parlor. This was away back in the old century. Many of the old timers will remember Mike Cavey and when he was here. Just now Mike Cavey and George Hay, who was one time a clerk in a hardware store just west of the hotel, as well as bookkeeper and afterwards registrar of deeds at Plattsmouth, both now a memory, or even E. E. Day, now of Weeping Water who moved a store from South Bend to Wabash and conducted it before moving to Weeping Water, were to pass by Wabash they would fail to recognize the hamlet of Wabash as the former busy town of yore.

Mr. Wood was speaking about the time a newspaper was printed in a building which stood just west of the hotel building and was edited and managed by Martin Van Beuren "Good, father of the Wood boys and their sister, John Wood learned the art of setting type by the old method. He set type here and also worked at Elmwood on the Echo when the same was conducted by Henry De-catur Barr (H. D. Barr). Time and even the then bustling town of Wabash have taken a transposition.

MURRAY RED CROSS

The ladies of the Murray Christian church who took up Red Cross work last August, met at the church on Wednesday, Dec. 3, to pack the articles that had been finished, including 10 layettes, 3 pair of rompers, 5 sleepers, 10 girl's dresses from age 4 to 10 years, 2 snow suits, 10 shirts, age 2, two women's sweaters, 3 children's mittens, 5 pairs of pants, cap and mittens, five pairs of children's stockings, six pair of mittens.

There are four in the group who knit. Mrs. Margaret Brendel knitted one woman's sweater, Mrs. Seybold, one child's sweater, Mrs. Lloyd Scott, two children's suits, Mrs. George Park, three caps, 4 pair mittens and one woman's sweater. The ladies are grateful to Mrs. Farris and Mrs. Scotten for knitting the stockings.

The ladies will take up more work after Christmas.

Mrs. Knecht, Cass county chairman of the Red Cross, came in from South Bend in the afternoon to get the things the ladies had ready. She was well pleased with what had been done. Mrs. George Park is the group chairman.

After the Red Cross work was finished the Ladies Aid held a business meeting and heard the yearly report from the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Rose Smith. The organization took in $125 from the Thanksgiving dinner and $19.45 at the bazaar. Mrs. Fred Drucker was elected president and Mrs. Gruber vice-president. Rose Smith was continued as secretary.

SEWING CENTER ROOM FOR THE RED CROSS

From Friday's Daily—Mrs. Elmer Sundstrom, Plattsmouth production chairman for the American Red Cross, announced this week that the Plattsmouth Building and Loan association has kindly consented the use of their building for sewing purposes. But just when the room will be available is not yet determined. The building was known for many years as the sewing center of Plattsmouth.

HERE FROM PHILADELPHIA

Mrs. Fred H. Sharpnack and son, Jerry, of Philadelphia, Pa., arrived last evening from their home to visit with the parents of Mrs. Sharpnack, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ptak. They will remain here while Mrs. Ptak is suffering from the effects of her broken hip. It is expected that Mrs. Ptak will have the injured hip placed in a cast today.

"THANK YOU"

I wish to express my deepest "thanks" to those who made personal calls, sent me flowers, gifts, beautiful cards, and letters to make every moment happy, during my stay at the hospital. Thanking all once again. Your kindness will long be remembered.—Mrs. Glen Terry-berry.

Applications For 1941 Corn Loans Accepted

Farmers of County Can Now File Applications—Rate for Cass County 73c and 71c.

Orar E. Domingo, member of the Cass County Agricultural Conservation Committee has announced that applications are now being accepted for 1941 corn loans. Mr. Domingo states that corn loans for 1941 have been built in such a manner as to give all possible assistance to national defense.

The loan rate for Cass county has been set at seventy-three cents for white or yellow corn and seventy-one cents for mixed. A loan may be secured any time between December 1, 1941 and September 26, 1942. Loans on shelled corn will be available after June 1, 1942.

Commodity Loan regulations define an eligible producer as follows: (1) the acreage planted to corn on his farm is not in excess of the corn acreage allotment for the farm; (2) the sum of the acreages classified under the ACP as wheat and corn for his farm is not in excess of the sum of the allotments or permitted acreages for such crops under the 1941 Agricultural Conservation Program;

(3) Such person's aggregate share of the 1941 acreages classified under the ACP as wheat and corn on all farms in the county does not exceed his aggregate share of the allotments or permitted acreages for such crops under the 1941 Agricultural Conservation program on such farms. Storage structures for the sealed corn should be of such substantial and permanent construction as to afford safe storage of corn and afford protection against rodents, other animals, thieves and weather as determined by the county committee and approved by the state committee.

Inasmuch as the corn raised in 1941 has an abnormal amount of moisture, the producer should keep in mind the fact that corn with moisture in excess of 20.5 per cent will not be accepted. Corn with moisture between 15.5 and 20.5 per cent will be subject to a proportionate deduction in order to protect the producer from loss.

Corn loans for 1941 will be made for three years as was the case in 1940. However, there are two material differences between 1940 and 1941 loans. Any producer may deliver his corn to the order of Commodity Credit Corporation during August, September or October or any one of the three years upon thirty day prior written notice to the county committee.

In event the producer elects to keep his corn until the end of the second liquidation year, he will receive four cents additional storage. If the producer should repurchase his corn before he has earned the full four cents, he will receive a proportionate amount for the time the corn was in storage after January 1, 1942. The producer will not be required to purchase an insurance policy to cover the collateral under loan. A scaling fee of one cent per bushel will be charged as in previous years.

Mr. Domingo recommends that each producer be satisfied as to the condition of his corn and storage structure before making application for a loan.
