Much White Corn

Almost a quarter of a million bushels of white corn in Cass county is under loan at the present time states Oscar E. Domingo, county committeeman. Much of this corn may be redeemed at a substantial profit at the present market value. Producers whose loans mature Aug. 1, 1942, may desire to take advantage of the present favorable market price rather than face the prospect of congested transportation and storage facilities during the wheat marketing season.

Seventy-five thousand bushels of 1938 and 1939 re-sealed corn may be repurchased for 61 cents a bushel, leaving a profit of from 18 to 29 cents. Sixty-five thousand bushels of 1940 corn may be redeemed for approximately 63 cents per bushel, leaving a margin of from 16 to 18 cents profit above the loan.
