GRADE SCHOOL OPERETTA

The grade school will present an operetta, "The Magic Feather of Mother Goose" by Juanita Austin and Henry Sawyer. The operetta will be presented April 24 at 8 p. m. The story centers around Artie, who is having a birthday party, but who isn't happy as his mother made him invite all the little tots. Mother Goose pays a surprise visit from the moon. She is so annoyed by the way the elder children doubt her identity that she changes them into Mother Goose characters to the delight of the little tots. These wonderful "transformations" are accomplished by waving her magic feather over their heads, one at a time.

However, the jaunty old lady almost comes to grief while changing them "back to normal." While Artie and Irene are still in their nursery-book characters, or "Moony," as Mother Goose calls it, she proves she's only a silly old goose after all by changing herself into an "earth person." No longer being Moony, she cannot make Artie and Irene into real children, as the feather simply will not work magic for an "earth person." Fortunately she is able to work matters out before she leaves, and everybody is happy. Leads are taken by Ann Phelps and Robert Chandler.

ALL for ONE

Farmer, lineman, business man, professional man . . . all working together in America's all-out program for Victory!

Our farmers are doing a big job! Wheat, corn, potatoes, beans and other nourishing foods—in greater abundance than ever before—are vital to America's victory program.

Because of war needs, metals and other materials are not available now for service extensions unless absolutely necessary for defense or public health and safety. But our Company is gladly continuing assistance to farmers now receiving dependable, low-cost electric service. Their electric brooders, grinders, yard lighting and many other helpers will be on the job—twenty-four hours if needed—to help them help America over the Victory top!
