

LeRoy Upton Dies At Nebraska City Hospital

Native of Liberty Precinct Where He Has Lived His Lifetime; Many Years in Business

From Thursday's Daily— Last evening Le Roy Upton, 66, a lifelong resident of the Union community died at a Nebraska City hospital after an illness that has been of some duration. Mr. Upton had been around however until the last three days when he was taken to the hospital for treatment.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Upton, pioneer residents of southern Cass county and was born on a farm near Union on July 3, 1875. Growing up in his home community Mr. Upton later engaged in teaching for two years in the schools of the county. In 1897 he engaged in the general mercantile business at Union and continued in that line for six years. In 1903 Mr. Upton sold his general store and started in the hardware business that he conducted very successfully for a long period of years and had one of the largest and best hardware stores in Cass county.

Mr. Upton was married March 15, 1907 to Miss Nina Lynde, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Lynde, who with one son and three daughters survive the passing of Mr. Upton. The children are Vera E., Sarah J. and Martha E., all of whom are married and the son, Le Roy Upton, Jr., now in the military service in Alaska.

Mr. Upton filled many positions in the village government at Union and was a very active figure in the democratic party of Cass county for a great many years.

UNION EXTENSION CLUB

The Union Extension club met at the home of Mrs. Charles Land on April 21. Twelve members assisted as hostesses. The meeting was opened by the flag salute. Mrs. George Lutz, secretary, read roll call and the minutes. A handkerchief shower was given to Mrs. A. W. Carr, the president, who moved to Avoca. An invitation was extended to attend group achievement day at Nehawka May 7. Eighteen members and four visitors were present.

The June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Attebery with Mrs. Phil Rihn assistant. Mrs. Frans, the project leader talked on home made cheese. Delicious refreshments were served.

Like New Home

Mrs. Albert Godwin has returned home from Nehawka where she was visiting for a short time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cassidy and family, former neighbors of the Godwins here. Mr. Cassidy, who is a checker on the natural gas lines in this section, found that in the setup of his work that locating at Nehawka would be more convenient and accordingly the change was made. They are now settled in the new home and like it and the pleasant community very much.

Norfolk Packing Plant to Clean up Present Stocks

Start Today on Pork and Beans; Will Clean Up Stock of Cans; Government to Hold Goods

From Thursday's Daily— The Norfolk Packing company of this city today was able to resume activity in cleaning up their supplies of materials and cans that are on hand in the plant.

Mr. Bernhardt was at Washington recently and took up the matter with the government officials of being allowed to operate the plant in cleaning up the canning stocks now on hand and the supply of cans available, and the permission was received the first of the week to start work until material is used up.

The pack is of pork and beans that will be packed and stored for use at the request of the government, none going to the regular trade.

It is hoped that perhaps the conditions may be such that more of the packing work can be available.

The pack that is being handled will probably amount to from 20 to 25 carloads and will keep the plant operating from two to three weeks.

Death of Mrs. Jeanette P. Smith

Mrs. Jeanette P. Smith, age 58, passed away at her home on North Washington street, Thursday at 1:00 p. m., following two weeks' illness of acute heart trouble.

Mrs. Smith was born in Indianapolis, Ind., the daughter of Frank and Eleanor Dovey Palmer, on August 22, 1883. Her parents then moved to Lincoln, Neb., where she was educated in the schools of that city, and later attended the University of Nebraska. In 1912 she was united in marriage to Joseph Smith in Denver, Colo. The family moved to River Forest, Ill., where they resided until 1934, at which time Mr. Smith passed away. In company with her father, the late Frank Palmer, Mrs. Smith has made her home in Knightstown. In 1939 she was again married to Mr. Charles Smith of Phoenix, Arizona, a brother of her former husband.

Mrs. Smith was a member of the River Forest Episcopal church, the D. A. R., the Tri-Delta Sorority, and a former member of the Shakespeare club of Knightstown. She is survived by her husband, Charles Smith; one daughter, Mrs. Ralph Rogers of South Bend, and Joseph Smith, of the United States navy, and stationed in Chicago.

Funeral services were held from the home at 10:30 a. m. Monday, April 13th, conducted by Rev. John K. Abernethy, pastor of the Bethel Presbyterian church. Cremation followed, and the ashes will be returned for burial in the Glen Cove cemetery; H. C. Gordon, funeral director.—Knightstown (Ind.) Banner.

The mother of Mrs. Smith, was a cousin of O. C. Dovey of this city, the Frank Palmer family making their home here in the early eighties, later moving to Lincoln when the division point was taken from here.
