Ak-Sar-Ben Takes Lead by Pledging All Race Revenue to Patriotic and Civic Use

No other race track in America can match the pledge of all-out civic and war aid made by the management of the Ak-Sar-Ben oval, above where the greatest running race meet in its history opens on Tuesday, May 26th, to continue daily through Saturday, July 4th. Right, J. E. Davidson, Ak-Sar-Ben president, who with his eleven fellow governors, donates much of his time and per- sonal funds in the many fields of unselfish patriotic and civic service that Ak-Sar-Ben sponsors be- sides its annual races.

Omaha, Neb.—When Ak-Sar- Ben's annual running races open for the greatest thirty-day pro- gram in the history of the Omaha track on Tuesday, May 26th, it will be the only meeting in the country whose management has pledged its entire revenues for patriotic and civic efforts, points out President J. E. Davidson.

"There was never a time when any individual ever made a cent of profit from operation of the Ak-Sar-Ben races," Davidson explains. "We have always used our revenues for civic pur- poses, but this year we are going all out.

"In addition to all regular activities that the Ak-Sar-Ben meet supports, including county fairs, 4-H club work and the fall live stock and horse show, we are giving added financial assist- ance this year to a gigantic 4-H "Food for Freedom" program. Besides, we will use part of our revenue in the "Smiles for Sol- diers" campaign to provide recrea- tion equipment and athletic sup- plies for soldiers in nearby army camps of the Seventh Corps Area.

"However, despite all this, Ak- Sar-Ben's board of governors will not hesitate to call off the races the moment it appears that they interfere in any way with the nation's war effort."

A deluge of applications for Ak-Sar-Ben's 1942 races, attrib- uted largely to the shut-down of Pacific coast tracks, is reported by W. H. Schellberg, chairman of the racing committee. Many are from nationally famous "name" owners.

Two important steps have been taken in the past year to further insure the high calibre of racing at Ak-Sar-Ben in 1942, he added. Since last fall the track, for years known as one of the fast- est in the nation, has been re- built and treated with an applica- tion of 1,500 tons of river sand. This will facilitate rapid drying in an event of rain. In addition, no horse over ten years old that has not won at least two races in the past year, nor a non-winner over six years old will be granted stall space at Ak-Sar-Ben.

As in former years, delega- tions from various communities in Nebraska and western Iowa will be invited as special guests of Ak-Sar-Ben on specified days during the 1942 meet.

and is looked forward to with a great deal of anticipation. A large crowd attended the banquet.

Omaha Central Downs Local Nine By 7 to 1 Score

Eagles Punch Hits to Win; Blue Devils Full of Holes, Accumulate Ten Errors

By ROBERT COOK

On a reversed and ultra-muddy field, the Eagles of Omaha Central battered the Platts-mouth Blue Devils into defeat by a count of 7-1 yesterday. The Eagles used three hurlers in silencing Platts-mouth's guns and kept their hits in well- knit bunches to cop the payoff.

Ossino led Central at bat with three hits, and Johnnie Mancuso twice dropped the ball on the other side of Washington avenue for a brace of doubles. Only ground rules pre- vented the second drive from being a home run. Sam Distefano, a southpaw, started for Central and went three innings giving two hits, striking out four, and walking one. Johnny Potts chucked the next three innings giving one hit, one run, two strikeouts, and no walks. Leroy Holtz pitched one inning and walk- ed one. Lee Urban, Central's ace hurler, was riding the bench with a badly lacerated knee. Ralph Hilt went the limit for the Blue Devils and succeeded in striking out five while walking three. Gradoville, Vroman and Richards garnered Platts-mouth's hits.

Central tucked the game away in the first inning. Hiffernan walked and stole second. Ossino singled to left scoring Hiffernan and purloin- ed second and third. Miller was safe at first, and Ossino tallied when Vinduska's throw pulled Rice off the base.

The Eagles exploded again in the third. Hiffernan was safe as Vroman muffed his grounder. Os- sino singled to center driving Hif- fernan to second. Miller rified a single to center plating Hiffernan, and both runners advanced on the throw to the plate. Noble threw wild attempting to pick Ossino off third, and that gentleman came in. Canella walked. Hilt tossed to first to try for Canella, but the speedy catcher was on his way to second. Vroman threw wild to B hassock; and, when the apple rolled on through Nielsen, Canella put on a forced draft to score.

Platts-mouth got their lone run in their half of the sixth. Vroman was safe on Hiffernan's wild throw and took second on a wild pitch. Hilt was safe at second when Dis- tefano missed Hiffernan's peg, and Vroman scored.

Central rolled again in the sev- enth. Mancuso rammed a powerful smash clear into Ninth street for a ground rules double. Hiffernan singled to left, and when the ball eluded Beverage, Mancuso scored, Hiffernan to second. Assino singled to center bringing in Hiffernan.

Best fielding came when Larry "Red" Miller was twice caught off base. Distefano was the winning pitcher. Box score:
