Woman's Club Report

Report of president, Plattsmouth Woman's club, May 18, 1942:

Membership

Fifty-nine paid members; six honorary members—Total 65.

Meetings

Sixteen regular meetings and one executive board meeting were held. The president presided at all but two of these meetings. Each meeting opened with devotionals, and the pledge of allegiance to our flag.

Theme

The theme for the year's programs was National Defense. Under the efficient direction of the program committee with Mrs. A. H. Duxbury as chairman, the following topics pertaining particularly to national defense were presented: "The American Way of Life," "National Defense," "Things Are Not What They Seem," "The U. S. Navy," "Do We Want Health?" "Looking Toward Tomorrow." To add additional interest and information as well as humor, we have had programs on "Our Town," "Books to Read," "Mexico," "South America," "Christmas Pageant," "Girl Scout Program," "Information Please," "Religion and Culture," "Clothes to Fit Personality," "Poetry," and review of "White Cliffs of Dover." The annual membership tea was held in September and the annual banquet, including installation of new officers, in May.

Activities

Of necessity our activities this year have centered around defense work. In the fall we cooperated with other civic organizations in conducting a housing survey. Most of our members filled out registration cards for civilian defense. A U. S. O. book show netted a goodly number of volumes for the soldiers at Fort Crook. In Red Cross activities our members have contributed their services by sewing and knitting. Twelve members completed the first aid course and 23 members are registered for home nursing. Several members served on the draft registration board. Two Red Cross memberships were purchased and $3 contributed to the Red Cross war relief drive. Individual contributions were made to the infantile paralysis fund drive. Our members cooperated with other organizations in the collection of salvage. The club president attended the meetings of the City Civilian Defense Council. Representatives of the club attended the home canning demonstration, and Cheese demonstration, reporting back to the club. The Girl Scouts distributed literature on Canning and Preservation of Foods to each member. Two high school girls were invited to each meeting. Under the direction of the music chairman, Mrs. E. H. Wescott, Music Week was sponsored and musical numbers presented at each meeting of the club. To correlate our defense work with the state and general federation setup, a special local defense committee was appointed with these sub titles: Organization, Agriculture, Aviation, Conservation of Defense Products; Consumer Products, Housing, Industry, National Defense Library, Nursing, Nutrition, Recreation, Registration, U. S. Stamps-Bon-Bon's, Patriotic Education.

To Our Girl Scout committee belongs the credit for the sponsorship of that activity. At the beginning of the year Mrs. James Begley was chosen leader of Girl Scouts. After a few weeks Mrs. Begley resigned and Miss Barbara Bates has been leader for the remainder of the year. Several new members have been added to the organization. The Womans club contributed $5 for the credential fee. Our local press and publicity chairman, Mrs. R. C. Shellenbarger, brought honor to our club by being selected the First District chairman of Press and Radio. Mrs. Shellenbarger's club scrap book tied for first place at the state convention, and a $2 prize was received.

Constitution and by-laws which were revised at the close of the previous year, were given the second reading and adopted.

Two delegates from our club attended the state convention at McCook. Two delegates attended the first district convention at Pawnee City and several members attended the county convention at Louisville.

During the summer a picture show was sponsored and a goodly sum added to the treasury.

All the officers and committees have been faithful and efficient in their work and have cooperated in every way.

Respectfully submitted, Mrs. Lowell S. Devoe, President of the Plattsmouth Woman's Club, 1941-1942.

A Rumor of a Rumor

With the high cost of building material and the great desire for building, the government restriction on new lumber and other things, comes the rumor that the old hotel building may be razed for the lumber it contains. The hotel building has stood for many years and in days of yore was a center of much activity, social and business.

Ships Cattle to Market

On Wednesday of last week Ralph Richards, who is an extensive cattle feeder, made a shipment of some 50 head of fattened cattle to the South Omaha market. The stock was delivered by a number of trucks from the neighborhood and found a ready market at good prices.

Close Successful School Term

The Manley schools closed last week with a picnic which was enjoyed by the scholars and patrons along the historic Weeping Water creek. Miss Florence Fischer, from near Murray, was the teacher this year and has been given the work of guiding the minds of the students for the coming year.

West Family Leaves Wabash

The family of Jack West, which has made their home in Wabash for a number of years, is to make their home two miles east of Weeping Water. They moved to that locality to make their home, having a number of acres which is enabling them to have a garden and a flock of fowls which will materially reduce the high cost of living.

Ready Cemetery for Memorial Day

Lester Bosworth and William Franklin Reese have been at work at the Wabash cemetery, cleaning up the place, cutting the grass and weeds and getting the plot in excellent shape for memorial day which is soon to come. A committee also is arranging a program for memorial day which will include speakers, songs, etc. The cemetery will be in excellent condition and a place of beauty when friends and relatives come to decorate the graves of the departed.

Paul Murfin Honored

At the annual election of the Society of American Military Engineers, campus organization for military engineering students at Lincoln, Paul Murfin of Wabash was named vice-president. Paul has been a persistent student and a hard worker, working to pay his expenses, and the honor is deserved. All of Wabash express pleasure in this honor bestowed upon him.

Young Soldier Writes

John H. Tilson of Murray received a letter from his cousin, Pvt. Douglas R. Tilson, son of James Tilson of Murray, who joined the army March 1 and is now stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas. WABASH

By Journal Field Representative

John Wood and sister, Myrtle, were over to Plattsmouth last Monday afternoon where they had some business matters to look after, both in town and at the court house.

A stone loading dump is to be established out of Weeping Water between there and Wabash, which will enable the quarries to load their product.

G. R. Binger, the lumber man from Weeping Water, was looking after some business matters in Wabash a few days ago and was also meeting the citizens and looking over the town.

Miss Myrtle Wood has had her last year's corn crop shelled and delivered to the elevator, and is getting the work done to get the crop in for this year.

Charles Schultzer has been shelling his last year's corn crop and marketing the same at the Wabash elevator.
