Mantel—Verdoorn Wedding
Miss Betty Mantel, of Hospers, Iowa, was married Saturday to Mr. Bert Verdoorn, of Bellevue and formerly of Orange City, Iowa, at the Mantel home in Iowa. Mr. Tony Verdoorn was his brother's best man.
The young couple returned to Bellevue, Saturday to their new home at 2527 Jackson street.

Sugar for Canning
There has been considerable confusion regarding registration for allotments of sugar for the purpose of canning. Mr. Morrison of the Morrison Sanitary Food Market states that registrants are to apply from 1 to 4 p. m., Wednesdays and Thursdays at the fire hall in the city park. Applicants are to be able to tell how much canning they did last year and how much canning they intend to do this year.

Modern Grocery for Bellevue
One of the two new buildings to be erected by J. D. Nester on the northeast corner of Mission and Franklin streets will be occupied by Morrison's Sanitary Food Market. The new market will be a one story building, and in its construction E. C. Westcott, builder, plans to leave no stone unturned in making it the most suitable kind of building for Mr. Morrison's business.
The market will be modern in every sense of the word. Customers will serve themselves and pass through a checking stand to pay for their groceries. Room, which has been a problem for Mr. Morrison so far, will be adequate in the new building. Various departments, such as dairy and fruit, will be patterned after the most modern groceries. And South of the store there will be a fifty-foot parkingway.

German Threat to Great Russian Industrial Center
Stalinograd and Rostov-on-Don Face Danger of Being Overrun by Fast Moving Germans
From Monday's Daily—
The German high command turned the crushing weight of fresh men and machines against the blazing Russian front in the Don river bend today after a series of powerful and unsuccessful assaults northwest of Moscow and at the approaches to the city of Veronezh.
Two main offensive operations—now within 190 miles of Stalinograd and about 190 miles of Rostov—were reported surging forward on the south front despite appalling losses due to point blank Russian artillery fire that piled up Axis men and machines.
One German attack was in the Doguchar sector just below the Don River bend to the east pointed toward Stalinograd war industries on the Volga. The second was somewhere in the region of Voroshilovgrad, 190 miles north of Rostov and headed for the gateway to the Caucasus where the Don circles back to the Donetz river and the Sea of Azov.
At the same time the Nazis were forced to battle with perhaps 75,000 troops for the railway city of Voronezh ten miles east of the Don on the northern sector of the southern front in order to protect their flank. Russian dispatches said the enemy was paying terrible prices for his advances to the outskirts of the city but it was indicated that the assault was making progress.
On the Kalinan sector northwest of Moscow, the Germans attacked "over piles of Axis dead" near Rzhev. They made some gains in stood threatenly near the house occupied by the Welton family.
Mr. Phillips has been in attendance at many tree accidents. He carried with him a folder of pictures most of which showed trees or parts of trees on the roofs of houses. One picture showed Mr. Phillips' back yard loaded with kindling wood, salvaged from tree wreckage. This is a paying occupation in more ways than one, considering the difficulty anticipated in getting coal this winter.

Credit Women's Meeting
The Credit Women's breakfast Club met Monday noon in the cooling atmosphere of the Venetian Room at the Hotel. Fourteen members were in attendance, including two new members, Mrs. Emma Egenberger and Mrs. Marjorie Lohnes. The special prize was won by Mrs. R. A. Bates.
Lesson courses have been ordered but have not yet arrived. The lesson for the meeting was furnished by Miss Eula Potts. It consisted of questions on office etiquette. The business discussed concerned

In U. S. Navy
From Monday's Daily—
GREAT LAKES, Ill.—The United States navy welcomed another Plattsmouth youth when Harvey Noel, Jr., 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Noel, RFD No. 2, reported for active duty at the U. S. naval training station. The new recruit is now undergoing training after which he will be sent for duty aboard a navy "Man O' War," or given additional specialized training.

Look what's happened to the Cost of Living

But Your Home Electric Service Cost is Still LOW

Living costs are definitely up—but the cost of electric service in your home is still the same—AS CHEAP AS EVER!

This is remarkable when you consider these facts: Our costs of providing your electric service have gone up by leaps and bounds. Our taxes, material costs and other operating expenses have risen just as steadily as your own living costs. BUT YOUR ELECTRIC SERVICE REMAINS CHEAP!

Every employee of this Company is determined to do everything possible to keep your electric service dependable and cheap! But our first obligation today, of course, is supplying the power needs of war industries . . . doing everything we can to hasten Victory.
