

MANLEY

By Journal Field Representative

Harry J. Patterson, 27-year-old electrician's mate second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Patterson of Dunbar, Nebr., has been reported missing in action in the Coral sea battle. Patterson is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Davis of Manley.

Last Friday, a week ago, there was born to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bergman a baby boy, this being the second son which has come to bless their home. The mother and little man are both doing very nicely. They were expected home the latter portion of last week.

The board of directors of the Manley elevator met at the office in the elevator last Monday evening for their regular monthly meeting. The business of the past month has been good but the disposing of the grain is becoming quite a problem as most of the terminals are now filled to capacity.

Edward Stander harvested some 500 bushels of wheat which tested 61 pounds from his 19 acre wheat field.

John C. Rauth and wife were over to Plattsmouth last Monday to look after some business and visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Mockenhaupt of Alvo, were in Manley last Sunday to attend the funeral of the late Herman Mann who was buried here. Mr. Mann had passed away on Walter the Friday before.

When V. A. Mockenhaupt and wife returned to their home near Alvo they were accompanied by Miss Anna Marie Mockenhaupt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mockenhaupt, where she visited for a week.

Mesdames John Arris and Frank Albee, both of Lincoln and both sisters of C. E. Mockenhaupt, were over to Manley for several days, visiting at the home of their brother, coming especially to celebrate his 87th birthday anniversary. Mrs. Arris returned home this week while Mrs. Albee is remaining for a longer visit.

John Kelley, who is employed in Omaha, during his vacation, was a visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kelley.

John Gruber was over to Omaha and after consultation with the physicians having his case, has concluded to go on with the treatment which they have been giving him.

Good news comes from Falls City, that Sddie Scheehan is showing some improvement and hopes are entertained that he may be able to get out and about. He, however is in a wheel chair and can get out with the assistance of a nurse.

Mrs. Rudolf Bergman, who was so seriously injured by her recent fall, is getting better. Miss Sue Mockenhaupt is her nurse, dividing her time between her father and Mrs. Bergman.

The barn on the Hans H. Staben place was burned Thursday of last week with nothing saved from the conflagration.

Fred Stohlman harvested the wheat of his brother Christie Stohlman on last Monday which averaged 25 bushels to the acre and tested 61 pounds to the struck bushel. Christie went to Fort Crook last Tuesday to be inducted into the army.

Visiting Home Folks

Harvey Bergman, better known as "Bud", who has been employed in Glendale, Calif., for nearly a year, arrived home last Sunday, driving from the coast city, and is spending some two weeks at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Bergman. He expects to return to the west but is considering an offer of employment at Fort Crook. Miss Margaret Bergman who is in the west where she is employed as a nurse, will remain at her present location for the present.

Elmwood

By Journal Field Representative

Eldon Stark, who has been employed at Wayne, Mich., in a defense job, arrived in Elmwood for a short visit and has been with his family and friends here for a number of days. He was over to Lincoln where he was offered employment, but as this required the resignation of his work in Michigan, he decided has not decided what to do. He likes the job in Michigan, but this keeps him away from home and the family.

James Wade was for some weeks working at Papillion but returned to Elmwood. Later he was called to other work elsewhere, departing last Saturday to see about the new job.

Herbert Hultish departed last Tuesday for Fort Crook where he was inducted into the army, and was sent from there to camp for training. Lester Rosenow also was over to the fort for examination, but may not be sent to camp for a few days.

Viola Hayes stepped on a piece of board from which a nail protruded, which pierced her foot, making it very sore. She has been under treatment by the doctor and is reporting to be recovering rapidly.

While working with the plowing of his corn Roll Miller in effort to remove what he supposed to be some weed obstruction from the shovel of his cultivator which was interfering with the work, injured one of his hands on a wire which had become attached to the cultivator shovel. The wound became infected and necessitated his being cared for by a doctor.

Kenneth Bornemeier, who has been located in a camp in Pennsylvania, was a visitor at home for a short time with friends and returned east to his training.

Bryce Quellhorst, who is located in Kansas, arrived home last Friday, visited over night, and was taken on to Kansas City Sunday by his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Orville Quellhorst from where he was sent to Camp Funston. The visits home of the soldiers are getting fewer and shorter in duration and this might indicate early movement of troops.

Miss Viola Bornemeier was absent from her work at the office of Dr. O. E. Liston for a time at the passing of her mother. She has returned to her duties at the office.

The Clover Leaf store, formerly the Bothwell store, has been operated by a representative of the company for some weeks. Another change has been made and John Wood and Orville Quellhorst are in charge.

Rev. Frank Gardner, pastor of a Christian church in Lincoln, and father of Rev. Gerald Gardner, is reported as being ill at his home in Lincoln.

Sam Galloway Writes to Parents of Experiences Found in Service in the Army

SOMEWHERE in the Whitehorse Territory, Canada, June 14—Dear Mom, Pop and All: I got your nice birthday card and letter. They were very nice.

Well, we have moved up the trail again 60 miles from where we were. It was quite a trip. I had to drive one of the tractors part way and I was sure tired when I got here. I got on the tractor about 4 p. m. and it took me until 5 a. m. to get to camp.

This is very pretty country up here—the valleys are so green and the road follows along the side of a range of snow-capped mountains, full of crags and peaks, and there are a lot of glaciers up in the mountain crevices.

Boy, we are sure having fish here, for nearly every night one of the boys bring in a big string and we have a fish fry. And they are sure good, these fresh water fish. We haven't caught very many trout yet. We get mostly all grayling, but they are good eating. Most of them are from 14 to 18 inches long and we get a frying, ppan, lard and salt and pepper and fry them in our tents.

I got to see a bear the other day when two other guys and I were going fishing. We were going down through the timber when we noticed a bear had been scratching around for grub worms. Then we just got a glimpse of the bear about the same time he saw or heard us and he really broke out through the brush. It was a brown bear. Some of the boys saw a black bear across the road and he was pretty big, too.

Two of the boys down at headquarters shot a moose the other day and they were fined $15.00, but they got to keep the moose.

Well, I hear they are going to give us more money. I don't know why. The boys will just blow it and it will mean higher taxes for you to pay. I made out a $20 allotment to be sent to you every month.

We are getting so far from Whitehorse that it takes the mail a long time to get here or back. It has turned windy the last couple of days up here and gets pretty chilly, but the mosquitoes don't bother when it's windy so it is quite a relief. Lots of love to all—Sam.

Hog Marketing

The June 1 pig crop estimate indicates that we will have better than 105,500,000 head of hogs marketed from the 1942 spring and fall litters. This is 15 per cent more than our previous high in 1932. It is easy to see why there is danger of bottlenecks in transportation, processing, and storage of this vast pork supply along with the increased cattle and sheep numbers.

Hog raisers are faced with possible restriction of marketing during the months of November, December, January and early February. Ordinarily, 45 per cent of our hogs are marketed these four months. Producers who have early pigs may want to crowd them along for the early fall market.

Late pigs may be sold to a good advantage after the winter marketing peak since heavy hogs are in demand and the feeding ratio is favorable.

Elect County Chairman

Mrs. Harry Fischer, Eagle was elected County Chairman of the Home Demonstration Clubs, at a meeting of the County Home Demonstration Council this past week. Mrs. Fischer was active in home demonstration work in Seward County before moving to Cass County and for the past two years has served as Eagle group chairman and County Vice Chairman.

The council also discussed plans for State and County exhibits. Mrs. Nelson Berger, Mrs. Will Ott, Nehawks, Mrs. B. E. Sumner, Elmwood and Mrs. R. A. Kuehn, Murdock were appointed as the committee to plan and work on the State Fair booth exhibit.

The council also voted to assist in promoting the pre-school roundup being sponsored by the Cass-Sargy Health Unit.

Burning Bindweed

Burning off or searing the tops of bindweed has the same effect on the weed as removal of the tops by any other method. Dr. F. D. Keim of the agronomy department at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture told Nebraska farmers this week. If the burning is repeated regularly and frequently, the bindweed finally starves to death.

"Pair for Victory"

Twenty-one girls and their mothers have teamed up as "Pair for Victory" to conserve food for their families and Uncle Sam. The girls have enrolled as individual 4-H members with their mothers as leaders. They do their work at home thus saving time and tires but what fun it is to work together and watch the filled cans increase in number. Any girl between the ages of ten and twenty who wishes become a 4-H member and meet her canning requirements in the above way should contact the Farm Bureau Office for detailed information as to procedure.

Stored Grain Pests

The Cass County extension office has received several inquiries recently about how to clean up bins to prevent weevil infestation in wheat that is being stored. Others have asked how to fumigate last year's wheat to prevent weevils from spreading to stored wheat of the new crop.

Extension Entomologist O. S. Bare of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture states that all empty bins should be swept well and the sweepings burned or fed to hogs or poultry, or at least carried some distance from the granary. The bin should be scrubbed with very strong hot lye, water made by dissolving one pound of lye in two gallons of water.

Infested grain should be fumigated with one of the heavier-than-air fumigants such as carbon bisulphide or a mixture of ethylene dichloride and carbontetrachloride.

Complete directions for fumigating grain and preventing infestation are in E. C. 62. A copy can be obtained by request from the County Extension Office.

Can Beets While Tender

Beets become woody and much less desirable eating during hot weather, according to Home Demonstration Agent Miss Baldwin of Cass County. She is advising housewives to not delay too long before starting to can beets. Condition of the beets can quickly be learned by cutting one or two of them with a knife.
