

Death of August Krecklow, Long Time Resident

Well Known Cass County Man Dies Suddenly at Barber Shop at Manley

August F. Krecklow passed away Saturday afternoon, July 18, between the hours of 5 and 6 o'clock, death having come suddenly while he was waiting to be served in the barber shop at Manley. He had reached the age of seventy-six years and was a member of the Manley community for twenty years. Before this time, he had lived on a farm west of Manley for a number of years and through many pleasant associations enjoyed the pleasure of a wide circle of friends who will revere his memory.

He leaves his wife, Augustia T. Krecklow and three sons, Louis C. of DeLafield, Wisconsin; Lawrence A. of Wabash and Harold A. of Louisville, and one daughter, Mrs. Robert Wilke of Louisville.

Funeral services will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Immanuel Lutheran Church near Louisville. The Hobson funeral home of Weeping Water is in charge of all arrangements.

MRS. CAMPELL ANSWERS CALL

Mrs. W. F. Campbell, who has made her home in Cass county for more than fifty years, was born at Oskaloosa, Iowa, on August 16, 1868, where she lived as a girl, coming to Nebraska when still a young woman and was united in marriage with William Frank Campbell.

They made their home on a farm a few miles from Murray where they lived and were ready to do an act of kindness. Mrs. Campbell lived a quiet Christian life endeavoring to walk in the footsteps of the Master.

Mrs. Campbell had not been in the best of health for some time, but bravely fought the sickness which finally claimed her life. The funeral was held at the Lewiston community center, formerly known as the Lewiston church. The oration was delivered by Rev. Gerald Gardner of the Christian churches of Murray and Elmwood, who brought a message telling of the kindnesses of the deceased and speaking words of comfort to the bereaved members of her family.

The interment was in the beautiful Lewiston cemetery. The pallbearers were Eugene Fisch, James Christmeyer, Herbert Campbell, Albertus Campbell, Glen Campbell and Greeley Bell. They tenderly deposited the body of this beloved woman in her last resting place to arise when the trumpet of the angel of resurrection shall sound. The community will miss this excellent woman.

Uncle Sam's police and rescue squad, the U. S. coast guard, is doubling its strength. Write or call at Room 217 P. O. Bldg., Omaha.

Eddie Sheehan, at the Missouri Pacific hospital at St. Louis, has improved so that he can be up in a wheel chair for a short time each morning and afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Thor Hansen were host and hostess at their home Sunday when they entertained at dinner Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hansen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vosbord and children, Emil Hayes and family, Cecil Vosbord and Lora Holt.

Margaret Murphey of Omaha, came to Manley last week and has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murphey.

Mrs. Herman Bergman and little son returned home from the St. Joseph hospital at Omaha where the young man was born last week. Both the babe and its mother are getting on nicely.

Miss Alice Jane Pearson went over to Lincoln for a visit with a number of friends and visited the greater portion of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Eauth were over to Plattsmouth the first of last week where they were looking after some business matters for the day.

Rev. Fr. J. P. Heinesey, pastor of the St. Patrick church at Manley, was called to Nebraska City last week to attend the dedication of St. Mary's Catholic church at that place. The rectory was also dedicated.

Johanne Gruber was over to Omaha to have some work begun which is to correct the scars caused by the burns received when last fall. It is hoped that all traces of the burns may be removed.

Joseph Walbert has been making repairs on some of the buildings at the farm and has placed a new roof on top of them recently.

Harold Krecklow and W. Earhardt who recently passed examination for admission into the army, are to report for induction July 21.

Maybelle Ahrends of Lincoln, and a brother from Denver, were here visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ahrends from last Friday until Sunday evening.

Card of Appreciation
We desire to express our appreciation and thanks to the neighbors and friends who were here at the time that our barn was consumed by fire, and did all possible to save our property and put out the fire. We deeply appreciate your efforts and the neighborly feeling which prompted your kindly actions.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sheehan, Sr., Manley.

Visit Friends Here

Thomas Dooley and wife of Papillon were visiting in Cass county, guests of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Barth. They also visited at Greenwood, Alvo and South Bend, meeting veterans of the communities as Mr. Dooley is a candidate from Sarpy county for nomination for state senator.

Ram Buries to Ground

On Sunday night as a workman was returning from his labors at Mead, on approaching Manley, he saw a fire and driving toward it found it was the barn of Wm. Sheehan, Sr. He awakened Mr. Sheehan and gave a general alarm and soon a large crowd of neighbors were assembled to do what they could to get the flames under control. All the horses were rescued but the harness was destroyed. In the basement of the barn were cows and pigs, which when the fire got hot, stampeded, some of the cows running almost to Weeping Water. The family had retired early and the fire was discovered about midnight. A small amount of insurance was carried on the building.

Ralph Richards has completed the harvesting of his large acreage of wheat and is well pleased both by the returns and the fact that the work is done.

John Wood was over to Clarinda, Iowa one day last week and brought back some six tons of coal. It is time those who would store their winter's supply of fuel to start getting it in, as the railroads and trucks are becoming daily more occupied by defense and offense transportation.

Henry H. Gerbeling has his harvesting completed and is now ready for what will come in the line of labor.

John Cardwell was assisting in the harvest fields for a short time but he has not entirely regained his strength since his illness and found it rather uphill work. However he is gaining in strength every day.

Burton Barden has been assisting L. R. Stanley with his haying, and also with the wheat harvesting.

Paul Murfin was over to Columbus where he was visiting and looking for employment. While there he visited Harry Stuft and the hydro-electric plant which was most interesting to Paul.

Ralph Dorr, since getting his own harvesting done, has been busy assisting with his combine in getting other farmers' harvesting done.

Mrs. H. H. Gerbeling, who has been visiting with her daughter in Lincoln for the past week, returned home last Monday.

Jack West of east of Weeping Water, was visiting with friends in and about Wabash. He is employed with the Western Limestone company in their quarries near Weeping Water.

After having completed their work combining William Rueter and son Albert went over to northwest of Elmwood where they assisted in the harvesting of Clarence Rueter, who is farming on the McCrorey place.

Clifford-Browne who has been working in the western part of the state and Colorado has been sent to South Dakota, where he is drilling wells.

Minch Work on the Farms

People who are able and desire to work can have the opportunity now on the farm, as there is more work to be done than the farmer, his wife, and his children can do. They work early and late and still can not get caught up. Miss Myrtle Wood, like many others, is waiting and hoping that the combines will get to her wheat before the next rain comes. With the wheat getting as ripe as it is a heavy rain would cause untold damage to the grain.

Edwin McHugh Visits Uncle

Returning from the flying school where he has been for many months, Edwin McHugh, of Murdock, stopped at the home of his uncle, Ralph Tovey for a short visit before continuing on to see his mother, Mrs. Elna McHugh, of Omaha. Edwin graduated from the flying school and has been given a 22-day furlough before reporting for active duty.

George Blessing Very Busy

With the work of conducting a country newspaper where the work in the line calls for collecting the news, setting the type and all the many details as well as caring for the office work, George Blessing found time to go over to the farm where his mother is holding the fort to help with the harvesting and regular farm work. While the job is big, we know that the Blessings will get it done.

After placing the old building which was formerly occupied by Thomas Straub, in condition for storing wheat, there remained many offerings from the farmers and a number of steel bins have been shipped here from Louisville, which are being used by the government for grain storage.

Bobbie Halstrom, who was kept from his work by his sudden illness for some time, is back now and says he is feeling fine.

Uncle Peter Jorgensen was over to Nebraska City on last Saturday where he was looking after some matters of business for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Hallstrom and family were over to Tarkio, Mo., last Sunday where they went to visit Prof. Wilber, who has not been feeling well for some time. He was superintendent of the Avoca schools last year and expects to return for the coming term.

Ed F. Dehey, owner of the Avoca Mill, suffered some loss when the recent storm came, damaging a portion of the mill building. What is known as the flour room was damaged to the extent that a new roof had to be placed on that portion of the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Terrell were visiting with relatives and friends in Union and Omaha during the past week. They were away almost the entire week.

Edward Morely, operator of the service station, has been quite poorly, so much so that the operation of the station has been delegated to other hands for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Corbin of Elmwood were visiting in Avoca on last Tuesday, looking after some business matters as well as doing some work on the property which they have here.

Joy St. John, who was so severely injured when the horse on which he was riding jumped a ditch, fell backwards on Joy, is still at the hospital and remains very poorly.

Has 300 Varieties of Trees
H. M. Lum, the lumberman, desiring an innovation, had his helper, Henry Maseman, work on what Mr. Lum is pleased to call a jungle, which is probably as good a name as any. He now has some 300 or more varieties of trees. Henry, who is pleased with the success of the enterprise, took the writer through this wild spot in an otherwise sedate farming community.

Home from the West

Mrs. Harry Marquardt, who was visiting for a number of weeks at Los Angeles, where she also saw John, who is in the army, and Frank who is teaching school, returned home last week.

Jerry Stevens was over to Lincoln last Tuesday where he was called to look after some business for the garage he maintains in Elmwood.

Mrs. Emily Gonzales of the American Exchange bank, was called to Lincoln Tuesday of last week to look after some business in connection with the bank.

Allen Miller was over to Union last Sunday where he accompanied Rev. Gerald Garner, who was to deliver the oration at the funeral of Mrs. W. F. Campbell, and while there stopped to visit with his friends, Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor of Union.

William Hufish, who was located with his father at what was then known as Bushberry, where they conducted a business for several years then moved to Wabash during the eighties, where they were interested in a store, and later in 1886, coming to Elmwood, where they have made their home since, was reflecting on the changes in Elmwood from 1886 to now which will be celebrated as the year in which this world's war will come to a close.

Becomes Manager of Theater

Edward Ernest has been selected as manager of the Elmwood Playhouse and will hereafter look to the best interests of the people of Elmwood in the selection of plays for their entertainment. The management of the Elmwood theater has been by the proprietor of the show at Louisville, James Elmer Shreeve will operate the machine which insures the best and smoothest of operation.

His Idea Seemed Very Good

George Eidenmiller, the barber, had some business matters to look after in Lincoln last Tuesday and with the wife drove over to the big town to look after the same. However, he mused, there was no use allowing the good service of the tires to go unused, so he took all the family and a good share of the neighbors they got good use of the tires. When one has to drive a distance he had as well take a load as go empty. It might require a little more gas but full use of the tires can thus be obtained.

Si Came and Si Stayed

June 7, 1877, Si Mears, then a boy, arrived in Cass County, Iowa. He, with the parents had been making their home in Alamakee county, Iowa, the father had purchased a farm here and had rented it to someone, and so the father rented a farm near Waukon, Iowa, and was farming when the occupant of the Mears farm here threw the farm up and likewise the father of Si, sold what he had planted in Iowa and as well the plowing which he had done and away they came to Nebraska. They arrived on June 7, and Uncle Si has made his home here since. Mr. Mears remembers when the mail was sent to the McCaig farm where it was distributed. Then, after a few years the mail came to Weeping Water, to be carried to Elmwood by neighbors for a time. Finally the regular postoffice was established. Mr. Mears says that during those days as now Elmwood was and still is an excellent place in which to make a home.

Keeps Gallery of Fighting Boys

John B. Elliott, at his store, is maintaining a gallery of the boys who have gone to the service. He has an abundance of frames for the pictures and if you have someone who has not been placed in the gallery, bring a good picture in and it will be hung with the rest of the boys.

Albert Weychel Still Poorly

Albert Weychel, who fractured his hip while helping Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bornemeier in straightening up about the farm after the recent storm, is still very poorly. He was taken to the hospital and one night while asleep, dreamed and thought "Must get up and see about the house," which he tried to do with the result he fell from bed, further retarding his recovery.

To Spend Four Days at Brewster

The 4-H club sponsored by Mrs. Doris (Clarence) Frolich, has arranged to spend four days at Camp Brewster, near Omaha. The young folks are counting on a good time.

Letters Coming More Frequently

Last week a letter from Phillip Coatman arrived, telling of his being in Indian now for some time. Now this week comes another letter, written in April as his ship was passing Cape Town, which is the southernmost point of Africa. The last letter took about three months to get here, although other letters written much later have been received.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruff C. Jones of Stratton, Neb., took supper Tuesday evening, July 14, with his sisters, Mrs. Hannah McDonald, Mrs. C. A. Besack and Mrs. Henry A. Tool. He had taken an injured man to Omaha and stopped over on his return home.

Mrs. J. H. Buck honors the Royal Neighbors by serving a benefit tea July 21 at her home. Everyone wishing to attend is invited and will be most welcome. These teas have been started again as it not only gives a social hour and costs but a dime, which is placed in the R. N. treasury.

Emmitt D. Friend of near Alvo, was a visitor in Murdock last Monday and was while here a guest at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eddie Craig.

Miss Geraldine Schmidt received a letter from her friend, Merle Rosnow, who is a member of the Motor Vehicle Corps in Australia, in which he says he is getting along nicely. Just where he is no one knows.

Mrs. Herman R. Schmit has been very poorly at her home, but is improving to some extent.

Tony King of near Alvo was in Murdock last Wednesday and was in great glee as he had just made the purchase from Robert Crawford of a Model T Ford, and was demonstrating his ability as navigator of the vehicle first made in 1907.

Library Notes

The library this week has another additional loan of books—one set of "Book of the Month" was on the shelves less than two hours when they were taken out for reading. Saturday night 12 books and 12 magazines went to patrons. A new flag has been added to the interior and plans are underway for a sign being placed above the door, so passersby can see Murdock does have a library. Several out of town visitors paid us a visit Saturday evening and complimented our undertaking. Two other magazines have been promised for placing in the library for our patrons.

Mrs. Frank Rosenow was hostess July 15 and Miss Everett hostess for July 18. We have looked high and low but cannot find the screen door, which should be placed on our doorway. The librarian has made a wish on the little wooden image that grants every wish, so we think the screen door will soon be placed.

Attend Funeral at Lincoln

John Swind, former resident of Murdock, but who has been making his home in Lincoln for some time, passed away there last week and was buried Friday. He was a relative of the late Herman R. Schmidt. The Louis Schmidt family, Mrs. Herman Schmidt and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Lapadus made up a party that attended the funeral.

Visit at North Platte

Edwin McHugh, who week before last received his "wings" and arrived home on a furlough, was happy to see his mother, Mrs. Una McHugh. Mr. McHugh is one of the young flyers of our armed forces and was also visiting with his sister at North Platte.

A religious painting on a canvas 45 feet high and 360 feet in circumference is at the famed Shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre, province of Quebec. It is acknowledged the most remarkable canvas on the American continent.
