Secretary Hull Tells of Sacrifice That Must Be Given

United Nations Face One of the Greatest Crises of the World Today—Must Win Peace

WASHINGTON, July 24. (UP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull warned last night that every one of the United Nations, including the United States, must sacrifice "time and substance and life itself to an extent unprecedented in the past history" to defeat the Axis powers.

He voiced the grave warning in a 45-minute radio speech—his first since this country's entry into war and one which President Roosevelt had recommended to every man, woman and child in the world as a summary of what the world faces now and in the future.

"Fighting as we are in self-defense, in self-preservation, we must make certain of the defeat and destruction of the world-invading forces of Hitler and the Japanese war lords," Hull said. "To do this, our people and the peoples of every one of the 28 United Nations must make up our minds to sacrifice time and substance and life itself to an extent unprecedented in past history."

"International desperadoes, like individual bandits, will not abandon outlawry voluntarily. They will only be stopped by force."

Hull devoted most of the talk—radio networks and short-waved which was carried over all domestic in 11 languages to all parts of the world-to-be. That world, he said, is the world of the post-war world-to-be. That world, he said, probably must include some form of international police force to maintain peace.

"Liberty is truly won only when it is guarded by the same watchfulness, the same courage, the same willingness to fight for it which first secured it," he said.

Outlining the requirements for a post-war world which would ensure safety, equality and a full and peaceful life for all, Hull said that continued association of the United Nations in peace as well as in war is essential to a satisfactory aftermath of the present desperate struggle.

He predicted that prosperity, instead of depression, will follow the war if the nations of the world work together on a program such as he set forth.

At first there must be "swift and effective action" to meet pressing human needs among war ravaged populations, he said. Then—

To the Voters of Cass and Sarpy County

Due to the acute shortage of farm labor I have withdrawn as a Candidate for Senator from the third Legislative District. Circumstances beyond my control make it imperative that I devote my full time to my farming and livestock interests. I wish at this time to thank my many friends for the support given me thus far in the campaign.

Novel Method of Saving Time and Weight on Mail for Overseas Forces

Your next letter to someone you know in the armed forces outside the continental United States may not actually be your letter. It may be a photographic copy of your letter. If the point addressed has micro-film equipment, a miniature negative of the message, will be taken and forwarded to the overseas station, where it will be reproduced and handed to the one addressed. After delivery at the destination, the original will be destroyed. In case the station addressed does not have such photographic equipment, the message itself will be sent.

HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED

Pvt. Don Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Rhoden, of Murray, who has been stationed at Fort F. E. Warren, Wyoming, was one of four picked from two hundred men whose average was high enough to be sent to the First P.R.O.V. Co. Quartermaster Trans. School at Stockton, California. Don is taking his army life quite seriously and is doing very well.

Stockton is located about 400 miles from the coast.

Plattsmouth Men Now Home from the Canal Zone

Ralph O. Timm and Robert H. Bestor Home After Several Months in Panama

This morning Ralph O. Timm and Robert H. Bestor returned home after several months spent in the Panama Canal Zone where they have been employed in construction work.

The Plattsmouth men found the experiences very interesting and one that they will long remember but are very glad to be back in the old home in Nebraska.

They were in the Canal Zone since March and kept busy at their work in various spots in that area, up to a short time ago when they were able to start the journey home to the United States.

The trip home was made on one of the boats of the American Fruit company, carrying a cargo of bananas as well as a few passengers that were fortunate enough to secure passage on the boat.

They left the Canal Zone on July 4 and have been some nineteen days on the trip back, stopping at ports in Honduras as well as in Nicaragua.

Mr. Timm states that the Americans are in very high favor with the residents of the southern nations who are friendly and hospitable to a marked degree.

The Zone is a great fruit producing country, bananas being the staple crop and a very large supply on hand, in fact, the Plattsmouth man had the opportunity of buying large bunches of the fruit as low as two cents in American money.

The boat landed at New Orleans and the local men after being cleared at the custom house, came onto their homes here.

Kelly Gives Register

"Cashing in on scrap—let's hope this rings up a victory for the United Nations." That's the sign which adorns a huge cash register reposing on the sidewalk in front of the Tas-Tee Shop.

This register when purchased, about the year 1914, was valued at $900.00. And it could be put in usable shape now. But that's not the intention of V. F. Kelley, proprietor of the Tas-Tee shop. Mr. Kelley's 300-pound sale register is going to the scrap for Uncle Sam as the bold sign across it attests.

It is hoped that this novel eye-opener in front of Mr. Kelley's shop will spur others to give articles of value, if they can possibly be sacrificed for the duration. And what's more, Mr. Kelley has five hundred pounds of scrap in his basement, awaiting the pick-up.

Local Lady Seeks Damages in the Amount of $10,000

Mrs. Kate Morgan is Plaintiff in Action Against Dr. G. Alexander Young, et al

In the office of the clerk of the district court Thursday afternoon an action was filed in which Mrs. Kate Morgan, through her attorneys, D. O. and W. L. Dwyer, seeks damages in the amount of $10,167 from Dr. G. Alexander Young, Mrs. Julia Eades and the Douglas county board of insanity.

The plaintiff claims that she had entered the Lutheran hospital at Omaha for treatment for a skin disease, that later through the efforts of the defendants it is alleged she was taken to the Douglas county hospital and later to the state hospital at Lincoln.

The petition of the plaintiff sets forth that she was released by Judge Frederick Shepherd of the district court of Lancaster county, on May 9th, under a writ of habeas corpus and was later relieved of a guardianship.

The damages are alleged to be due through expenditures forced to be made by the plaintiff and for the humiliation alleged caused by the defendants.

Supper and Sing Successful Event

Many Gather at Christ Lutheran Church to Enjoy Social and Music

Many from the country and surrounding towns came to the church yard of the Christ Lutheran Church last Sunday evening to enjoy the lawn social, supper and community sing held there. Plattsmouth, Louisville, Cedar Creek and Murray were well represented and some were there from Omaha, Papillion, Lincoln and Nehawka. Sunday school members, and the ladies of the congregation who helped with the serving of the chicken and cold plate lunch and the ice cream and cake were kept busy and the supply of part of the food was exhausted before the crowd was taken care of. Some had to be refused because there was no more to serve them.

But judging by the expressions heard, the crowd called the evening a success and thoroughly enjoyed the visiting and the singing together. The Louisville Chamber of Commerce which helped in putting on the sing, loaned the public address system and the projector and screen used in the community sing held in Louisville and J. F. Zastera directed the singing. Pastor Lentz welcomed the guests and called on all those having birthdays in July to stand and they were honored by a stanza of "Happy Birthday".

Mrs. George Dolan accompanied the singers on the piano. R. E. Uhley and John Jackman operated the loud speaker and Louie Wright and Don Huffman were at the projector. The following program was given:

Let Me Call You Sweathart
The Old Rugged Cross

HAS CAR STOLEN

From Saturday's Daily—Last night sometime some person or persons made away with the Ford Tudor coach, belonging to Glen Puls. Mr. Puls had driven the car home about 8 o'clock and parked it near the residence at 11th and Granite street, as has been his usual custom. The family had retired shortly after 10 o'clock and at that time the car was still parked in Granite street. This morning when Mr. Puls prepared to step into the car and start for the downtown district—the car was gone. Sheriff Mrasek toured over the city and vicinity and later broadcasted a description of the stolen car.

FENCE GOES FOR SCRAP

The old pipe fence that for many years graced the parking near the local Burlington station has succumbed to the force of the scrap drive and shipped away to be made into something to fight the Axis.

Little used tracks in the shop yards have also been taken up and will be added to the railroad's contribution to the cause of the democracies.

RETURNS TO SERVICE

From Saturday's Daily—Stuart Goehenour, who has been enjoying a ten day furlough from his services in the United States army, departed last night for his post of duty at Saulte Ste Marie, Michigan, where he has been stationed for the past several months. The difficulty of reaching the station by rail connection made necessary a wait of twelve hours at St. Paul, Minnesota.

HERE FOR FURLOUGH

From Friday's Daily—Pvt. Wallace Arnold, now located at Camp Sutton, North Carolina, arrived this morning for a visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Arnold and other relatives and old friends. He has been at Camp Sutton since enlisting in the army and likes the post very much.

GIVE YOUR SCRAP AND SLAP A JAP

The big scrap drive starts Wednesday, July 29. Dig out all of your old pieces of metal from basement, attic, shed and barn. Notify Don Seiver and he will see that it is picked up on, or soon after, that date. The Japs are slapping us with scrap sent to them for years before the war. Let's slap them back HARD with more of the same thing.

Glen Vallery Aids Scrap Drive in This City

Ancient Vintage Tractor is Turned Over to Don Seiver, Local Chairman, for Scrap

Glen Vallery, local John Deere representative, delighted Don Seiver, Plattsmouth chairman of the scrap drive today when he turned over to the committee an old J. I. Case tractor that he had acquired in the course of business.

The venerable tractor had been at the farm of Robert Patterson, south of this city, and this morning Louie Baumgart, local International Harvester dealer and R. T. Cuthrell, drove to the farm and returned with the tractor, delivering it at the scrap dock to await shipment away to become part of the munitions that will be fired at Japs and the Nazis in the near future.

The tractor weighed 4,400 pounds and will make a very handsome contribution in the war effort in this city.

The responses over the city and surrounding territory to the call for scrap are fast mounting and householders and farmers alike are busy looking up material that can be used in the defense effort.

Taking There Thursday Evening When Ill Succumbs to a Long Standing Ailment

Sometime during Thursday night or early this morning death came to Walter Burke, 42, a lifelong resident of this community and a familiar figure in the city.

Mr. Burke had been in serious condition for some time, suffering from a complication of physical ailments that reached their climax Thursday. He has in recent years been living alone at the home in the extreme south part of the city and yesterday afternoon had complained of feeling unusually bad. He was allowed to go the city jail to rest and remained there until evening when he was taken by Sheriff Mrasek to the county jail where he might be better cared for and sheltered. During the night Mr. Burke suffered a severe nervous attack and was given stimulants that seemed to quiet his condition. This morning his lifeless body was found on the cot, he having apparently passed away in his sleep.

The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Burke, old residents here, the father having been a civil war veteran and was one of the last survivors of this group in the city at the time of his death several years ago.

Mr. Burke is survived by three children, Donna Jean, Billy and Paddy, all of this city as well as two brothers and two sisters, John Burke of Spokane, Washington, Harvey Burke of Atlantic, Iowa; Mrs. Fred Spangler of this city and Mrs. Ezra Albin of near Union.

Plattsmouth Business Men Will Help Busy Farmer Take a Sock at the Jap

Plattsmouth business men will bare their arms somewhere above the elbow Wednesday morning at 7:30. Then they will proceed to take a healthy punch at the Jap. Of course, they won't have the satisfaction of actually seeing their blow land. But the blow certainly will land—that is if they, and thousands of others succeed in getting enough scrap to put muscle in Uncle Sams biceps.

It's been some time since some of these business men have labored under a boiling sun, but when good Americans get sore they'll stop at nothing. Many of the men aren't as young as they used to be, but they have the spirit,—and that's what counts.

It is hoped that at least one hustler from every business house in Plattsmouth will be at the Richey

Civilian Defense Study Necessary to Protect Nation

Local Defense Councils are Urged to Get Fully Organized in Every Department

Regional Director Joseph D. Scholtz of the 7th Civilian Defense Region, of which Nebraska is a part, sent the following telegram to State Defense Co-ordinator Walter F. Robertson June 4, which states the situation exactly:

"Two attacks on Dutch Harbor by Japanese planes are direct notice to you that cities in your state are in immediate danger. Token raids in the midwest must be anticipated soon. We must be ready. This means that training of all local units of citizens defense corps must be completed in shortest possible time so that they may be ready to function efficiently in emergency. Delays play into hands of Japs. Now is time to call on all local defense councils to get job done in hurry. How many city defense organizations in your state are ready to handle situation if Jap planes raid tonight? Alaskan raids show time is short to complete preparations of home front. If defense organizations are not ready there will be needless sacrificing of lives and unnecessary destruction of property. Tests of local citizens defense corps organizations should be started at once and practice blackouts arranged as soon as air raid wardens are capable of handling them. Defense office inspections of all city organizations in this region will be ordered within 30 days. Dutch Harbor raids are war's first attacks on North American soil but they certainly will not be the last. We must be ready."

The Air Raid Warden Instructor's Guide has the following to say about training for this work in Nebraska:

In other words, no time is to be lost in taking every possible step toward preparing this state for any eventuality. IT CAN HAPPEN HERE! A nucleus of well trained Air Wardens in every Nebraska county would be of inestimable value should bombs start falling here. Nebraska is asked to have nearly 12,000 of these wardens available for duty whenever the call comes. They can't be trained too soon. We have heard too much about "too little, too late." Let Nebraska set an example by having enough on time."

Every citizen of Plattsmouth and Cass county is expected to do his part to cooperate in this important movement. The local set up is now in the first stages of organization and complete details are not yet available. Information on registration will be given at a later date when plans for this work are complete.
