Farm War News

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard has announced expansion of the 1943 farm war production program with the aim of providing additional supplies of livestock feeds for 1943 and 1944. More corn and barley will be needed because meat and poultry production appears to be increasing more sharply than was expected at the time feed goals were established, Wickard said.

Under the revised production program, farmers in the commercial corn area may overplant their corn acreage allotments without penalty, provided they have planted their war crop goals. All producers who meet their war crop goals will be offered 1943 corn loans, and in the non-commercial corn area the loan rate will be the same as that established for the commercial corn area. The support price for 1943 barley crop will be at a level equal of its feeding value in relation to corn. The price support on barley, however, will be available only to farmers who meet their war crop goals.

Hay and pasture for livestock are included as war crops. Others on the war crop list are soybeans for beans, flax, tomatoes and peas for canning and dry edible beans.

The increases in corn and barley will make necessary corresponding reductions in acreage goals for less valuable feed grains, such as oats, and in less essential crops, such as wheat.

The War Production Board will permit importation from Mexico as much cottonseed, sesame and similar types of cake and meal as possible to meet larger demands for winter livestock, dairy and poultry feeds.

Announcement of support prices for vegetables is expected around the first of February.

New maximum price ceilings have been set at retail on cheese, butter, fresh citrus fruits and poultry. These ceilings replace those based on Sept. 28-Oct. 2 levels. Housewives may expect to pay slightly more than poultry and citrus fruits, while butter and cheese prices are approximately unchanged. Secretary Wickard has ordered 30 percent of all creamery butter set aside for direct war purposes, along with the total pack of citrus fruits except un-concentrated grapefruit juice.

A program is being developed to reduce milk distribution costs by eliminating frills.

All retail sales of used farm tractors (except crawler tractors), corn pickers and binders, combines, and motor or tractor-operated hay balers have been placed under price control. Private owners and auctioneers cannot charge over 85 percent of the base price for such machines less than a year old, and not over 70 percent if more than a year old.

Golden Rod Study Club

The Golden Rod Study club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Lillian Neilsen. A book review on "The Lieutenant's Lady", by Bess Streeter Aldrich's latest novel, was given in a very entertaining and thorough manner by Mrs. Newton Sullivan. Later the members sang a number of songs. The chosen song of the month was "Onward Christian Soldiers".

In taking care of business matters Mrs. Guy Wiles, president, assigned members their parts in the Red Cross sewing. Members also take part in Red Cross bandage folding which is done at Mynard every Wednesday.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Oglia Wiles and Mrs. Nellie Wetenkamp. Delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

Mrs. Emma Henriksen arrived home on Tuesday of this week from Glendale, California where she had spent several months with her son, Dale.

Letters from Sons

Good news comes in bunches for some people. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bashus received letters from their sons, Leonard and Edward, Jr., this morning. Leonard, with the Coast Guard, writes from Hawaii, while Pvt. Edward is stationed in San Diego. Another son, Leroy, is serving with the Coast Guard also.

Elmwood

By Journal Field Representative

Ted Brinton, who is in training at Fort Lewis, Washington, has been enjoying a furlough with his parents and old time friends here. He is with the Engineering corps.

Mrs. George Blessing was backing her car from the curb and as the car moved out it was struck by a passing truck and the collision injured the car quite badly. Fortunately Mrs. Blessing was only shaken up and bruised.

Another Blow To Town
Karl Rosenow, Alvo Barber, who has operated his place of business for several years, has been called to the colors and as the result he has been compelled to close the shop. It has been impossible to secure anyone to operate the shop, altho in the past it was quite easy to secure a barber when needed. This is just another phase of the conditions that in the war have been felt in the small towns.

J. A. Boyd, of Murdock, was in Alvo on Friday getting feed at the mill for use in feeding his chickens and hogs. He uses a great amount of the feeds in his work.

Frank W. Lorenz was called to Murdock last Friday to look after some matters of business.

Emil Holke was called to Weeping Water last Friday to look after some business matters and also visiting with friends.

LAST SATURDAY at the Bryan Memorial hospital at Lincoln, a fine son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Mottia Penterman, manager of the T. W. Ewing Lumber Co. Mr. Penterman was at the hospital to assist in the welcome to the young man. Grandfather Herman Penterman has been greatly pleased over the addition to the family circle.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS MEET
The Royal Neighbors of America met last Thursday afternoon at the home of Neighbor Lucy Lyle. After the business session a very much appreciated luncheon was served by the hostess, Mrs. Carl Ganz of Omaha, was a guest of the afternoon.

Weeping Water

Jolly Home Makers Extension club held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Charles Freeman, with Mrs. George Miller, as assistant.

Miss Agnes Rough was a business visitor to Omaha Monday, visiting the market and selecting spring hats and dresses for her business here. She was accompanied by Mrs. Si Brandt, who spent the day visiting Mrs. Betty Rathburn, formerly of Weeping Water.

First Scrap Campaign in 1776

Our Colonial Forefathers pulled down a lead statue of King George III, and melted it into bullets. An American General wrote that the King's troops would have "melted Majesty fired at them."

Scrap campaigns are not new in Nebraska. Mark Caster of the State Salvage Committee regrets we have no statues of Hitler, Hirohito or their bootblack, Mussolini, to convert to bullets.

We do, however, have many things which are not new serving any useful purpose, which should be converted into scrap for making fighting weapons.

The vast army of Nebraska men in our Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard, are giving everything they have for the protection of their loved ones and our way of life. Can we do less than provide them with all the weapons and ammunition they need, particularly when it involves only marketing things which we don't need?

Scrap which has been gathered into piles is in stock for war, just as wheat in the bin is in stock for flour. We need to gather more scrap just as Nebraska farmers need to raise more wheat.

There is a demand for steel which can be made from old farm implements, also for every ounce of fat, oil and grease.

Former Resident Married

Wednesday afternoon Judge A. H. Duxbury was called upon to perform the marriage ceremony for a boyhood friend and associate, Monroe James Lockwood of St. Joseph, Missouri, who was married to Gladys May Poole. The wedding was witnessed by Minnie Hill, the clerk of the court and Sheriff Joe Mrasek.

The groom is a former resident of Plattsmouth and will be better remembered as "Roe" Eattman, to the old friends.

New stripped modes of gas stoves, containing no more than 100 pounds of iron and steel per stove, will save 16,000 pounds of iron and steel next year.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Modern life with its busy and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—brings heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feet constantly dried, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!
