Special Journal Correspondence

visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olsen, for the past two weeks and a half.

Mrs. Ross Raines has returned home after a weeks stay in the hospital, in Lincoln. Influenza, followed by rheumatic fever has caused her illness. She is reported to be improving.

Donna Parson is still in the Lincoln General Hospital, where she has been quite ill for the past week.

Rev. Louis Heib, of Ashland, will be the supply pastor at the Congregational Church, until a new pastor can be secured.

New floors are being laid at the Mennonite Church, and it was impossible to hold services last Sunday. Those who had transportation attended services at Manley.

J. M. Ranney is visiting relatives at Metamora, Ill.

Eighteen men finished the advanced Red Cross First Aid course, Saturday evening at the Civilian Public Service Camp, under the instruction of Mrs. Ray Norris, county Red Cross chairman.

The Womens Helping Hand Society held another of their fine meetings Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gus Borjeson, with a large attendance. As their quota of Red Cross work had not yet arrived the afternoon was spent working on rugs. Three guests were present to enjoy the afternoon with the members. They were Mrs. Lester Hoback, Mrs. Robert Bates and Mrs. Earle Murdock.

The most popular man in Weeping Water these days is the man who owns a plow and a harrow, and who also owns a team of horses. All over town gardens are waiting to be plowed, and Victory Gardeners ready to get to work, just waiting to get that garden plot ready for planting.

Mogens Johnson, a senior member of the Weeping Water school board attended his first meeting Monday evening, as he refused to accept the office, again this year. Mr. Johnson has been an active member of the board for fifteen years, and has been faithful in the discharge of his duties, and he thinks that he deserves a well earned rest. It is to men like Mr. Johnson that we owe much of the success of our schools during the years in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Elliott and daughter, Maribelle, visited Mr. Elliott's parents in Omaha, Sunday.

Miss Mary Ransney spent the week end with relatives in Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Michelsen, Mrs. Elmer Michelsen, Jr., and Miss Mayme Michelsen attended the Orpheum Theatre in Omaha, Sunday afternoon, after which they spent the evening visiting at the home of Mr. Michelsen's brother, Henry Michelsen, and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beck who sold their farm last week, have bought the home of the late Mrs. Rosella Cole, over near the school house. This will make Mr. and Mrs. Beck a fine home in which to spend their old age. Mr. and Mrs. Reckord had only very recently rented and moved into the house This will necessitate their finding another home.

Speakers for Holy Week

The down town noonday Holy Week services to be held at the Cass Theatre, Monday through Friday, April 19 - 23, give promise of being one of the most helpful and inspiring series yet held. A challenging array of speakers has been secured. They are all busy men with many demands upon their time but they having kindly consented to give us this noon hour on these five days of the Holy Week. It will be only fair that we show our appreciation by faithful attendance on these services.

Monday—Rev. Walter H. Traub of the Kountze Memorial Church, Omaha.

Tuesday—Mr. G. T. Willey, vice-president and general manager of the Martin Bomber plant.

Wednesday—Rev. R. R. Brown of Omaha, well known radio minister.

Thursday—Rev. W. F. Kohl, Omaha, pastor of the Christian Church.

Friday—Dr. Jas. Mayne of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Omaha.

As for the last two years these services will begin promptly at 12:10 and close promptly at 12:55. No one will need to feel nervous about getting back to work as 12:55 will be the dead line for closing.

All the churches of the city, together with those of the nearby towns, are invited to participate in these services which are held in memory of our Lords passion and suffering. If there ever was a time when people need to turn their faces toward God, that time is now. These services are undenominational and are sponsored by the Business Men's Ad Club, assisted by ministers of the city.

Take 45 minutes out of your busy day for this noonday period of prayer and devotion during the Holy Week.

Suffers Injured Hand

Raymond Simmons, 18, suffered a severely injured right hand on Tuesday while engaged in his work at the Norfolk Packing Co., plant. He getting his right hand in the mixer that he was operating. Three of the fingers of the hand were crushed and it was thought the bones in the fingers broken as well as quite badly mangled. The injured youth was taken to the St. Catherine's hospital in Omaha for examination to determine if the amputation of the fingers might be necessary.

Entertain Rotary-Anns

Among those who took part in an entertaining Rotary Ann program at the Hotel Plattsmouth Tuesday evening was J. E. Hilkey, Linden, Kansas, who read classical poems and spoke on "The Psychology of Wit and Humor." Lieut. Betty Seeley, WAAC representative, gave the gathering an insight into the life of lady soldiers. Another WAAC representative, Sgt. Alice Leonard, rendered an accordian solo.

Local talent on the program included stirring songs of patriotism sang by Frank Cloldt. The community singing was led by John Frady.

Presiding over the program was L. S. DeVoe. Others who served on the program committee were Searl Davis and Fred Rea.

SHE COULD BE YOUR DAUGHTER!

Our operators come to us from the "average" homes—the friendly, cheerful, everyday homes—of this city and this state. Perhaps your daughter is one of our operators. If so, you know something about the physical and mental strain under which these girls—"the WAAC's of the Wires"—are working today.

Our operators are as surely doing their patriotic part to defeat our ruthless enemies as they would be if they were enlisted members of some Army, Navy or Marine service organization. They do not wear uniforms, it is true, but our Government has indicated their value in this statement: "The telephone industry has been classed as an essential war industry!"

Remember this additional fact when you place calls. Many of these girls have not had the usual long period of training which we give in peace time. Service may not be quite up to peace time levels. But our girls are trying so very hard to do their bit for victory—and they want you to know how deeply they appreciate the sympathetic consideration extended to them by most of our patrons
