Special Journal Correspondence

Mrs. Ray Rouse spent Wednesday with Mrs. Harold Oleson.

Miss Betty Stradley is helping in the E. L. McDonald store evenings after school and Saturdays.

Mrs. Jim Brown, who has been ill for some time, was taken to the University hospital in Omaha Monday afternoon.

Frank Hurlburt.

CHAPTER VI

SYNOPSIS

Timothy Hulme, principal of a good but impoverished Vermont academy, lives a studious bachelor's existence pany. Timothy makes friends with a new teacher, Susan Barney, and her younger sister, Delia. Now Timothy has received a letter from a disagree able trustee of the academy, Mr. Wheaton, calling him to New York. While Timothy is in New York he meets a Mrs. Bernstein, who proposes her son Jules for a student. Although Jules had flunked in all his examina-tions, Timothy decides to give him a trial. When he keeps his appointment with Mr. Wheaton he is told that he has made a big mistake in admitting a Jew-

Timothy said, through his teeth,

"There is nothing we offer our country young people more valu-

It's got history! I could make it ing list years long, every name on it from a good family. Cut out the girls, of course. You'll never get gentlemen's sons to go to the same school with girls. Make your curriculum over-cut out everything but athletics and what's needed for college entrance-tighten up on the entrance requirements, exclude foreigners, raise the fees, make it clusiveness! That's the secret of prestige, T. C., exclusiveness!

Keep people out and everybody wants to get in! If the Academy could just cash in on its assets-

it's got wonderful assets-old-American New England tradition, a hundred and forty years of expericorrecting "hundred and seventeen"-and let it go. The interview was over. The secretary acolyte, her skirts wafting incense, showed him out. The Gothic elevator dropped him twenty-four stories to the entrance hall. Not till the June Trustee meeting would he need to hear Mr. Wheaton's

After the right number of street crossings he mechanically made the turn at the right corner, but striding gloomily ahead, hypnotized by the dark chaos around hotel without seeing it. When he him, he passed the entrance to his saw his mistake he turned back in a temper, pushed open the swinging door and stepped into the small

A girl was sitting there. She was rather pale and looked a little anxious, and she wore a last on the door. When she saw him, she sprang up and went quickly to meet him, saying his name in a deep, shaken note, "Oh, Mr. Hulme!" she cried, as if she were astonished to know that he still looking down at her in relief and

"Susan!" he cried. "Why, Susan!"

Delia, short, broad-shouldered, sturdy-legged, appeared from a door at the side, her hat in her hand, her surly dark hair freshly combed, her brown eyes snapping.

"Hello there, Mr. Hulme. Are you as nearly dead with tiredness as

Susan? Not me! I'm crazy about this town. Here's where I'm going to live, you watch me! What are

They went to a restaurant and ate fish in a white gravy with oysters, and for dessert had thin, thin pancakes but not with maple syrup; with another kind of syrup that the waiter touched a match to and it actually burned for a while.

After a movie, Timothy took them up Broadway, its myriad electric

The most unexpected event of

When Eli heard this news he was the winter was the solving of the lights resonant as bugles.

we going to do this evening?"

He took both her hands in his, voice again.

dingy lobby.

ish boy as a student.

and higher Algebra.'

The Deal-A-Deck club met Thurs-

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Rouse of Lincoln were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rouse Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Keller, Janice and Lary Lee, were Sunday supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kyles.

Jack Gribble has purchased the D-X service station from Mr. M. L.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wright, mov-The Woman's club will meet Tues- ed from the Rex Peters house to the day afternoon May 11, with Mrs. house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Dud-

DOROTHY CANFIELD . FEATURES

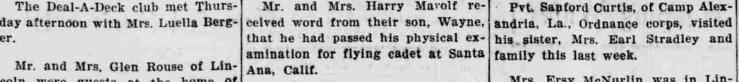

SEASONED

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marolf reamination for flying cadet at Santa family this last week. Ana, Calif.

The M. W. M. circle met Monday coln Tuesday. evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Cope. Pinochle was played. A lovely lunch was served by Mrs. Cope. Dorothy Cameron and Norma McNurlin were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Gray took Mr. and Mrs. Harnard to their home to care for them. Mr. Harnard is having trouble with his feet, Perly Clymer, who is in a hospital in Lincoln, was reported not so well Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Ersy McNurlin was in Lin-

Mrs. Harold Mason and Clark, of Cailfornia, went to Friend to spend the week with her sister, Mrs. Dr. Wallace and family.

Weeping Water

Forty-seven women took advantage of the canning demonstration given at the Auditorium kitchen Thursday atternoon and evening, when Miss Jessie Baldwin demonstrated the preparation and canning of asparagus, and rhubarb, told how to prepare foods for freezing, after a lesson on equipment needed, the care of the pressure cooker, the different types of jar lids, laying special emphasis on the fact that when syrup is used in canning that the syrup should be cooked longer, and using was, is there any difference between his farm work for some time. cane and beet sugar for canning: Her answer to this was also "No". Many similar questions were asked to be made if one was needed. There ly interested in the careful steriiz. the grandparents. ing and preparation of the food for canning. All had a chance to leavn taking care of their fruit and vegetables for home consumption this Arriving Wednesday, from Wash ington, D. C., were Mr. and Mrs. Edd Bobbit and daughter Grace. They will visit relatives here for ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hubbard of ed home Saturday. Taylor, Nebr., were called here last week by the serious illness of Mrs. Hubbard's mother, Mrs. Wm.Jamesen, who makes her home with her son, Bert Jamesen. They found Mrs. Jameeen better when they arrived for home Friday, but expect to re- ill as another recovers. turn soon again.

today for Fort Washington, Md., home Saturday night. at attend Officers Training school. Accompanying him was his wife, who expects to remain in the east while Murdock high school will be held at Sgt. Steckley is there.

Mrs. Anna Earl, of Eagle visited serving. her daughter, Mrs. George Hoffmeister, Tuesday of last week.

daughter visited in Nebraska ... several days last week.

Harold D. Wilson of Lincoln, State Executive Director, Allied Dry For- have been living near Ashland, have ces of Nebraska, declared that intoxicating liquors are the chief fifth Henry Reichman and expect to move columnists of America, in his address soon. at the Methodist Church, Thursday sane and reasonable manner, not garage. as fanatics or prohibitionists, but as of the entire public. He spoke especially of the millions of dollars being spent annually in advertising by the liquor dealers, while other business is curtailed during the war, huge distilleries are all over the Island Tuesday, May 18, to nominland, with every facility of transportation at their command. He said Watson, Lincoln, who resigned this "Alcohol is all right as an outside cleanser, but poison, when taken inside," and it is the thrifty, honest people who pay for the accidents

Miss Lina Lineback spent the week end at Lincoln visiting her sister, time. He issued a call for the meet-Mrs. Josephine Graham. She accompanied Miss Gladys Graham, who teaches in the Louisville schools.

Mrs. Robert Ewart, wife of Judge Robert Ewart, of Wahoo, and their son, Cpl. David M. Ewart, who is at home on a 10-day furlough from Camp Stimson, Tex., to which he was returned recently, after five weeks of training on the western coast, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Weeping Water visiting old Bide-A-Wee Club met Thursday friends. While here they were the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul guests of Mrs. Joan Carter, at the Peterson, with one visitor, Mrs. Floyd Laurel Hotel. Wednesday at noon Hite. The afternoon was spent visitthey were the guests of Mrs. Thomas ing and while visiting their fingers Murtey, at a luncheon served in were busy kntting afghans for solceived word from their son, Wayne, that he had passed his physical exhis sister, Mrs. Earl Stradley and his sister, Mrs. Earl Stradley and By Journal Field Representative Special Journal Correspondence in a west coast army camp, arrived morial hospital Thursday morning. in Murdock for a visit with his wife the former Miss Dorothy Gorthy. He also visited his relatives at Palisade, Nebraska, for a time. He has now returned to camp.

Young Soldier Home

Here From West Coast

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schewe, of Los Angeles, are here to visit with the relatives and friends. They have made their home on the west coast for the past two years.

Receives Deferment

Everett Lindall, engaged in the garage business deemed as essential has been granted a deferment until June 18th from army service.

Hurt In Runaway Fred Stock, residing two miles north of Murdock, suffered a fracone-fourth cup of sugar and one tured leg a few days ago. He had tablespoon of syrup to a pint of rhu- shelled corn and was engaged in barb. Questions were asked by the hauling the cobs away when the class. One was, does it make any dif- team he was driving became frightference if iodized salt is used. Her ened and ran away. He suffered the answer was 'No." Another question fracture of a leg and is laid up from

Have Son

Word was received in Murdock and answered. When asked if pres- Monday of the birth to Lieutenant sure cookers are available this year, and Mrs. Clark Miller of a fine son. she said that application would have The little one and the mother, formerly Miss Loretta Ruge, are report. were women present with many ed as doing well. Lieutenant Miller years of experience at canning, and is now on duty at an army camp and there were young women, new to the the wife has been with him for some pressure cooker method and especial- time. Mr. and Mrs. Gust Ruge are

Mrs. H. V. McDonald has been something new, to remember, when visiting for the past month or more in the north and west with relatives and friends, with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Eastman and family of Sterling, Colorado, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gillespie, of North Loup, Nebraska.

> Mrs. H. R. Schmidt who has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. William Winkler at Lincoln, return-

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Zabel were enjoying a visit over the week end at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Vernon Rikli, at Beatrice.

Mumps have taken their toll of but since that time she has not been the students in the Murdock schools so well. Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard left in the past week, one being taken

Mrs. William Stock who has been Sgt. Edwin J. Steckley will leave her son, Marion and family, returned entertained at a banquet at the

> The Junior-Senior banquet of the the school building on May 16th, the ladies aid of Murdock will do the

E. E. Ganaway, the shoe man, was at Plattsmouth Sunday to visit with Mrs. Harold C. Elliott and small a cousin, E. G. Ganaway and family who have recently moved to that

Peter Lenhardt and wife, who Edward Nelson of Avoca was in evening. Facts against the liquor Murdock on Tuesday to have his car traffic, he said, must be sold in a looked after by Mr. Lindall at the Scottsbluff, Nebr., May 8. (UP) -The Nebraska State Republican central committee will meet at Grand ate a successor to Mrs. Minnie Fried week as Nebraska's national committeewoman, Chairman A. T. 'Bert" Howard announced here today.

Howard said that the republican caused by those who use the liquor. national committee wili meet at Chicago May 20 and will be able to act on Nebraska's nomination at that ing to be held at 2 p. m., and said proxies would be recognized if properly executed and acknowledged.

> Mrs. Rex Gribble, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Philpot, for the past week, left Thursday for Stevens Point, Wisc., where she will remain as long as her husband is there in training as an air corps cadet.

the new annex to Mac's Cafe. Other diers in the hospitals. They have guests were Mrs. Joan Carter and completed their first one and are working on the second.

Ross Fairfield underwent an op-Corporal Jack McCorigan, located eration for hernia at the Bryan Me-He is getting along very well. Mr. and Mrs. Fairfield and Mrs. Albert and Mrs. E. Fairfield and Mrs. Alb. Ross Sunday afternoon and found Ross to be getting along very well.

Mrs. Albert Fairfield and little son of Illinois are at Albert's parents. Albert is working in a defense plant in Detroit, and could find only poor housing so Albert is going to attempt to get into defense work in Omaha.

Mrs. Marie Rehmeier left for Omaha Monday where she will work. Fred and Frank will spend part time with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor until school closes. Frank is considering spending the summer at the Taylors and perhaps Fred will go to Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrill Skinner moved into Mrs. Marie Rehmeier's home Sunday. They had been residing in the property of Mrs. J. L. Dimmitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hawes and Mrs. Wolfe of Linclon were Sunday afternoon visitors at the L. D. Mullen home.

Mr. Wesley Morey, son of Rev. and Mrs. George Morey, who is enspent a few days visiting his parents allied invasion of the continent, here at Alvo this week. Wesley has covered thousands of miles in trans- near the breaking point after ruthport planes and has been in several less persecution lack of food, and different countries-on one trip in forced labor mobilization which is particular he flew to six countries breaking up families and whole on two different continents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Rogers of Omaha were visiting their parents ed States where his father, Carl J. Sunday.

Canning Demonstration

After the business meeting of the W.S.C.S. the ladies attended a canning demonstration in the church basement. Mrs. Backemeier and Mrs. bald Clark Kerr, British Ambassador Leroy Cook were in charge of the to Moscow, has conferred with Predemonstration. Mr. and Mrs. Charles mier Joseph Stalin and Foreign Com-Edwards, who has a pressure cook- misar Viacheslav M. Moltow, preer assisted with the demonstrating sumably in connection with the widof the use and operation of pressure ening breach in sovict Polish relacooker.

A large crowd attended.

Graduation

Thursday evening, May 13th, the senior class will hold their graduahosts to the faculty and Senior class | the meeting. The ladies discussed visiting in Chicago, at the home of members Friday evening when they what they would like to have in American Cafe in Lincoln. The time of such an occasion.

Move Adjournment Nearer

Lincoln, Nebr., May 8. (UP)-Only 13 bills were erased from the general file calendar in the Nebraska legislature in sharp contrast to the 63 moved up the week before, but stumbling blocks to adjournment were moved aside during the week.

The legislature now has advanced nearly all of the non-controversial measures and this week disposed of the two power bills in one-two

One was the Omaha Power Commission bill and the other affected the public power and irrigation districts, especally the Consumers. Other power issues remained but they likely will prove less controversial now that the main measure LB-204 and 286 have moved on to select Sixty bills remain on general file contrasted to only 20 at the session two years ago on the 86th day. The session lags in the number of measures killed 147 to 297 in 1941. In bills passed, it holds a slight lead-135 to 133.

Swedes Hope Invasion

Stockholm, May 7. (UP) -- (Dolayed)-Kato Hambro, 31, sen of the former president of the Norwegian Parliament arriving in Sweden after two weeks of dodging the axis, revealed tonight that his countrygaged by the Pan American Airways, men are praying desperately for an Norwegians, Hambro said, are communities.

Hambro hopes to get to the Unit-Hambro, fled early in the war.

Confer Over Poles

London, May 8. (UP)-Sir Architions, it was desclosed today. The The ladies canned asparagus and conference was reported by the Moscow radio without elaboration.

Flower Garden Club

Members of the Flower Club met with Mrs. Frank Taylor for a covered dish luncheon at her home Tuesday of last week. A large crowd attended. Mrs. J. B. Banning, the The Junior class members were new club president was in charge of their gardens.

The next meeting will be with school folks enjoyed the usual good Mrs. Dinges, Mrs. John Woods of Elmwood was a guest.

PEP-UP

Save Blue Points and Thrive! Eat Plenty of Fresh Fruits and Vegetables Buy Them at Hinky - Dinky

PEAS CALIFORNIA FRESH 2 Lbs. 25 CELERY FLORIDA WELL-BLEACHED Stalk 25 ORANGES FLORIDA SEALDSWEET Dozen 35 LEMONS SUNKIST Dozen 35¢

ONION PLANTS Buy Now For Bundle of 10 BUY QUALITY MEATS AT HINKY-DINKY 7 Pts. PINK SALMON ..... 1-lb 22¢

10 Pts BEETS CUT Can 10¢

11 Pts V-8 COCKTAIL Juice of 8 Gan 29 5 Blue Points 18-oz Can V-8 Cocktail ..... 15¢ GRAPES DEL MONTE No. 1 15¢ FLOUR HINKY-DINKY 48-Ib $1.73 24-Ib Sack .... 93

PICKLES THIESSEN'S 22-02 19 SOAP GRAINS LEADWAY ..... Large Pkg. 19 Good Housekeeper's TOILET

Plattsmouth Prices in this ad effective through May 13, subject only to market changes in Fresh Fruits and Vegetables. We reserve the right to limit quantities. No sales to dealers.

They went to a restaurant and ate fish in white gravy with oysters. voice asked. "Who's the invalidawed to feel, blowing from it as from the Delphian pit, the authenlooking girl in the oval frame?" tic wind of inspiration. Dizzy, but agonizingly in earnest, he told Peck valid. She was Timothy's wife."

able to them than those two courses. I'd rather cut out Latin Mr. Wheaton brought his wrinkled old hand down on the table. "You're crazy, man! You couldn't prepare for college with those "A good many of our Clifford young people don't go to college." "That's just the point, T. C., that is - just - the - point I'm always making. There's a layout there that no new school could duplicate. Why, I love that school! It's got atmosphere, genuine atmosphere!

driving one and Eli the other.

With Professor Hulme to help him

downstairs till they arrived, warming her knees before the fire.

"Come on in here by the fire, Delia," called Aunt Lavinia. Timothy hastened to draw near him a chair for Susan you know, I positively hate to go away-even for a week! I've had such a wonderful winter-you can't imagine what you've done for me.' From the room beyond them, "Susan!" called Aunt Lavinia imyear's hat. She sat nervously far forward, and kept her eyes fixed where she fain would be.

was falling in love.

mering in the after effects of shock. his face was composed enough to make it safe for him to lay down the shield of his newspaper, light a cigarette and sit listening to the dialogue in the next room, once in while glancing up at the mirror. It showed a reflected Delia, absorbed in a book, and Aunt Lavinia sitting weightily before the fire, her skirts folded back to expose her knobby wool-stockinged knees to the heat, occasionally answering over her shoulder a question asked by Susan, who was wandering here and there in the room.

old problem of how to get the basketball teams and their sup-The girl he saw in the mirror, turned to one side, lifted her head porters transported to the towns up and down the valley where and glanced at a faded photograph their out of Clifford matches were in an oval frame. Timothy had played. Selling that gadget for forgotten that photograph hung there. He started. Good heavens! carburetors, Eli Kemp had learned good deal about cars and he Suppose she asked about that! What a way for her to learn-how had come to know several of the mechanics in various garages. One could he not have told her himself of them was Bill Peck, a roughspoken older workingman employed was to tell? If she asked now, in a garage in Ashley. Peck had a what careless wounding bluntness brother working in St. Johnsbury might Aunt Lavinia put into her anwho happened to write him that swer, which he could not spring to the old bus line there was about correct, separated from Susan as to replace its two battered an-cient buses with new ones. he was by those alien presences that if those two old cars could be had as a bargain he was sure something could be made out of them at the Academy. Peck was a pool-playing old bachelor with no wife to restrain him from follies; he withdrew a few hundred dollars from his savings account, borrowed a little more for insurance, and went into the bus business, he into one of the places with a wait-The engines were still in fair shape, but the bodies and seats were disreputable. The older man was willing to put the first profits into paint and denim, and Eli got up eagerly at dawn, day after day, to scrape, mend, paint and patch. Even at their worst, the two rickety buses were more comfortable, enclosed as they were, than the open hard as the dickens to get into. Expulpwood trucks in which, standing up on zero nights, the teams and a few hardy backers had formerly ridden to out of town games.

TIMBER

Eli worked out a season ticket plan. It was just before the beginning of the midwinter vacation, which that year was the first week in March. Susan was to spend it with Delia who had come on from Boston to join her. They were to visit some of their father's overthe-mountain kinsfolk. Aunt Lavinia had asked the girls to spend the evening before they left at the principal's house and had stayed Timothy had waited in the hall corner for the callers, his day-old New York newspaper in his hand, but at the sound of the knocker on the front door he had flung his paper to the floor.

periously. "Come here a minute." She went when Aunt Lavinia called-what else could anyone do? But, sheltered from other eyes in the angle of the hall corner, she gave Timothy, with shrugging shoulders and a fond smiling grimace, the assurance she left him unwillingly, that here with him was Glowing and confident, Timothy held up his newspaper to hide the broadness of his answering smile -and felt a chilling inner wind blowing, as from Arctic ice fields. He saw that he was a fatuous fool to assume that the frankly loving ardor in the gray eyes meant that Susan was a woman opening her heart to the man with whom she

Although his pulse was still ham-long ago about Ellie-the little there Light, casual, airy, the young

"That's Ellie. She was an in-Wild scarlet flooded the girl's face-a burning reflection of it instantly on that of the man who watched her. "His . . . wife . . .?" Susan's startled voice faltered self-consciously over the word, was struck into silence by it. She put a hand up to her flaming cheek, and hung her head. Timothy was at the door. He flung it open. Till he could see her alone . . . till he could tell her . . .

night made him reach mechanically for a coat, a cap. Aunt Lavinia was saying, "Ellie was a connection on his father's side. An orphan, she was, brought up by one of the clerical cousins. Very frail in health. I myself always thought that the Hulmes fell shut behind a young man who plunged down the steps and off at random, anywhere his feet took He had rushed out of the house and gone tearing off, not knowing

The door to the Principal's house where, because the prosy presence of those others suffocated him. He had been stopped by wooden bars across the road in a country lane, just beyond a small low stone house. His house now, her house, their home. His faithful knowing feet had brought him home. He felt for a match, found that his hands, bare to the Arctic cold were almost too stiff to bend, struck a match, looked at his watch and saw that it was long past ten. He could not believe his eyes. It was not possible! A car stood on the curve of the driveway, he saw now. The license was a Wisconsin one. Wisconsin! He stood gaping. The car was small and battered. The door of his house was flung open, a man's figure stood in the oblong of light, a voice cried, "Well, Uncle Tim, welcome to our Timothy started stiffly up the steps. A tall, loose-jointed man ran down to meet him. His cold hand was taken into warm flexible muscular fingers, a gay voice began facetiously, "Aunt Lavinia and I were thinking of starting the fire department and the sheriff out after you . . ." The grip of his fingers tightened, the light voice astonished at itself-"You haven't changed a hair! Why, gosh, Uncle Tim! You look just the same!" "Can!" he cried, his eyes searching the ugly, attractive, bulldog face. "Why, Canby Hunter, how in the Lord's world did you ever get here!"

"Well, Uncle Tim, where in heck have you been? Here, let me take deepened to affection-incredulous,

"Oh, I . . . why, I . . . just stepped out for a walk. But see here, you can't leave your car out all night with the thermometer where it is. You take it right around to the-put your coat on! -back of the Academy next to the furnace room, there's a . . . . "What the heck, Uncle Tim! You don't need to tell me where to put a car for the night here. I'll be back in a jiff." Bent over the fire, Timothy listened to an explanation of Canby's appearance from Aunt Lavinia. 'I'd gone to bed-well, not to bed, my light was on. That was why he knocked. If he hadn't seen a light he'd have gone on down to the tav-ern at the depot. He says he's left Wisconsin and the bank-for good -because of the girl he was engaged to. And he said it was by an accident that he came here at all. He just happened to think of us on his way to New York to take his ship. "His ship!" "For one of those round-theworld cruises. I asked him if he had money enough for anything so expensive and he laughed and said he certainly had not. But if he hasn't, how can he?"

(TO BE CONTINUED)