Russians Stage Great Raids On Nazi Held Points

Largest Air Fleet Sent Against Single Objective Turns Bastion Into Flames

Moscow, June 5. (UP)—Five hundred and twenty soviet long-range bombers, the largest Russian air fleet ever sent against a single objective, turned the German-held bastion of Orel on the south-central front into a mass of flames Thursday night, it was announced today.

Returning pilots reported that fires were visible for 62 miles.

Railway trains, munitions depots and fuel dumps were hit with demolition bombs and terrific explosions were observed, a special soviet communique said. Only one plane was lost.

Orel was the only German anchor point on the southern front to hold in the face of the big Russian winter offensive. Red army troops are on three sides of the city and its only communication with the remainder of German-occupied territory is over a railroad running westward to Bryansk.

The Orel raid provided a Russian answer to the five mass raids directed by 500 German planes against Kursk Wednesday. In marked contrast to the Russian loss of only one plane over Orel, 162 German planes were shot down during the Kursk attacks.

In land fighting, Russian troops seized a fortified height on the Smolensk front today after overwhelming the enemy's defense, the mid-day communique reported. Prisoners and booty were taken.

(A German broadcast said the Russians had abandoned temporarily their attacks on the axis bridgehead in the northwest Caucasus after losing 120 tanks and 104 planes in three days without gaining any ground. The broadcast added however, that the Russians were rushing up reinforcements to renew their assault.)

Dr. H. G. McClusky Returns From Great Church Meeting

General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church Brings Strong Program of Leadership

Dr. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, commissioner from the Nebraska City Presbytery to the church general assembly, returned home Friday evening.

Dr. McClusky reports a great series of sessions of the church governing body, filled with programs of deep interest as it affected the church in the present wartime and the future when the peace has been won and many problems that will face the church in the restoration of the war torn world.

Dr. McClusky had the pleasure of hearing the address of Wendell Wilkie, a part of the missionary program, the speaker telling of the conditions he found in many of the countries visited and the mission of the nation and the church in the post-war world. Another of the headline speakers was Madame Woo, noted Chinese educator and leader, who discussed the problems of the church in the orient and the effects of the Japanese domination on the educational and religious life of the occupied countries.

Dr. McClusky had planned a visit with Dr. Harry Markley, formerly of Nebraska City, in north Michigan, but the railroad service was such that he was unable to make the trip. However, on the way home he had a very delightful visit with Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Minor at Kankakee, Ill., he being able to spend a day and two nights with the family. While there he was the honored guest at a steak fry at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Minor along the banks of the Kankakee river and having the chance to meet a number of the friends of the Minor family.

Need For More Bonds

Newark, New Jersey: By the end of 1943, the average American family should be investing approximately 25 cents of every dollar income in War Bonds, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., told New Jersey's war finance leaders here today, during a luncheon at which plans were laid for New Jersey's new simplified bond selling organization.

The New Jersey group is the first in the United States to reorganize since Mr. Morgenthau's announcement last week that state bond organizations were to be "streamlined and amplified in order to concentrate on individuals and to sell bonds to a still greater number of people."

"Of the 45 billions still necessary to complete our war financing needs for 1943, Mr. Morgenthau told the New Jersey group, "at least 18 billions, or almost 25 per cent of the national income for the remainder of the year, should come from purchases of bonds by individuals."

From those workers earning $1,000 to $5,000 net, who will have seven-eighths of all the current available individual savings, 25 cents of each dollar is not too much to expect. In fact they should and must invest more if our goal is to be met.

"But getting this money is a big order. To do the job will require hard work on the part of every one. Our volunteers will have to work even harder than they did in the successful Second War Loan drive. And we can get this job done only if every state sets up its continuing organization promptly and goes to work enthusiastically with a realization of the importance of the task we are undertaking. In this, the New Jersey group is setting an example."

War Labor Board Insist Miners Resume Work

Necessary Before Negotiations Start—Labor States Order to Work Good Only Two Weeks.

Washington, June 5, U.P.—The War Labor Board today insisted that the United Mine Workers make good on their promise to go back to work Monday before resuming negotiations to break the long stalemate in conference over a new contract.

The miners on their part served notice that the back to work order is good for only two weeks unless an agreement is reached. This left hanging over the country the threat of another coal strike two weeks from Monday unless the matter is settled by then.

The operators had been agreeable to resuming negotiations this afternoon. They said the unions promise to work Monday was sufficient for them and they tried to get a W.L.B. O.K. to proceed with the negotiations immediately in hope of expediting a settlement, but the Board said "no."

Wayne L. Morse Public member and compliance officer of the board said the discussions "reflects the established policy of the board known to the parties that negotiations in a case when the jurisdiction of the board may not be continued during a work stoppage."

The board informed the operators "that it was not concerned with the meeting of the parties on any subjects other than those in which the board is concerned, provided that it was made clear in any statement explaining any such meeting that the parties were not negotiating on the terms of the contract."

The unions new June 20th deadline on negotiations was disclosed in telegrams to all locals instructing them to resume work Monday in accordance with yesterday's decision by the United Mine Workers policy committee.
