Troubles haven't come singly at the Harvey Rich home. Harvey had just recovered from an injury to his foot, which kept him on crutches for some time, and now he has an infected hand, which is causing him great pain, and last week his daughter, Marjory, while playing with her brother, fell and broke her collar bone.

Little Phyllis Fauquet, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. Paul Fauquet, was quite ill last week.

Dennis Scott, and two friends, Dick Montgomery and Louis Malone, were here from their camp at Ottumwa, Iowa, and spent the week end at the home of Dennis' mother, Mrs. Guy Hopkins, and Mr. Hopkins.

A ten o'clock curfew law would be a good thing in Weeping Water, we believe. It would take some of the ten-year-old children off of the streets. Not having anything else to do, they have been doing some practicing lately to see if they hit the street lights with stones. We wonder what their mothers think that they are doing out until midnight, as some of them are?

Mrs. Sterling Hayes informs us that their daughter, Miss Helen Hayes, who is a member of the WACS, has been promoted to the rank of corporal. Cpl. Hayes had expected to come home from Camp Forrest, Tenn., on a furlough this week, but her furlough has been delayed until August 16.

atrice Creamery, at Lincoln, came home for a visit, Friday. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Jones and two children, of Omaha, visited Mrs. Nettie Amick, Sunday.

Remove Landmark

One of the familiar old landmarks in this vicinity has been torn down during this past week, by the United Mineral Products Co., and the lumber salvaged will be used for other purposes. The razing of the old boarding house, which the Steed Stone Quarry built to house part of their men, when they were employing from 150 to 200 men, and were burning lime, as well as quarrying stone, back in 1883, will change the scenery along the scenic drive in the southeast part of town. The old boarding house is said to have been a very busy place during the first few years of its existence, when it was managed by a Mr. Miles and his wife, but in 1888 the company discontinued its use, and A. H. Hart and family, coming from Cordova, Ill., were put in custody of the place, and made it their home for several years, and it has many happy memories for this family, whose children still live in our midst. Miss Mildred Hart, Miss Anna Hart, Rudolph Hart, Miss Ruth Hart, Mrs. Chas. Myers and Hart Bros., extensive farmers east of town, are all members of this family. Since this family left the building has gone into decay. The porch running across the entire front of the building had rotted away, and the kitchen had been removed years ago. With the passing of this building there will be little left to remind Weeping Water of the Reed Quarries which held such an important place in the activities of the community during the 80s.

Yost-Gruber

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Yost, of Murray, and Eugene Gruber, M. M. Co., U. S. Navy, was solemnized at the Christian church parsonage, at Fremont, Neb., Thursday evening, July 29, 1943, in a double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fred Drucker, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Homan, of Weeping Water. They were accompanied to Fremont by Mr. and Mrs. Byron Baker, of Weeping Water, and Mrs. C. A. Bisco, of Lincoln. The ladies being sisters of the groom. Mrs. Gruber will accompany her husband to Virginia for a months visit.

Carl Carlsen, and Mrs. Roy Ward left Friday morning for Fairmont, Minn., to attend the funeral of a relative. They returned home Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Taylor and family; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cooper, and family; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bates, and family; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Rhodes, and family; and John Stewart, all took well filled baskets and went to Louisville Sunday afternoon and spent the afternoon bathing, then enjoyed a fine supper on the beach. All enjoyed a fine time and most of them went home with good cases of sunburn, which was not quite so pleasant the next day.

Hear from Sailor

We mentioned before that word had been received that Clinton Haith, son of Mrs. Valera Haith, of Omaha, had been wounded in action, and that he was reported as a Naval casualty. His mother had two telephone calls from him, last week. He has been brought to the hospital, at Portsmouth, Va., and on Monday he called and spoke of spinal injuries. Later in the week he called again, and at that time told her that his injury is a broken back. Mrs. Haith, herself, has been ill in an Omaha hospital, and the death of Mr. Haith, at Seward, last week, has brought sorrow, and the family has the sympathy of their Weeping Water friends and old neighbors.

Bridge was played during the afternoon.

The Lincoln State Journal last week told of the death at W. A. Haith, 59, a former resident of Weeping Water, July 28, at the home of his son, Ivan, at Seward, after a long illness. Mr. Haith was a resident of our community for several years and his family have many friends here who extend sympathy. Two of his sons are in the army, one overseas, and one on the western coast, another son is in Canada.

The Friday evening bridge club held another of their delightful outdoor picnics, Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Welch.
