Weddell came to Murdock to accept a position as manager of an elevator owned and operated by John Evans, and he has since been a resident of Murdock. When Mr. Weddell arrived he found in active business four people who are still here—they being Matthew Thimgan, who was engaged in the building trade; L. Neitzel, in the hardware business and who was succeeded only two years ago by George Kruse, who now operates the store; Henry A. Tool, farmer and manager of the Murdock Mercantile company, and also associated with Herman Neitzel and Henry A. Guthman in the Bank of Murdock, and later the Murdock Co-operative association; and J. A. Tool, in the hardware and harness business. Mr. Weddell has seen many changes made in the countryside over this length of time and has enjoyed his associations and the friendships he has made.

Chamber Discusses Many of Civic

Housing and Participation Under the New Home Plan—Committee Reports Good Labor Response

The meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, held on Thursday at the Hotel Plattsmouth, was well attended and a number of interesting matters brought up for discussion.

Chairman Hetrick of the agricultural committee, reported that a fine response had been made to the request for registration of young people for farm work, some seventy enrolled for various types of farm aid. The larger part of the responses had been for the detasseling work in this section for the hybrid corn dealers at a good wage, while others had been for tractor work on the farms.

Chairman Tidd, of the industries committee, and H. A. Schneider, of the defense area housing committee, discussed the very important matter of housing, telling of the efforts of the past and possibly of participating in the new housing program for the Omaha area that includes Plattsmouth. Those who have private capital or land that they would like to have invested in a program of this nature, should contact Mr. Tidd. The Chamber of Commerce at the next meeting will have a guest, Col. Adamson, of Fort Crook, who will discuss the motor school program.

Arsenal Of World Democracy Is 3-5th Complete

Words of President Roosevelt Designating U. S. as World Arsenal Is Coming True

Washington, Aug. 6. (UP)—The $20,000,000 arsenal of democracy today is more than four-fifths complete and resources can now be devoted more and more to turning out munitions of war, according to War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson.

Nelson's report on the rapidly approaching completion of the vast war construction program—began just over three years ago, after the fall of France—echoed President Roosevelt's words of Dec. 30, 1940: "We must be the great arsenal of democracy" or face the dire threat of living "at the point of a nazi gun" in an enslaved world.

Nelson's report, based on figures up until the end of June of this year, showed that $12,028,000,000 of the $14,582,000,000 government-financed building program and $4,500,000,000 of the $5,000,000,000 privately sponsored program had been completed.

Of the facilities completed in 1942, the report said, 70 per cent went into ordnance, aircraft and shipyard facilities, while only 21 per cent went into raw materials. This year, 40 per cent of facilities scheduled for completion are destined for raw materials and only 50 per cent for end munitions.

The biggest boom in building of war facilities this year was in the 100 octane gasoline program. Nelson revealed that whereas at the beginning of the year less than 1 per cent of the government-financed program was in place, by July 1, it was about 39 per cent complete.
