We know that everyone who saw the accident at the horse show, Friday, will be anxious to hear how serious it was. The young son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hudson, of Lincoln, was on the edge of the ring, and accidentally got knocked down by one of the horses as it left the ring. He was immediately taken to a Lincoln hospital. Saturday R. H. Gray talked with his parents, and learned that his wounds were not at all serious. This is cheering news to all who attended the horse show, for we all appreciate having Mr. and Mrs. Hudson, and their two beautiful horses, come to Weeping Water to take part in the Fair.

The rationing of food, and the shortage of help, caused worries and disappointments during the county Fair. It must be the perverseness of human nature which makes every one who attends a Fair, think that they must have something to eat, even if they have just eaten a hearty meal at home, and it seems like the more the food is rationed, the more food they demand. Anyway Weeping Water learned that we must have more eating places before another Fair.

High weeds and high corn at the intersection of highways 1 and 59 caused a bad accident, Monday shortly before noon. Mrs. Allen Ehlers and small daughter were coming west on highway 1, and a state fish truck was going north on highway 59, when the obstructed view caused the two to collide with the result that Mrs. Ehlers was badly injured. She had a broken clavicle, and a nasty examination showed internal injuries. She was taken to Bryan Memorial hospital. The small daughter's injuries seemed to be mostly bruises. The driver of the fish truck was badly bruised and shaken up, but our latest report is that he had no serious injuries.
