Joe Bender, owner of the City Market, was called to Sutton Tuesday morning, by the death of his father, Jacob Bender, of Sutton, who was killed by the collision of an oil transport and the truck, which he was driving, on highway 6, in Sutton. A son, Robert Bender, was also in the car, and suffered cuts and bruises. Mr. Bender has the sympathy of the entire community in his bereavement.

Mrs. Harold A. Harmon led the devotions, opening with the song, "Faith Of Our Fathers," and closing with "The Little Brown Church in the Vale." Miss Esther Tefft reported the new books and the worthwhile movies, after which the program was turned over to Mrs. T. Hugh Hanlen, who had as her subject, "Women of the Bible," taking only the women of the old testament, and making them living, breathing peoples, whom we will always remember, and of whom more will want to be learned. As Mrs. Hanlen told of these women, they were more interesting than fiction, and more real than many modern folk. Mrs. Hanlen had the entire interest of her listeners, who, now will anxiously await her talk on the women of the new testament. Mrs. Hanlen spent three years securing the material for her talks on this subject, and is well versed in the stories of the women of bible times.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Hoffman were made very happy a few days ago, when they had a telephone call from their son Henry, from New London, Conn. E. M. 3-c Henry Ivan Hoffman, is his official title, and he has been in the Panama Canal zone, since the latter part of February. As he has not had a furlough since in July 1942, hearing his voice was a great treat for his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Brandt, and their son Kenneth, visited at the home of Mr. Brandt's mother, Mrs. L. M. Brandt, in Elmwood, Sunday evening.

John and Ernest Norris, and Fred and Calvin Carsten were business visitors on the South Omaha markets, Monday.

One of the meanest tricks, of which we have heard lately, was that of a farmer east of town, who took some boys out to his watermelon patch, recently, and treated them to melon. A few nights after that his patch was raided, and his melons all stolen. We wonder if the loss of his melons had anything to do with the melons broken and left on Eldora Avenue, recently. The car out of which these melons were taken is well known in this vicinity.

Kane Frederickson, of Detroit, has been here the past week visiting his mother. He is employed by the City Power Co., at Detroit.

Mrs. Sterling Amick went to Omaha, Tuesday morning, to attend the national Legion convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norris were in Tecumseh one day last week, attending the wedding of a friend.

Mrs. Loren Mielke, of Denton, visited Friday and Saturday with her sister, Mrs. Nettie Amick, and with her nephew, Sterling Amick, and Mrs. Amick.

L. R. Hoback has bought the 40-acre farm, known as the Henry Cannady farm, but recently owned by M. N. Neilsen. Improvements are being made on the place, and Mr. and Mrs. Hoback expect to move there next spring. The farm is now rented by Sterling Hayes who will move to the farm owned by Miss Esther Sheldon, near the "O" street highway. Lynn Hoback, who lives on that farm, will move to the Wm. Maseman farm, near Avoca.

Mrs. A. E. Fisher has sold her home in the south part of town to John Baier of Avoca for his daughter, Mrs. Nichols.

Miss Eloise Pool and her friend, Miss Mary Strickland, both instructors in the Peru Normal, spent Sunday at the home of Miss Pool's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Pool.

Nebraska City apple orchards are attracting many of our people, these days. Apples are in great demand, even if they do sell at exorbitant prices. We have seen the time, during our stay in the state of Washington, when apples would bring only about 16 cents per box and they were large delicious apples, Roman Beauties, or Jonathan apples, too, and all hand picked.

Mr. Ole Olsen was taken quite ill, Sunday night, and was taken to Bryan Memorial hospital, Monday, when he underwent a major operation. Latest reports are that he is getting along as well as possible. His daughter, Miss Pauline Olsen, of Chicago, arrived at Lincoln Tuesday evening to be with her father during his illness.

Jack Philpot reports that they are made happy out there because of the fact that they have two miles of the highway running north and south on the west side of their farm and one mile running east and west on the south of their farm, regrettably, also new gravel on his own private driveways leading into his home.

Mrs. T. Hugh Hanlen arrived home Saturday after a three-weeks stay at Demming, N. M., where she was called by the death of her brother-in-law, Col. Chas. F. Sage, senior member of the governor's staff, Governor Dempsey, of New Mexico, and Governor Stevens, of Texas, attended the funeral, which was military in character. Owing to the fact that Mrs. Sage's son is a prisoner at Tai-man, Japan, where he was taken with Gen. Wainright, a member of his staff, the death of the father leaves the widow desolate.

Rev. W. D. Lenker went to Avoca, Tuesday evening, and gave a talk at the Father-Son banquet held at the Congregational church. Residents in the north part of town are rejoicing over the new water mains which have been laid as far as the Ed Freeman home. From there the S. L. Brandts will get water to their home. Mr. Brandt has been doing some grading and refilling in his yard all of which adds to the appearance and the comfort of their home. A new fire hydrant has been added in his part of town as well as one two blocks south of main street that is known as the Scenic Drive. These two districts have never had fire protection, and it is greatly appreciated.
