

Weeping Water

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marshall entertained at a dinner Thursday evening, honoring Major and Mrs. A. C. Petersen, who were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Shrauger, while enroute to Tyler, Minn., to visit relatives. Miss Doris Marshall, who is a senior at the University of Nebraska, was an out of town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunt, and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Pollard, Jr., of Seymore, Ia., and Mr. Louis Amick and daughter, Mariam, of St. Louis, went to Plattsmouth, Friday, where they were the dinner guests of Mrs. Minerva Coolman.

Workmen are busy digging ditches for water mains, which will carry city water to the homes of Frank Rooney and to the Glen Stratton homes.

Mrs. Frank Linder of Nehawka, was in Weeping Water Saturday evening. Mrs. Linder tells us that their daughters, known and Connie and Bonnie on the radio, are now given the names of the Sunbonnet Girls, and are singing at five in the morning and over the WLS station during the National Barn Dance hour each Saturday evening. Mrs. Linder is a sister of Arthur Brockman of Weeping Water.

Mrs. Alfred Nelson informs us that their son, Marvin, was at New Caledonia when they last heard from him.

Mrs. Joseph Feinhold, the former Miss Ina Johnson, who has been with her husband at Needles, Cal., writes that he has been transferred from Needles to Camp Polk, La., and that she has accompanied him there.

Those from Weeping Water attending the Eckstrom-Hunt wedding at Omaha, Saturday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carlsen, Miss Verna Borjesen, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hoback, Miss Matilda Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Henger, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Henger, Miss Joan Johnson, Mrs. Roy Ward Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murty.

Mrs. Joan Carter spent two days last week in Omaha. While there she visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn, and had dinner one evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sergeant.

Eckstrom-Hunt

At St. Paul's Methodist church at Omaha, Saturday afternoon, October 23, at 4:30 o'clock, Miss Ingrid Bernice Eckstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Eckstrom, became the bride of Major Marvin Louis Hunt, of the army air force, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Hunt of Weeping Water, with Dr. Allan K. Williams officiating at the impressive double ring ceremony, which took place in front of the altar which had a background of palms, and large bouquets of autumn colored mums, autumn leaves and ferns in tall baskets which were tied with bows of wide copper colored satin ribbon.

Mrs. Mildred Rush presided at the organ, and preceding the ceremony, Miss Pauline Darby sang "Because." The tall white tapers at the altar were lighted by Harry Eckstrom, brother of the bride, and LeRoy Eckstrom, cousin of the bride.

The bridegroom, his best man, Merritt Pollard, and the four ushers, Maj. Ernest C. Adcock, Capt. Martin H. Lerner, Capt. Marcus E. Cotter, and William A. Randall, and the pastor awaited the bride and her attendants at the altar. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a gown of white slipper satin, with long sleeves, sweetheart neckline and a girle of seed pearls. Her fingertip length veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white cushion mums and carnations.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Leonard Ridderhoff of Chicago, wore a gown of copper color taffeta and carried maroon colored mums tied with wide satin ribbon of a soft green shade. The four bridesmaids were Miss Gladys Sellers of Washington, D. C., Miss Patricia Kelley, Miss Lillian Soderberg, and Miss Evelyn Eckstrom, all of Omaha. They wore maroon colored taffeta gowns, with shoulder length veils of the same color, and carried copper colored mums, tied with the green satin ribbon.

The bride's mother wore copper colored crepe, with green sequins as trimming. The groom's mother wore a gown of crepe the color of pressed grapes, with sequin trimming.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the John C. Mercer Masonic Temple, followed by a dinner at which two hundred guests were served. Here, also, the autumn decorations were used, and the bride's table had as its centerpiece a three-tiered wedding cake, which was cut by the bride and groom, with a sword. This afterward was cut into pieces and presented to the guests as souvenirs.

During the dinner hour Mrs. George Turner of Omaha, and Miss Mariam Amick of St. Louis, presided at the piano, and other music was furnished by members of the bride's sorority, the Pi Omega Pi's of the University of Omaha. The groom attended the University of Nebraska before entering the army.

The happy couple left Saturday evening for a short honeymoon before returning to Washington, D. C., where Major Hunt is stationed with the headquarters of the Army Air Force. The bride expects to continue her work with the radio division of the navy department, at Washington. They will make their home in Arlington, Virginia.

Mrs. James McNamee

Lulu Montes McNamee, widow of James McNamee, was born Lulu Montes Grubb, in Ohio, November 21, 1863 and passed away October 26, 1943, at 4:30 A. M. in Weeping Water.

She was married to James McNamee in December, 1882, at Atkinson, Illinois, and shortly afterwards the young couple moved to Courtland, Nebraska. To this union were born six children, Arthur, Albert, Clyde, Mabel, Maude and Robert, who died in infancy. Mr. McNamee and one son, Clyde died in the year 1919, and another son, Arthur, in 1920.

The family came to Weeping Water in 1895, and have resided here continuously since that time. Mrs. McNamee was a life long member of the Methodist church and a charter member of Camp No. 4158 of the Royal Neighbors of America. She was a quiet home loving woman, whose kindly deeds were known to those who shared her friendship.

She leaves to mourn her passing: One son, Albert McNamee of Falls City; two daughters, Mrs. Henry Rugh of Weeping Water and Mrs. Maude Perrigue of Racine, Wis.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church, with Rev. W. D. Lenker officiating.

While riding along some of the side roads of our country recently, we could not help noticing the fall trees which are needed so badly for fuel this winter. Some of them have lain there for several years. It seems too bad to see them lie there going to waste, when fuel is so scarce.

Weeping Water will have a new business opened Monday morning, when the Hebard Implement company opens its doors in the building formerly known as the Ford Garage building, on west Main street. F. M. Hebard came to Weeping Water eight years ago, and was employed by the Nebraska Power and Light Company until recently, when he bought the Sudduth Produce Station, which he again sold to begin arrangements for opening this larger enterprise. As a hobby he has taken a keen interest in raising some fine livestock, also, and recently bought a home, which he has remodeled and modernized. The community welcomes people like Mr. Hebard, who are permanently located in our midst and who are interested in this community. We extend best wishes in advance, and our hopes that this new enterprise will be prosperous International Harvester line, with full line of equipment for repair work, will be their greatest interest.

While driving in the country Tuesday, Knud Jensen and Lester Shrader had a collision at the intersection five miles east, and one mile north of Weeping Water. We have been unable to get the full particulars, but from Mrs. Jensen we learned that Mr. Jensen has two broken ribs and that he had a cut on the top of his head which had to have some stitches taken, and that he was suffering and very uncomfortable Wednesday morning.

Mrs. James McNamee passed away Monday evening at Rest Haven, where she has been for several months. Funeral arrangements are not yet complete as word is awaited from relatives at a distance. Mrs. McNamee has been in poor health for several years and was moved to Rest Haven so that she might have better care. We will give her obituary later.

Mrs. F. M. Hebard received a letter from her brother, Gale Scoville, Seabee, from the South Pacific, where he said that he was writing by lantern light and fighting bugs.

Mrs. J. M. Ranney returned Monday evening from Walthill, where she visited her daughter, Mrs. Sam Lingo, and family, since Thursday. Word has come to friends here that Mrs. Fred Gorder, who went to Grand Island to visit, has gone on to Denver to visit her brother, and that she expects to return home about the seventh of November.

Going to Lincoln Wednesday to attend the state convention of the W.C.T.U., were Mrs. W. D. Lenker, Mrs. J. W. Wiseman, Mrs. Carl Oldham and Mrs. Troy Jewell.
