Speech Clinics Growing in Interest

In spite of the rain Saturday morning, there was a good attendance at the speech clinic held at the Weeping Water high school building. Dr. Lasse was unable to be present so he sent Miss Jeanette Frazier, who has charge of speech testing and training for the junior division at the University of Nebraska. The meetings last from nine o'clock to twelve. The first hour is used as an instruction or lecture hour by the leader, which usually is Dr. Lasse of the University of Nebraska. The second hour is class room work for the children who are attending the clinic. Each has his own individual instructor. From 11 until 12 teachers and leader hold a clinic, when questions are asked and answered, and suggestions made for methods to be used in specific cases. This was the fourth in a series of 15 meetings, which are under the supervision of the state chairman of the Crippled Children's Association, Mr. Orsen Perkins, and the county chairman, Mrs. Evelyn Franks of Cedar Creek. This association is providing funds for these clinics. The money which is raised by the selling of seals at Easter time helps to provide them also, although they are partially self-supporting.

So far sixteen children have enrolled at the present clinic, and sixteen teachers and parents are enrolled for this off the campus course, for which those who are taking the full time course, will get three hours credit at the University of Nebraska. Other clinics will be held in the county, later. Teachers and parents who are enrolled for this course are: Mrs. Lora Lloyd Keick, Plattsmouth; Mrs. Evelyn Franke, Cedar Creek; Mrs. Doris Tritsch, Dist. 91; Miss Elvina Hammer, Dist. 81; Mrs. Leta Tyner, Dist. 77; G. Wayne Daugherty, Manley; Mrs. Leona Reed, Murray; Miss Olive Horning, Murray; Mrs. James Kivett, Mount Hope; Mrs. Guy Hinds, Center Valley; Mrs. George Bruner, Mrs. Reuben Paap, Miss Clista Schlenker, Mrs. Neil Munkres, all of Weeping Water; Mrs. Lois Teft, Avoca; Mrs. W. D. Lenker and Mrs. Carl Recker have been chosen as classroom supervisors while the clinics are being held.

This work is new and few understand its great need. Many people go through life handicapped by a speech defect which might have been corrected when they were young, had their teacher been prepared to understand their case. These clinics will prove to be of great benefit, in future years, to our young people.

Mrs. Hazel Love left Monday for her home at West Palm Beach, Fla., after a three weeks visit with her mother, Mrs. Ernest Jamesen, and her brother, Ray Jamesen. Mrs. George Bruner (Donna Baker) tells us that she received her first letter for six weeks from her husband, Capt. George Bruner, last week. He has left the United States and is somewhere across the Atlantic.

Owen Stoner, son of the late Ernest Stoner, has just completed his furlough, which he spent with his wife in Omaha, and has returned to duty as a merchant marine. When here he had just returned from a South American trip.

Miss Leta Brown of Kearney, visited at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fauquet, over the week end.

We are very happy to say that Harold Myers, who has been ill in Bryan Memorial, for the past six weeks, is improving and that if he continues to improve as rapidly in the next few days he will soon be able to return home again.

Weeping Water Welfare club held their November meeting in the basement of the M. E. church, Monday afternoon, when officers were elected for the coming year, and one comfort was tied while others were working on comfort tops. Hostesses for this meeting were Mrs. Tom Colbert, Mrs. J. M. Mendenhall, Mrs. A. J. Lowther and Mrs. Fleischman. Newly elected officers are: President—Mrs. Mogens Johnson; Vice-president—Mrs. Tom Colbert; Sec'y—Mrs. William Lorenzen; Treas.—Mrs. Wilson Bickford.

Mrs. J. M. Mendenhall came from Elmwood to act as one of the hostesses at the Welfare club, of which she was a member while living in Weeping Water.

Lestie Phillips had the bad luck to fall and fracture his collar bone, while at a Halloween party, which was being held round a camp fire in Wolcott's pasture, Friday evening. David Stratton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Stratton, was giving the party. Lestie stepped backwards and fell over a bank. Fortunately Mr. and Mrs. Stratton were there to take him to a doctor immediately for first aid, after which he was taken to Nebraska City.

Miss Margaret Baker, is here to spend the week with her mother, Mrs. Vesta Baker. Margaret is employed in a defense plant at Rock Island, Ill.

Halloween proved to be unfortunate for Mrs. J. F. Grow also. She had lighted a Jack-o-lantern and placed it in her apartment window. In some way the curtain was set on fire. The fire department was called but the fire was soon extinguished, with little damage done.

Two happier occasions for the younger people of the community were a party Saturday evening given by Mrs. Herbert Ambler for her daughter Carol, when fourteen little girls were invited. The evening was spent playing games, and as one small girl said, "We had some good things to eat, too." Then Sunday evening Mrs. Ben Olive invited sixteen of Benjie's friends in for a Halloween party. They bobbed for apples, pinned tails on a black cat, and had lots of fun. And, of course, all had horns to blow. Everyone reports the finest kind of a time.

Mrs. Thomas Coppinger and two children, Myrlen and Joyce, came down from Lincoln last Wednesday and remained until Saturday evening, when Mr. Coppinger drove down and took them home. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ambler, went to Lincoln with them and remained until Sunday evening, when they returned home.

Mrs. Ralph Keckler, Mrs. Owen Welch, Mrs. Harold Harmon and Mrs. Thomas Stacey spent Monday in Lincoln.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank Snow were in Lincoln Monday when Rev. Snow attended a ministerial conference.

We regret to report that Mr. Ben Leffler has been quite ill. His condition has not improved as it had been hoped that it would.

Mrs. Leo Switzer of Nehawka, was a Weeping Water visitor Saturday.

Miss Kathryn Ellis and Mrs. Bonnie Laktue were in Lincoln attending the state Teachers association Friday. They were accompanied by their mother, Mrs. George Ellis, who spent the day shopping.

Mrs. Edward Dowler and daughter, Ruth, of Omaha, were here from Omaha and spent the vacation caused by the state teachers association, at the home of Mrs. Dowler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Root and son, Jimmy, spent the week end with relatives at Central City.

Weeping Water Woman's Club

Weeping Water Woman's club had a real treat Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. Joe Bender reviewed the non-fiction book, "George Washington Carver." Mrs. Bender is well known in club circles as a member who always brings something good to her audience, and in this review she proved her ability to get out of the book what the author intended, but also to be able to tell it to her listeners, who will always remember George Washington Carver, scientist, painter and musician. Preceding her review, Mrs. Mogens Johnson led in the devotions. The meeting closed with a repetition of Joy Ann Lenker's reading, which she gave at the Sunset service, "Just Like Mother," and a solo by Victor Wallick.

Miss Pauline Patterson is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Bender at Big Springs, Texas.

Sgt. Ivan Baker, who has been attending a photo school at Lowery Field, Denver, is enjoying a furlough at the home of his mother, Mrs. Vesta Baker. His sister, Miss Margaret Baker arrived here from Rock Island, Illinois, the same day, so they are enjoying a fine reunion. Sgt. Baker is being sent back to Abilene, Texas, after his furlough closes, Nov. 10. Tuesday Mrs. Baker, Sgt. Baker and Margaret went to Lincoln to visit with Mrs. Baker's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Johnson.

Tuesday evening a group of O. E. S. members went to Elmwood to attend
