

Jap Government Thought Back Of Camp Outbreaks

Short Wave Radio Messages From Tokyo to Internees May Have Caused Outbreaks

Washington, Dec. 1. (UP)—Rep. John M. Costello, D., Calif., said today there was evidence to suggest that recent disturbances in the Tule Lake, Calif., Japanese Relocation center were "inspired" by the Japanese government and touched off by short-wave radio messages from Tokyo to pro-Japanese internees.

Costello, chairman of a Dies subcommittee investigating the disorders, said the inquiry had indicated the riots were inspired in Tokyo "to make the American government look bad" and that the committee had received reports that leaders of the outbreaks were in radio contact with Tokyo.

He said residents in the camp area reported that Japanese-language broadcasts had interfered with their reception of long-wave radio programs during the period immediately preceding the disturbances, and that explanations offered by the spokesmen for the internees were "unsatisfactory."

After the army moved troops into the camp to prevent further outbreaks, he said, the radio interference was no longer heard. The FBI is investigating reports that at least two short-wave sending sets were located in the Tule Lake area, he declared.

WOULD BURN OUT IN-LAWS

Los Angeles, Dec. 1. (UP)—Basil LaVerne Mark, 40, tried to burn his house down to make his in-laws move, and today he faced arson charges.

When he came home from work Thanksgiving day, Mark said, he found his wife's mother and father had moved in and that he was expected to sleep on a couch.

Mark wanted to set fires all over the house he said, but he ran out of matches after firing three window curtains. Damage was small.

Our boys must keep on fighting—we must keep on buying WAR BONDS until victory is won. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

U. S. Bombers Active

London, Dec. 1. (UP)—Heavy bombers of the U. S. Eighth air force carried the record allied offensive against Europe into a new month today by attacking western Germany for the third straight day, again striking in the wake of British mosquito raiders.

U. S. medium bombers escorted by Royal Air Force, Dominion and allied Spitfires, also joined in the two-way American daylight blast, bombing German airfields in northern France.

Watchers on the English south-east coast said: Big formations of the Eighth U. S. air force heavyweights swept out across the English channel to inaugurate the December air offensive. Raider part of the formation flew over London on the return journey.

Yesterday Flying Fortresses raided the Rhineland steel center of Solingen east of Dusseldorf and Monday they bombed Bremen.

The twin-engined British Mosquitos attacked west Germany last night for the third night in a row, while the RAF's four-engined bombers remained on the ground, a waiting signal for a new assault such as that which wiped out a third of Berlin in the nine days ended last Friday.

In London air minister Sir Archibald Sinclair announced today that the RAF dropped approximately 13,000 tons of bombs on Germany during November compared with 120 tons dropped by Nazi planes on Britain during the same period.

Receives Promotion

The many friends here of Joseph A. Graves, who has been a corporal in the air corps, will be pleased to learn that he has been advanced to the grade of sergeant in the corps. He is now stationed at Langley Field, Virginia, where he is completing his advanced work in the service.

Back From Pacific

Mrs. Theodore Yelick of this city has received word that her brother, James Ptacek, Jr., formerly of this city, who has been for the past two years in the army in the southwest Pacific, is now back in the states. He has arrived at San Francisco, a message to his parents in Chicago states.

Chinese Worst Japs

Chungking, Dec. 1. (UP)—Chinese troops have driven the Japanese from Changteh after forty hours of hand to hand street fighting and have caught the invaders in a death trap outside the gates of the walled city, a communique said today.

Two attacking Japanese columns which broke into the north and east gates of Changteh late Monday were thrown back through the north gate this morning, the communique said.

Chinese troops swarmed out of the town in pursuit of the enemy while two other Chinese columns moved in on Changteh from the north and east, pinning the Japanese into a narrow pocket.

American and Chinese planes supported the Changteh garrison throughout the street battle and it was indicated that they had joined in the attack on the cornered Japanese forces.

Here from Iowa

W. A. Bennett of Malvern, Iowa, where he is connected with the utility company at that place, was in the city today looking after business matters and visiting old friends.

Gapen-Nicholson

In a very charming candlelight wedding at the Dundee Presbyterian church, Omaha, on Sunday, Miss Helene Gapen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gapen of this city, became the bride of John H. Nicholson of Omaha.

The wedding was celebrated at 5 o'clock by Dr. Elwood Rowsey, the pastor of the church in the presence of a number of relatives and close friends.

The bride wore a gold colored sheer dress with accessories of brown. Her flowers were white gardenias.

The bridal couple were unattended.

Wedding music was played by the organist of the church during the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson are to make their home on Omaha after a week's honeymoon in Chicago.

The bride is a Plattsmouth girl, having grown to womanhood here, but in the recent years has been located at Omaha, being assistant credit manager of the Goldstein-Chapman company for several years and at this time has been in the office at the Martin Bomber plant at Fort Crook. The groom is active in the business life of Omaha and is engaged in business at 717-719 So. 16th St.

Those attending the wedding from this city were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gapen, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wiles, Mrs. Oscar Gapen, Jr., Dick and Lois, Mrs. J. S. Gapen, and Mrs. S. C. Hyatt of Hyattville, Wyoming, Mrs. George Snyder and daughter, Ann, of Omaha.

Cut Points of Many Articles

Washington, Dec. 1. (UP)—The Office of Price Administration today announced reductions in meat point values to give consumers approximately 30 per cent more in December than they had in November, but left the ration point value of butter unchanged, and increased the value of cheese and most canned fish.

OPA also announced that all citrus juices, canned sauerkraut and ready to serve soups will be sold ration free in December. The new table for point values for processed foods effective Sunday, Dec. 5th, showed only three items raised in point values—tomato soups and the two tomato sauces. Canned beans, pork and beans, carrots, spinach, dry frozen beans, and certain other fruits and vegetables were cut from one to ten points.

Transport Plane Wing

Deputy Sheriff Emery Doody was busy this morning in assisting the state highway patrol in escorting a truck and its cargo through the county. The cargo was a large wing from a four-motor plane and was being transported from Fort Crook to the Lincoln air base. The wing was so large that it required the clearing of the streets and highways through which it passed.

OBITUARY

Mrs. John H. Osborne

Miss Hattie Florence Shepard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Shepard, was born in Washington County, Missouri, Jan. 3, 1854, and passed away at her home in Bolivar, Mo., Oct. 6, 1943, at 5:30 p. m. at the age of 89 years, 9 months and 3 days.

She was married to John Harden Osborne, Jan. 4, 1887. To this union were born ten children, six daughters and four sons.

She was converted when about twenty years of age and joined the Mt. Olive Baptist church of Benton County, Missouri.

When about eight years of age Mrs. Osborne moved from Washington county to Pettis county, Mo. After her marriage she moved to Benton county, Missouri, and lived there until 1887, when they moved to Polk county, Missouri, where she spent the remainder of her life. In April, 1943, they sold their farm near Fair Play, and bought property in Bolivar, moving there in April, 1943.

Mrs. Osborne had been in failing health the past six weeks. Her loving companion, children, neighbors and friends did everything they could for her, but God saw fit to call her home to rest. She left this world with a smile on her face, calling to Jesus.

She will be greatly missed by her family and friends. Mother's place in the home can never be filled but we know she is at rest from her sorrow and suffering.

She leaves to mourn her passing her loving companion, John H. Osborne; her children, Mrs. Belle Edwards of Fair Play, Mrs. Horace Eaves and Mrs. Oren Kinder of Bolivar, Miss Ethel Osborne of the home, Mrs. Horace Griffin of Union, Nebr., and Charlie Osborne of Anthon, Iowa; one brother, George Shepard of Arkansas, thirty-five grandchildren, thirty-two great-grandchildren, three great-great-grandchildren, and a host of other relatives and friends. Three sons, Allie, Jim and Sherm, and one daughter preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held at Barren Creek church Friday, Oct. 8, 1943, at 2:30 p. m., with the Rev. Lewis Mead officiating, assisted by the Rev. Lee Penny. Interment was the Barren Creek Cemetery under the direction of the Erwin & Blue Funeral Home of Bolivar.

Recovering from Injury

Janis, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Jones, who was injured in a fall from her bed, is reported as doing very nicely. The child suffered the fracture of the right collar bone and it was necessary to have the arm in a sling for a time.

What would the Etiquette Book say?

"Finishing gravy with a breadcrust... picking up chicken bones to enjoy the last delicious morsel—these are merely expressions of good judgment in these times. Food has become a mighty weapon of war. As always, perfect etiquette is nothing more or less than good sense tempered with good taste."

Mrs. Oliver Harriman, author of "BOOK OF ETIQUETTE"

Why the time has come to take a new look at our FOOD in relation to the war. Everything from manners to menus is involved. And it's really up to you!

Maybe you think a dab of gravy and a fleck of chicken are mighty little things. But they are a part of our total food. They stand for the greatest single weapon in the war.

Putting it plainly: There is not enough food available in this country to satisfy all the wartime demands at home and abroad—in spite of food production records that have grown and grown for 6 consecutive years.

Every single crumb of food has become important. What you waste—someone wants!

Here's Food's Job

1. Out of our total food supply, we must be sure there's enough to feed millions of our sons who are a long way from home. Many of the foods we like best are the foods our fighting men need most. Meat is one of them. And butter and fats. And milk products. And canned goods.

A fighting man eats as much in 2 meals as a civilian eats in 3. But no one begrudges him his appetite. The vast stores of food which must be set aside for shipment to our armed forces would feed the entire nation for 10 whole days. But no one has been called upon to miss a single meal at home.

2. There must be enough food to keep a busy nation well-nourished and fit. That is a big job today. Because people who are head-over-heels in war work have bigger appetites and more money to spend on food.

In fact most of the extra dollars that are being earned by millions of war workers are rushing into our food stores. That's because there are no automobiles, refrigerators and other everyday products to buy. Hence, control of prices to hold the cost of food within the reach of all.

Without rationing of the country's most popular foods—first come would be served all of available stocks. Long lines of people would be left waiting for foods that would be chronically sold out.

3. And the food that is not needed for Americans—at home and abroad—is used to fight a special kind of battle for us.

It is sent to the Russians who are fighting our enemies. They need food desperately because the Axis has hit them hard in the bread basket.

It is sent to our English Allies who can't possibly produce enough food for 46 million people in a country no bigger than our State of Oregon. (Canada sends England much food, but our food also is needed to help keep England going at top war speed.)

It is sent to feed the people who are liberated from Axis oppression every time the United Nations win a new victory.

This food is fighting, just as our planes and guns and tanks fight. It is helping the people on our side to shorten the war and save American lives.

The food we now send on Lend-Lease amounts to only 10% of our total supply. It is an investment in Victory.

As Americans, we have become used to plenty. We now must learn to be careful of food. Every day we still waste almost as much food as we send to our fighting Allies.

Right now is the time to change that. Respect food. Make the most of every crumb. Do everything in your power to make FOOD FIGHT FOR FREEDOM!

Here's YOUR Job!

1. PRODUCE FOOD, where and when you can. Farmers are urged to meet farm goals. City families are urged to plan a bigger Victory Garden, to help out on a farm or in a food processing plant if possible.

2. CONSERVE FOOD. Can and preserve food. Cut waste. Stretch your food supply by substituting plentiful for scarce foods. Balance your meals for good nutrition.

3. SHARE FOOD. Put the war's food demands first. Share the supplies willingly with your armed forces, your Allies, your neighbors.

4. PLAY SQUARE WITH FOOD. Accept no rationed foods without giving up ration stamps. Pay no more than top legal prices under any circumstances.
