Feeders' Day Program

Determined to be ready to meet the problems of post war adjustment Cass county town and farm women will participate in a panel discussion on "Post War Planning—It's Possibilities and Problems," as a part of the Feeders' Day program, February 23rd.

Sponsors of the meeting believe that the road back to peace time living will be much easier to travel if the citizens of the country know what they will have to face. The meeting, set for 2:30 P. M. is open to the public. Mr. N. W. Gaines, Extension Specialist will be present to assist with the panel.

Other members for the women's section include: an illustrated talk "Curtain Calls" by Mrs. Helen Fucny Nelson, Dodge County Home Demonstration Agent and, "General Outlook for Home Preservation" by Miss Ruth Mencher Home Advisor of the Consumers Public Power District, Lincoln.

Town as well as rural folk should plan now to save Wednesday, February 23rd for the 4-H annual Feeders' Day meeting for Cass County.

Breeding Program Meets With Favor

Practically every farmer out of a group of about 50 attending a meeting Thursday, signed contracts last week to obtain artificial insemination for their dairy herds. The cost is $5.00 for a three year membership in the association and $5.00 per cow to be paid in advance each year.

Service will be available for Holstein, Guernsey and Jersey herds in Cass County. Before the work can be started 300 cows of any one of the breeds must be under contract. There are about 200 Holstein and an equal number of Guernsey signed up now. If possible the work will be started March first.

A number have shown interest in milking shorthorns. Probably 600 cows of this breed will be required since bulls of this breed will need to be purchased.

Semen of the Holstein, Jersey and Guernsey breeds is available from the Dairy Department of the University of Nebraska. A few advantages of the program outlined by M. N. Lauritsen, Extension dairyman, and George Trimmerger of the University of Nebraska Dairy department included: 1. Better sires at a lower cost. 2. Would eliminate the danger and cost of having a bull on the place. 3. Fewer stunted heifers through premature breeding. 4. Would minimize the spread of some infectious diseases, and 5. would permit producers with more than one breed to continue a good breeding program at a minimum cost.

As soon as enough contracts are signed to start the work an organization meeting will be held at which time officers will be elected. Those interested should notify this office of the number of breed of cows they have.

4-H Timely Topic Speaking Contest

The county 4-H public speaking contest is to be held as a part of the Feeders' Day program. 4-H members interested in entering should contact the Extension agents at once to arrange for a place on the program. Remember the two rules. Time—eight minutes. Subject—any subject related to timely topics of 4-H interest.

Richard Cole, Chairman of 4-H County Committee

Richard Cole, Plattsmouth and Mrs. G. R. Eveland of Elmwood were elected to serve for a two year term, as chairman and vice chairman respectively of the Cass County 4-H Committee. Other members of the executive board include: Miss Evelyn Wolph, Nehawka, Sec'y and Mrs. John Reike, Weeping Water and Mr. H. E. Iske, Plattsmouth.

The above election plus drawing up the 4-H program for the year were major activities at a meeting of eighteen men and women representing the various precincts of the county. The County Committee is made up of one man and one woman from each precinct interested in promoting 4-H work within their community. Mr. L. I. Frisbie, state 4-H club leader added inspiration to the meeting as he discussed the advantages to members and the possibilities and satisfactions to committees as sponsors of such a worthwhile movement.

Boy Scout Week Points To Work Of Organization

Nation Wide Movement to Make Public Acquainted With the Scouting Work

Boy Scouts and adult leaders of the Cornhusker Council with headquarters in Lincoln join with other members of the movement throughout the United States in the celebration of Boy Scout Week which opened Tuesday and continues thru Monday, February 14.

Boy Scout Week marks the 34th anniversary of the founding of the movement in America. Since Feb. 8, 1910, more than 11,400,000 men and boys have been actively identified with Scouting. The present-day enrollment is in excess of 1,575,000 Scouts, Cubs and adult volunteer leaders.

The birthday will be observed in every city and town in the nation and in hundreds of villages and hamlets as well.

Boy Scouts and Cubs are having the busiest time of their lives. In addition to taking part in the normal programs of their Troops, Packs and Senior Units, they have participated in forty-five war service projects on request of Government agencies.

In their first waste paper collection two years ago Boy Scouts and Cubs brought in 122,000 tons or nearly one-fourth of the paper collected. Scouts and Cubs are now busy in their second great drive, at the request of Donald M. Nelson, chairman of War Production Board, who asked them to salvage wastepaper "in order to keep mills running at full capacity."

Brooder House Fires

With a good many farmers starting fires in their brooder houses, they are warned of the danger of brooder house fires.

Every year, there have been too many brooder houses go up in smoke. Last year, Nebraska farmers lost 75 brooder houses, and a similar number were destroyed in 1942. That means that a lot of baby chicks and poultry equipment are destroyed every year.

Suggestions by the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture poultry husbandry department to keep down the number of brooder house fires are:

1. Have buildings and equipment in first-class condition when the time comes to use them.
2. Avoid leaky feed lines on oil burners, unreliable regulating devices, faulty electrical appliances, carelessness in attending coal and wood fires, sooty flues and chimneys and uncontrolled drafts.
3. See that lamps and lanterns are securely fastened so that chickens will not knock them over.
4. Place brooder houses at a safe distance from other buildings.

Soybeans As A Food

Home Demonstration project club members in Cass county are going to learn to utilize America's newest protein crop next month, when they take up a discussion and demonstration of "Soybeans as Food." To prepare for the demonstrations, club leaders will hold their usual demonstrations during the weeks of February 7th and 14th.

At the meetings, women will demonstrate the use of field and garden soybeans whether they are green, dry sprouts, flour or grits. They will also discuss the varieties of garden soybeans recommended for spring planting.

Soybeans are valuable because they are a protein rich food. They may be used as extenders to make foods like meat and eggs go farther.

Dry Weather Insurance

With a dry winter season, and speculation on another one next year currently in the air, Prof. Wm. J. Loeffel, chairman of the department of Animal Husbandry, at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, this week urged Cass county farmers to grow forage sorghums as dry weather insurance.

"With our livestock number up to present levels," he said, "we cannot afford to gamble on our feed supply. Therefore, I think we should all plan to put in some sorghum next spring."

He pointed out that this is a good time to be locating seed supplies, as many seeds are scarce this year, and should be secured long in advance of need.

Every Bond You Buy Makes the Axis Cry

collected 7 tons of waste paper. It was announced by Dwight Edwards, who is chairman. Waste paper is used in producing such items as shell casings, bomb rings, grommets, ammunition chests, supply and flare parachutes and many containers which carry food, medical supplies and military equipment to the armed forces.

More than 315,000 Boy Scouts have qualified as Dispatch Bearers for the Office of War Information. They carry official identification cards signed by Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information and Elbert K. Fretwell, chief Scout executive. The cards bear a signed letter from President Roosevelt saying that their tasks is "to carry to the people of your community vital information prepared by our government" and that "it is information which our civilians must have as we fight on to final victory."

Since March 1, 1943 the Boy Scout Dispatch Bearers have distributed and placed in public places a total of 15,513,375 government posters and 35,000,000 other pieces of literature. Last week they put up the Economic Stabilization poster and the first of the Security of War Information posters. Next week they will place posters dealing with the Women Marine Corps and a second Security of War Information poster.

Elmer Davis, in a letter to the Boy Scouts, a few days ago, pays the following tribute to their work:

"During the past year the Boy Scouts of America have served most efficiently as Official Government Dispatch Bearers for the Office of War Information. As in the first World War, the Boy Scouts have again answered their country's call in this war to help in bringing messages of vital importance to the home front.

"As the Boy Scout movement observes its thirty-fourth anniversary during Boy Scout Week—February 8 to 14—we extend to every member our appreciation not only for the fine record of former Boy Scouts serving with the armed forces but also for the record of patriotic service on the home front of today's Boy Scouts."

Reject Senate Bill

Washington, Feb. 9. (UP)—The House today rejected the senate's federal ballot amendments to the soldier vote bill and sent the disputed legislation to conference for attempt at some form of settlement.

The action, by voice vote, had been predicted inasmuch as the House last Tuesday rejected by vote of 215 to 164 an attempt to write a federal ballot provision into the states right bill which is subsequently passed.

In view of that House margin against federal ballots, the House conferees were expected to stand steadfast against the senate's efforts to incorporate such a system into the bill.

Must have Run-off Election

The result of the election held at the Glean Martin bombing plant at Fort Crook was such that it will be necessary to have a run off election to settle the question of the bargaining agent of the workers of the plant covering the production and maintenance workers unit.

In a separate balloting, carpenters and wood workers and heating and ventilating engineers chose AF of L, while the plant protection group selected the UAW-CIO as the bargaining agency.

Comprising a majority of the plant's employees, the maintenance and production workers voted 45.3 per cent in favor of the CIO and 37 per cent for the AF of L.
