Given Pleasant Surprise

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Maisinger, residing west of the city, were given a very pleasant surprise by the neighbors and old friends on the occasion of their forty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The neighbors and friends had arranged the affair and the guests of bonor were unaware of the "plot" until the party arrived to take the Meisinger home by surprise.

The evening was spent in games of various kinds that served to entertain the party until a late hour. In honor of the anniversary, Mr
