Larger Production of Meat

Slightly larger production of most all classes of meat last week raised total production in federally inspected plants 1 percent from the preceding week, the War Meat Board reported today. Most of this small increase was in pork, and reflected the heavier receipts of hogs at midwestern markets during the past week.

Total production of 394 million pounds of meat represented an increase of 4 million pounds. Pork accounted for 245 million pounds of the total output. Although this output of pork was 2 million pounds over that of the preceding week, it was 25 million pounds less than the record production of 270 million pounds during the week ended January 29, when hog receipts and slaughter reached their peak. Estimated production of 125 million pounds of beef last week was up to 1 million pounds from the preceding week. Output of veal amounting to 10 million pounds was up 1 million. Production of 14 million pounds of lamb and mutton showed little change from the output of the previous week. The number of animals slaughtered under federal inspection last week totaled 240 thousand cattle, 108 thousand calves, 1,726,000 hogs and 331,000 sheep and lambs. These figures compare with 240 thousand cattle, 93 thousand calves, 1,712,000 hogs and 351,000 sheep the preceding week.
