Will Conduct Air Force Reserve Examinations

Will Be Given Cass County Youth At The Plattsmouth School Monday, October 2nd

Qualifying mental examinations for army programs open to young men as enlisted reservists will be given at Plattsmouth High school on Monday (Oct. 2) to Cass county youths by an Army Air Force Examining Board from army recruiting headquarters in Omaha, Neb.

The board will be headed by Lieut. I. J. Brown, recorder of the Omaha Army Air Forces Examining Board. Lieutenant Brown will speak to youths at Plattsmouth High school at 11 a. m. on Monday morning (Oct. 2) outlining the army programs open to young men of 17. At 1 p. m. that afternoon, the board will give the qualifying mental examinations for the ACER and ASTRP programs to interested youths at Plattsmouth High.

Youths attending high schools at Alvo Consolidated, Avoca, Eagle Consolidated, Elmwood, Greenwood, Louisville, Murdock Consolidated, Nehawka Consolidated, Union and Weeping Water have been invited to take tests at Plattsmouth High. Arrangements for the meeting and the tests are being completed by the Plattsmouth High superintendent.

Briefly, the following opportunities are open to young men of 17:

1. Air Corps Enlisted Reserve. Applicants must be 17 but under 18 years of age on date of enlistment for the Air Combat Crew training as gunners, bombardiers, pilots and navigators. These future Army fliers are called for training after they become 18. If in school on their 18th birthday, they may be authorized a delay in call until the end of the term.

2. Army Specialized Training Reserve. This is a pre-induction college study program. It requires that applicants must be 17 but not over 17 years and 8 months of age on date of mental examination and also must be graduated from high school before reaching 17 years and 9 months of age. The college study, in terms of 12 weeks each, is given at leading colleges and universities with tuition, textbooks, medical care, clothing, transportation, board and lodging at military expense. The sooner a youth can qualify after becoming 17, the more college study he gets as his college ASTRP training continues until age 18.

3. Air Corps Enlisted Reserve plus ASTRP. This is a new feature of the Air Corps program in which Air Corps reservists, if they are under 17 years and 8 months of age on date they enlisted, and will graduate from high school before reaching age 17 years and 9 months, attend college as ASTRP students before flight training.

A youth may determine for which program he qualifies by taking the scheduled mental examinations. If not qualified for any of the programs, he may enlist in the Enlisted Reserve Corps Unassigned and will be called to active duty after reaching 18, but if in school at that age he can be deferred to complete the term.

Inspect Water Plant

The Rotarians Tuesday at the close of the weekly luncheon took a journey to the pumping plant of the water system of the city, north of the Burlington passenger station.

The club making a study of the home industries and institutions and just recently visited the BRES shops to see the manufacture of the refrigerator cars and the trip Tuesday was to see the operation of the water plant.

The members were conducted through the station by F. I. Rea, chairman of the board of public works and E. H. Bernhardt, the secretary of the board. Orville Nielsen was the program chairman.

The visit was a revelation to many of the members of the club as they inspected the operation of the pumps that draw the water from the well and carries it through the processing plant where the iron and manganese is cleared by air and then to the settling basin and the stand pipe, located on the hill west of the plant. The job of providing the water supply for industries and family consumption of the city of Plattsmouth is a large one as the members realized after witnessing the plant operation.

The members also saw the preparation that is under way for the extension of electric lines to the plant for future electrification of the pumping system.

Now in Hospital

Plattsmouth friends will regret to learn that George M. Hild, former resident of this city, is now at the St. Joseph hospital at Omaha, he being taken there the last of the week. Mr. Hild was threatened with pneumonia but is some better now. Not being in the best of health in recent years the attack was one that caused much apprehension for several days.

Showing Improvement

Mrs. Frank M. Rice, who was operated on at the Methodist hospital in Omaha the past week, is now doing very well and her progress at the hospital very pleasing. Mrs. Rice has suffered from gall bladder trouble for some time and it is hoped will now be restored to her former good health.

Return from Falls City

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herbster returned home Tuesday afternoon from Falls City where they have been spending the past few days at the homes of the brothers of Mr. Herbster, R. C. and E. Herbster. The occasion of the visit was the fact that a nephew of Mr. Herbster, Frank, was home from the navy on a leave. He has been in service in many parts of the world as a member of the crew of the battleship Nevada.

Symbols for Headbands

We met at the home of Mary Reed. We tried to combine symbols to make our headbands. Mary served delicious refreshments and we then adjourned.

Our boys must keep on fighting—we must keep on buying WAR BONDS until victory is won. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

What V-Day Means To The American Legion

These are not views of any one individual or Post but represent the views of the entire organization as expressed by our National Adjutant Donald G. Glascoff.

Fully realizing the possibility of being branded as "a wet blanket," the Legion feels that the defeat and surrender of Germany does not spell victory. Japan must still be defeated. The Japanese fight with a religious, fanatic zeal which knows no surrender and as long as war continues in that theatre American men will die, regardless of how and when the end comes in the European theatre.

We believe that undue boisterousness on this day will constitute an affront to the families of America's young men who likewise on that day will be fighting and dying in the far Pacific.

While endorsing the idea of celebrating the defeat of Germany we believe that an such celebration should be in the nature of a thanksgiving and memorial to those men who made the victory possible and a rededication on the part of the people of the United States to the tasks which still are before them; the unconditional surrender of the Japanese.

Make it a day of dedication—a "D-Day" of particular significance; dedicated to give all out support to the armed forces, to remain on the job until final victory, dedicated to the principles for which our men and women have given their lives; and to maintenance of America as an institution of Liberty, Equality and Decency, dedicated to God and Country.

what is America Fighting For?

Equal Opportunity for All!

(One of the Essentials of a Democracy)

Deep in the breast of every American boy flames the light of hope and ambition. Equal opportunity to "make his mark" is one of the many American principles our country will ever fight to protect.

American fathers have shown their sons that—in our country—individual initiative has brought success time and again. Throughout our country's history, the thousands of great Americans, who, by their own efforts, raised themselves high in America's state, professional and business life repeatedly illustrate this truth. In America—as nowhere else—every boy, rich or poor, has that cherished privilege of making his life worth while in the field of endeavor he chooses!

Equal opportunity for all . . . the American ideal of free enterprise . . . the American way of life! Those things have made America great. Those principles will see America through to Victory!
