Cass County Farm Bureau Notes

Copy furnished from Office of County Agent Waldo.

Brome-grass Promotion

Farmers over the United States are now learning more about Nebraska's ability to produce high quality brome-grass seed!

Samples of Nebraska certified Lincoln brome-grass are now going to every state in the Union. They were put up in cellophane bags last week and distributed to the Nat'l County Agents Association meeting in Chicago. Each sample contained four ounces of the Lincoln seed and was labeled with a Nebraska certified seed tag and carried the Nebraska Crop Improvement Association seal.

Cass county is one of the leading counties in seed production.

Soybean Seed
Farmers in Cass county who want to buy some of the new certified soybean seed for 1945 planting are going to have to hurry.

One third of the initial supply of 1200 bushels of this certified seed produced by the Nebraska Crop Improvement Association has now been sold. This leaves only 800 bushels still available to farmers and it will be held until February 1.

Farmers interested in the seed can get all of the information about it from their County Agent.

A Christmas Candy

Sugar supplies will continue short this winter, but if the family wants to make a little Christmas candy, try this recipe.

Peanut Clusters: Mix together 1/2 c. dark corn syrup, 1/4 c. molasses, dark corn syrup, 1/4 cup molasses, 1/2 tsp. salt, and 1 tbs. vinegar. Cook to 200 degrees F., or until small quantity in water forms a soft ball. Add 2 tbs. table fat; pour over 2 1/2 cups shelled roasted peanuts. Mix quickly. Drop by table-poons on greased surface. Makes 20.

More on Hogs

With a 32% in hogs asked of Nebraska farmers in 1945, some additional facts about late-farrowed pigs were passed on to Cass county farmers this week by Prof. Wm. J. Loeffel, chairman of the Animal Husbandry Department at the college of Agriculture.

Some farmers, it seems have some misgivings about the late-farrowed pigs. However, breeding the sow about the middle of December means that she will farrow about the middle of April.

Prof. Loeffel says many practical hog men figure that this is a more desirable time to raise hogs than earlier in the season. It is true there is a little competition then with the spring work but the weather usually averages considerably better and pasture is available so that less labor and less housing is required than with early-farrowed pigs.

Production costs are also somewhat lower on the late pigs because more extensive use may be made of pastures and less grain from preceding crops need be fed.

Account Books

In spite of the handicap of more to do and less time to do it in, it always pays to know where you are going and how you are going to get there. Records that have been kept are the most sound basis for planning family expenditures.

Income tax returns are at present reminding us how valuable these accounts can be for providing information. With a glance at the past you can plan for the future, and adjust your dollars and cents to today's war program of Taxes and Saving.

Poultry Situation

Eggs will constitute the main problem of adjustment in the poultry industry in 1945, Extension Economist George Hendrix at the College of Agriculture advises Cass county farmers.

It is expected that the product in 1945 may decline 8 to 12 percent from 1944 but Hendrix says this will probably be more than offset by a drop in lend-lease demands and a large carryover of egg stocks, including dried eggs. Unless egg production is cut more than 8 to 12 percent, the indicated egg prices may be a little lower in 1945 than in 1944 or at support levels through much of the year.

However, the economist says the demand for chicken for meat will continue to be good in 1945. So will the demand for turkeys.
