

School Students Enlist In Red Cross War Drive

Students of the Schools Are Engaged in the Soliciting Funds in This City

A special message to parents and neighbors of high school students relative to the American Red Cross. You have probably helped with one or more of the many house to house drives during this war. You know that these house to house solicitors spend a lot of time giving you and me a chance to be good Americans. Sometimes you have not had enough time to spend as a solicitor. We are now asking your co-operation in an effort to save time and make use of high school students in the Red Cross drive. This drive started all over the United States on March 1st. Please have your $5 or $10's ready by Monday so that your own son or daughter can bring it to school. $5 or $10 is actually needed from every family with a reasonable income. The blood plasma collections of the Red Cross are alone worth more than money to many American families. Give as generously as possible.

Please remember that last year we contributed well over $4,000 to the Red Cross. The need is not less this year, as you know.

On Friday Red Cross contribution cards were distributed to the high school solicitors. Please give your money to the high school solicitor so that it can be brought to school on Monday. Each student will be asked to bring the contributions of his own family and of two neighbors who have no school children in high school.

The publishing of the names and amounts will assure you that the money was properly delivered to the Red Cross officials.

City Red Cross Drive Chairman

Sgt. Joseph Kvapil In Pipines

The Plattsmouth friends of Sgt. Joseph Kvapil, Jr., will be interested in learning that the former Plattsmouth young man is now in a new station in the Pacific.

He was for the past year and a half in the New Guinea station until the invasion of the Philippines, where he is now stationed, at one of the American centers. He is with a headquarters company of one of the troop carrier groups.

Since Joe was called into service the parents have moved to Omaha where they are now making their home.

George M. Hild Returns to Home

Tuesday afternoon George M. Hild, old Cass county resident, was able to leave the hospital at Omaha where he has been under medical care since last September, and was taken to his home in Omaha where he will recuperate.

Mr. Hild was very gravely ill for several weeks and the many old friends here will be pleased to learn that he has so far recovered that he can be sent back home.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Hadraba

The funeral services for Mrs. James Hadraba, Sr., a long time resident of Plattsmouth, were held Wednesday morning at the Holy Rosary church at 16th and Pearl street.

The body was brought from the Caldwell funeral home to the church at 10 o'clock for the last rites. The requiem mass was celebrated by Father Edward Tuckek, pastor of the church.

The choir of the church sang the mass, while John J. Clويد gave a solo, "Thy Will Be Done", with Mrs. Clويد as the accompanist.

There were a large number of the old friends and neighbors in attendance at the service.

The burial was at the Oak Hill cemetery beside the husband who preceded her in death several years ago. The pall bearers were members of the family and close neighbors: John Clويد, Michael Bajcek, Otto Pily, Vincent Pily, Harvey Meisinger and Joseph F. Hadraba.

The robbers were found to be a group of young lads who had started out on a life of crime at an early age. Their capture, after a series of burglaries in this county and also in other places is very fortunate for they would no doubt have continued in their escapades had they not been

Cass County Minister Does Conservation

Rev. Peter Krey of Murdock Has Great Record in Saving Land From Erosion

Land that had become gullied and low in fertility, but was seeded to grass in 1940, produced 42,000 pounds of bromegrass seed this year, is the experience of Peter C. Krey, of the experience of Peter C. Krey, who lives two miles north of Murdock, Nebraska. Starting his conservation farming under an agreement with the CCC in 1940, Krey later became a cooperator with the Cass county conservation district.

Krey said the land had been bled top soil of the 237 acres was thin and large gullies had been started by water erosion. The gullies were soded in 1940 by the CCC, and the rest of the land seeded to grass the same year.

As part of his farm conservation plan, which he worked out with technicians assisting the soil conservation district, Krey planted 8 acres of gullied land in trees, releasing wildlife in the area afterwards.

"The program of growing grass," Krey said, "is the only conservation plan adaptable to this land."

Krey, in addition to farming the 237 acres and grazing livestock, is minister of the Trinity Lutheran Church in Cass county.

Mrs. Oliver Dovey Long Time Resident Has 90th Birthday

Came Here With Her Parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Adams in 1863 and Married in 1883

By Mary Sue Bordelon
Mrs. Oliver Dovey has a good claim to the title of "Plattsmouth's Oldest Young Lady." She is celebrating her ninetieth birthday today by carrying on quietly with her household duties, among them cooking for her husband, who will be 89 years old next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Dovey both came to Plattsmouth, Nebraska as children, and by some strange coincidence, both came in the same year—1863.

Mrs. Dovey, an eight year old at that time, came with her six brothers and sisters and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Adams, from Illinois, traveling from St. Louis by boat on the Mississippi and Missouri.

"I remember the trip just as well," she said, "It was in April and traveling was very difficult. The water we had to drink was not clean and Mother was sick almost all the way."

"When we got here, we traded at the Dovey grocery store, the first of its kind in Plattsmouth. There, at the store, was Oliver. But, of course," she added with a twinkle in her eyes, "I didn't notice him then."

The Doveys were married in 1883 and lived at first with Mr. Dovey's parents at the same address they live today.

They built their present home in 1890 and here raised their two daughters, Clara Jane and Hazel. Both daughters are now living in Ohio. Clara Jane has become Mrs. J. R. Brown. She has two daughters and one grandson who is a year old. Hazel teaches a commercial course in a Canton, Ohio high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Dovey celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary last year. On this occasion Mrs. Dovey recalls the following incident. At the celebration, her friend the late Miss Olive Gass, promised her a diamond on her 75th anniversary.

"But," Mrs. Dovey sighed, "she died last summer and here I am with no hopes of a diamond."

Mrs. Dovey and her husband live together in their large brick house at 404 North Sixth street, with "Tippy," their ten year old dog, as a pet. Although she is only five feet one inch high, and very slight of frame she is in excellent health, which she attributes largely to dressing warmly and sensibly. She does all of her own housework, "Everything," she insists, "except of course, Oliver tends to the furnace."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dawson and the mother of Sharon, Mrs. Loretta Smith. The beautifully decorated angel food cake prepared by Mrs. Dawson, with ice cream and pop provided the refreshments.

Those who were present were Ilene Porter and mother, Mrs. Howard Porter, Virginia Anderson and mother, Mrs. Raymond Anderson, Donnie Jones and Dennie Meisinger. Sharon received many beautiful gifts and cards.

Sharon Lee Smith Has Birthday

A birthday party was given in honor of the third birthday anniversary of Sharon Lee Smith, Sunday, February 25th at 2 o'clock at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Cynthia Dawson on Third street.

A small group of the neighbors and friends were invited in for the occasion. The afternoon was spent in playing games.

This was the third birthday she has had without her father, Pfc. Walter H. Smith, who is overseas with the armed forces, she being but seven months old when the father departed.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dawson and the mother of Sharon, Mrs. Loretta Smith. The beautifully decorated angel food cake prepared by Mrs. Dawson, with ice cream and pop provided the refreshments.
