S1c Don E. Snyder Writes From Picific

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Snyder of this city have received a very inter- trip to Omaha last Thursday. esting letter from their son, S 1-C Donald E. Snyder, telling of some of the places he has visited since leaving the U. S. for the Pacific theatre of warfare; that is as follows: Somewhere in the Pacific parlors last Thursday afternoon.

Dear Folks,

Thought I would write a few a family dinner at their home. those days get longer all the time, shopping in Omaha last Monday. on day duty is because they need weeks in Nebraska City. five signalmen on the bridge at all Mr. and Mrs. Joe Olewine of Grand the watches. on and eight hours off; this gives them a little more time to themselves but they never get used to their hours as they change to a different watch so often.

Since we've been out they've had more flag hoists than usual, and that is what I'm sharp on, if I do say so myself. The first class said I was the best spotter he had and that's pretty good coming from him. Just call me "Eagle Eye".

I've been informed that we can guessed. We left Pearl early last spring and sailed for Majuro Marshall Islands), stayed there a while, joined up with our outfit and sailed for New Guinea, on the way back and Wake Islands returning to port. I'm sure I'll be O.K. as I'm with the best outfit in the world and it is far from small, too. Don't believe anything the Japs say or any other propaganda of any kind, because it's probably vice versa. Anyway you will be informed if anything goes wrong.

Well, I've said about all if not too much for tonight, so had better stop. Thursday. I'm still hoping to see you before
