Much Corn Saved in Present Campaign

LINCOLN, Neb., March 19.—(UP)—A total of 83,805,843 bushels of corn have been cribbed or moved into market channels since the start of the drive to remove the grain from the ground and into floored and ventilated cribs, J. C. Swinbank, chairman of the wet corn committee, said today.

Some 103,000,000 bushels, nearly one-third of the total 1944 crop, was on the ground and in danger of spoilage when the drive began. Although the formal campaign is over, officials expect a large amount of the grain to be cribbed before planting time.

GERMAN LEADERS REPORTED COMING TO STOCKHOLM

Von Ribbentrop and Marshal Keitel Reported as Carrying Peace Feelers

LONDON, March 19.—(UP)—Rumors were circulating in Stockholm today that Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German high command, were expected to arrive at the Swedish capital.

A Stockholm dispatch to the London Daily Mail said the rumors were believed inspired by the German legation and diplomatic circles here were highly skeptical of the reports.

The rumors developed shortly after it was disclosed that Dr. Fritz Hesse, managing director of Germany's DNB News Agency, visited Stockholm recently with what Swedish dispatches described as "peace feelers."

Well-informed sources at Stockholm told the United Press that Hesse undoubtedly was sent to Sweden by Ribbentrop although his mission was not formally authorized. This was described by responsible quarters as a loophole to enable the Germans to disclaim any responsibility if the mission failed.

Such a situation may account for the loud denials made by Berlin that Hesse was in Sweden as a peace emissary.

Reliable informants at Stockholm, who met Hesse during his visit, said he had no proposals with him but had been authorized to tell British and Americans that Germany desired to discuss armistice or peace terms. Unconfirmed Swedish newspaper reports said Hesse also was empowered to talk to the Russians.

Hesse remained in Stockholm several weeks during which he saw several more or less influential Swedes and Anglo-American politicians, it was said. One of the Swedes, informed sources claimed, was the Svenska Dagbladet's Arvid Fredborg, who has good connection with conservative Swedish politicians.

Stockholm observers believed Hesse's mission was a mixture of threats and pleading—threats of the bolshevik bogey and pleading in the name of humanity.

AMERICAN WOMEN TO FIND EASTER COSTUME EXPENSIVE

Costume Promised to Be Most Colorful in Years and Costliest Since 1929

By UNITED PRESS

The American woman's Easter costume is going to be the gayest and the most colorful since the start of the war, and it certainly will be the most expensive since 1929, a United Press survey revealed today.

Clothing sales in the nation's leading shopping centers have jumped from 20 to 46 per cent since the Easter buying rush began, and many store managers predicted that sales would top the 1929 figure.

Only a shortage of merchandise will prevent establishment of a new sales record, they said.

Women are buying the more frivolous items with emphasis on gay colors and femininity, sales clerks reported. Hats are more frivolous than they have been for several years and the supply is plentiful.

Almost all hats have veils and flowers, even the tailored ones, and the women don't question the cost. Prices are similar to last year, although some items have increased slightly.

Despite the wartime clothing restrictions, the supply of clothing seems to be plentiful at the present, but some department stores anticipated a shortage before the end of the month.

One Chicago department store reported a scarcity of accessories, such as hose and gloves, at the present time.

Minneapolis and St. Paul showed the greatest increase in buying over last year. Sales in the Twin Cities were up 46 per cent.

Federal Reserve statistics for the Ninth District, which includes the north central midwest, showed that Easter buying was up 28 per cent on the whole and buying was heavier than in any other section of the nation.

Washington reported sales up 25 to 30 per cent over last year and 40 per cent better than 1929. Tiny hats trimmed with ostrich feathers were selling for $20 and up.

Cleveland reported the heaviest Easter buying in history with sales fairly even between coats, dresses, suits and hats. Costume jewelry and trinkets were in demand but scarce. Prices were reported about five per cent higher than last year.

Des Moines reported a 33 per cent increase in sales, Reno, 30 per cent, and Atlanta, Ga., 35 per cent.

Pittsburgh reported sales were up from 15 to 25 per cent and department store officials anticipated a banner year, even exceeding 1929. Biggest demands were for women's hats, coats, suits, dresses and children's wear. All department stores reported that the demand exceeded the supply.

San Francisco department stores reported sales heavier than 1944 and 1929, and at Los Angeles sales were up 15 per cent over last year.

Chicago stores reported sales far in excess of last year and managers predicted that the total would exceed the 1929 mark.

"More and better garments are in demand, no matter what the price," the manager of one leading department store said.

LIBRARY NOTES

The Plattsmouth Public Library circulated 3465 books in February. There were 12 new borrowers.

A gift of $25 was received from Chapter F, P. E. O.

The following new books were received: Image of Josephine by Booth Tarkington, Captain from Castile by Samuel Shellabarger, Stanley's Africa by Rapael Busoni, Black Boy by Richard Wright, Apartment in Athens by Glenway Wescott.

A very popular and outstanding book is Stanley's Africa. It is a dramatic and fast-moving account of Henry Morton Stanley's explorations in Africa. The author tells only briefly of Stanley's search for Dr. Livingstone, devoting the main body of the book to later expeditions. Well designed and illustrated, the book is filled with fascinating and important information.

Black Boy is the autobiography of Richard Wright, author. As a story of child-life among Negroes in the Southern United States, it sweeps the reader from page to page with sheer narrative interest. The style is pungent and original, the conversations are extraordinarily natural. It is not a pretty story but it is a powerful one.

AIR RAIDS ON BERLIN INDUSTRIES ONE OF HEAVIEST

One of the Heaviest Reported by the Eighth Air Force on Any Single City

LONDON, Mar. 19.—(UP)—The U. S. 8th air force announced today that its bombers razed and burned great areas of Berlin's concentrated war industries yesterday in the heaviest bombardment of the war on any single German city.

American bombers were over Germany again today, the U. S. strategic air force announced. They followed British bombers which last night attacked the transport centers of Witten southeast of Bochum and Hanau, east of Frankfurt.

The record attack on Berlin by upwards of 2000 American planes yesterday cost the 8th air force 25 bombers and five fighters.

A communique reviewing the Berlin raid revealed that the U. S. planes scattered 3000 tons of bombs through most of the capital's industries and left them ablaze or littered with wreckage.

Bombs blanketed the entire plant of the sprawling Rheinmetall Borsig plant in the Tegel suburbs of Berlin. It produces a wide variety of war materials including tanks, guns, bombs and torpedoes. Today's communique said the plant as "severely damaged and set afire." It covers about 25 city blocks and employs an estimated 25,000 persons.

The Borsig armored vehicle factory in Henningdorf, another Berlin suburb, also suffered "heavy damages" to half the plant area.

In the heart of Berlin, heavy concentrations of bombs crashed into the areas of Schlesischer, railway station, and his were scored on the north station freight yards.

Neutral correspondents in the devastated German capital were forbidden to send out anything except the bare official announcement that Berlin had been bombed.

SENATE VOTES INVESTIGATION OF FOOD SITUATION

Situation Increasingly Critical Although It Is Not Expected Anyone to Starve

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—(UP)—The senate voted unanimously today for a thorough investigation of the nations increasingly critical food situation.

Taking cognizance of new cuts in food quotas for civilians, the Chamber passed a resolution by Senator Kenneth S. Wherry, R. Nebraska, authorizing a senate agricultural sub-committee to investigate all phases of the production and distribution of food in the United States.

The outlook for many months ahead they said, is worse, if anything. They emphasized that no American is in danger of starving, but civilians are entering their period of scantiest rations in recent history. Shortages of almost every major food may be expected to continue until after the next harvest season. Short supplies of meat, dairy products, sugar and fats and oils probably will continue beyond that time.

The sub-committee was granted $5000 for the inquiry and given broad authority to inquire into any phases of the situation it desires. Meanwhile government officials said the nations food outlook can be described by one word—"bad."

Here are the latest major developments:

1. Civilians must expect a 12 per cent cut in meat rations during April, May and June. Allocations for that period will be at the rate of 115 pounds a year per person—30 pounds less than 1944 and 10 pounds less than Americans averaged during the 1935-39 peace time years.

2. House Republicans warned that President Roosevelt must clarify the administrations policy on foreign food shipments before he can have their support.

Representative Thomas F. Jenkins, of Ohio, Chairman of the House republican food study committee, said there was a "wide variance in reports of food supply in Europe. Since Mr. Roosevelt has the facts, he said, "he ought to give them to us."

3. Representative Wm. D. Lemke, R. No. Dakota, charged that the President had a rosy outlook on the food situation because "he is being misinformed by draft director Lewis B. Hershey. Lemke, who is pressing for a congressional investigation of the drafting of young farmers said Hershey and other officers apparently think that "men who don't know the difference between a cow and a mule can take care of a dairy herd."

A SONG TO REMEMBER

by Willard Wiener Distributed by MEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: In 1832 Poland is still under the Russian yoke, her peasants are chained to a vicious feudal system and any demonstration for freedom is immediately put down by the soldiers of the Czar. Frederic Chopin is 22, has gained distinction as a pianist in his home village of Zelazowa Wola and some celebrity as a composer, born in Warsaw. The night he is to play at Count Wodzinski's, Frederic and Josef Elsner attend a secret meeting of revolutionaries before the event. Frederic hears about the new "hangman" Governor the Czar has just sent to Poland.

NICOLAS CHOPIN took out his watch, returned it to his pocket, looked at it again and again returned it to his pocket. He shook his head. He called his wife's attention to the hour. "Nicolas, what can we do?" They could not imagine what was keeping Frederic and Professor Elsner. The minutes passed. It would soon be Frederic's turn to play. Mamma Chopin tried not to think about it but she could not help herself.

The Major Domo, tall, robust, fussy and petty, with a powdered wig and clothed in velvet and satin, ornamented with gilt braid from neck to knees, came in from the corridor. "Not here yet?" Nicolas Chopin bowed. "I'm sorry—" "You're sorry?" Nicolas Chopin smiled a fawning smile. "I can tell you nothing."

"You have already told me nothing." The Major Domo waved his gold-headed cane close to Papa Chopin's nose. "Maestro Paganini plays next—then your son. I say nothing more. But if you know what's good for him—he'll be ready."

FLUNKEYS rudely pushed Papa and Mamma Chopin aside without apologies. A dozen lackeys were constantly on parade between the pantry and the dining hall, each carrying huge platters of roasts and delicacies so arranged as to sharpen the duller appetite.

Exquisite music, at first faint, then louder, was heard above the talk and tinkling glasses and clinking silver. Suddenly there was a flurry of excitement, and an angry voice said: "Can't you lock where you're going?" "Tch, tch."

Jozef Elsner, it seemed, had almost toppled a lackey staggering under a heavy tray of foodstuffs.

Mac ARTHUR FORCE CONTINUES DRIVE IN PHILIPPINES

Troops Gaining Ground Over Luzon While Planes Strike Formosa, Jap Base

MANILA, March 19.—(UP)—American Liberators bombed Formosa for the fifth consecutive day Friday, unloading a record 300 tons of high explosives in the island fortress without interception, it was announced today.

More than 70 of the heavy bombers, flying from New Philippines bases, carried out the latest phase of the campaign to neutralize Formosa, only 700 miles southwest of Japan's home islands.

In the five days of raids, Douglas MacArthur's bombers have dumped a total of 825 tons of bombs on air bases and vital war plants on the island, lying strategically between the northwest corner of the Philippines and the China coast.

The Japanese failed to put up a single interceptor against the last attack, which started large fires at the Heito and Okayama air bases and the supply and repair shops near Taihoku. The raid followed an assault the previous day by Thunderbolt fighter-bombers on the electric plant at Toko, on Formosa's southern tip.

(CBS recorded an Australian broadcast which said the Tokyo radio today noted a "sharp increase in the number of planes raiding Formosa" from American bases in the Philippines. Tokyo said the task of bombing Formosa apparently had been switched from the 14th air force in China to MacArthur's Philippines forces.)

Another contingent of Liberators at the same time spread 337 tons through the Japanese defenses at Baguio, former Philippines summer capital in northern Luzon where American troops were steadily compressing the enemy forces.

MacArthur's communique reported continued gains by his troops throughout the Luzon campaign. In another shore-to-shore amphibious operation, the 158th Regimental combat team swept around the Calumpan peninsula in southwestern Luzon, landed unopposed at Talaga and joined up with other U. S. troops at Mabini.

PHONE 79 SEARL'S DAVIS

"Frederic Paganini!" "Paganini!" —Niccolo Paganini, the most celebrated violin virtuoso in Europe. Frederic would have flung open the door wide but for a watchful dunkey who prevented him. He put his ear to a crack. "Beautiful?" Izabela whispered. "Exquisite." The Major Domo appeared from nowhere. "Well, at last!" He coughed. "Be ready, please!"

FREDERIC crossed the room toward the elegant piano, scarcely noticed by the diners. He seemed not to be annoyed by the chatter or the noise of shifting plates and platters, or the tinkling of glassware.

—The idea of Poland being governed by a hangman! He could not get the thought out of his head. Who next would swing from the gallows? What new unconscionable terrors would this tyrant bring? Damn the hangman! Poland would be rid of hangmen!

But once at the piano, once his fingers touched the keys he was released from this world. The notes of his own Fantasia-Improvisata began to fill the room.

Frederic was in good form. Let others delight the world with their thumping. That was not for him. He had his own way. He would be content to play, to make the piano sing, not howl. There were a thousand ways to go about it. He had his own way. Tonight he had the feel. He knew exactly what to say and how to say it.

He looked up and saw to his surprise that some of those at the table had actually put down their forks to observe him. The Improvisata was finished, the last note struck. They applauded. Not each and every one. That would have been too much. The applause nonetheless was respectable.

But Count Wodzinski's mouth was stuffed with food as he showed his face from the side of his high-backed, gold-trimmed chair. "Encore!" he shouted. "Encore!" (To Be Continued)

A TIP TO THE WOMEN

Uncle Sam is feeding your service man today and feeding him well, even if G. I. cooking can't compare with Mother's. But preparing for the time when you can again take over, here is a friendly tip.

The chances are that your husband or sons upon returning will want more BUTTER, MILK and CHEESE than they ever did before.

About 10% of all food exports to our armed forces have been DAIRY PRODUCTS as compared with 2% in 1917 and 1918.

This is one reason why our boys are the healthiest fighting men in the world.

We must keep them that way by producing more BUTTER so that the Army and the home folks will have plenty.
