'Voice' Saves 3-Year Old from Drowning

HOLLYWOOD, (U.P.)—Frank (The Voice) Sinatra, idol of the bobby sox set, Monday was credited with saving a three-year-old boy from drowning.

The crooner, who had just served as a crewman in a sailing race in Los Angeles harbor, was standing aboard the sailing boat Chief, moored at the California yacht anchorage, when Duke Jones, fell 13 feet from a railing onto the deck Sunday. Unconscious, he rolled into the water.

Witnesses said Sinatra, himself father of two, sprinted across the deck, dived into the water and lifted the child out.

The boy's father, Mac C. Jones, Los Angeles school teacher, jumped into the water just as Sinatra appeared with the child.

Doctors said the boy was unhurt. He went home clutching a candy bar given him by Sinatra.

Mitscher Predicts Mass Jap Hari-Kari When Yanks Invade

NEW YORK, (U.P.)—Vice Admiral Marc Mitscher predicted Monday that thousands, perhaps millions, of Japanese will be ordered to lash themselves to explosives and blow themselves up in the path of American forces when they invade Japan.

The former commander of task force 58, writing in American magazine, said that some of the Japanese "will be lashed to dynamite. Others will be steering bombs or torpedoes."

"The Japanese army has instructed the '200,000,000 people of Japan to halt all invaders of their homeland by 'death-defying charges' and by 'bodily attacks against tanks,'" Mitscher wrote. "A body can stop a tank only if it is attached to dynamite. . . . Japs take calls to suicide very seriously."

Mitscher said, however, that mass hari-kari will not materially lessen or postpone the Japanese defeat.

Defense against the self-destructing kamikaze has been so effective since its first organized appearance off Leyte last October that only one in 100 suicide pilots now crashes into an American ship, Mitscher said. No kamikaze has yet sunk an American carrier, battleship or cruiser, he said, and one destroyer was still afloat after six direct hits.

Mitscher has had plenty of personal experience with the "divine wind." Kamikazes have bombed him off two carrier flagships.

BEEF FLOATS BY GREAT FALLS, MONT.

Great Falls residents stood on bridges spanning the Missouri river here and lined the river bank, gazing with wistful expressions while 1,800 pounds of beef—porterhouse, half tenderloins, rib and round steaks, and roasts—went floating with the current over the dams. The meat, so near and yet so out of reach, was in one big hunk. A dead bull, lost by an upriver farmer, was just that many red points wasted.
