

County Old Age Grants for July Total $10,596

Old age assistance grants totaling $10,596.91 were made to 374 Cass county residents during the month of July, it was disclosed Saturday by Mrs. Margery Worth, director of the Cass county public welfare department. The average grant was slightly more than $28.33 per person.

In her report for the month, Mrs. Worth shows three applications were received for old age assistance during the month and three were approved by the county committee. One old age assistance grant was suspended pending further information; four cases were closed, three by death, and the other entered a public institution. Reviews were made of 89 cases where change in grants were made, and 24 reviews were made where no changes in grants were made.

Twenty-six families with 45 children received $678.55 in aid to dependent children grants. One application was received for aid, one case was closed and transferred to another county, according to the report.

Blind assistance grants for seven persons amounted to $198.72 for the month, the director's report stated. One review was made where change in grant was needed, one review made where none was necessary.

Other services rendered by the department during July included:

Child welfare service: Five requests for service were received, three requests accepted, two turned down; during the month 17 families received service, and one case was closed.

Crippled children's service: One application received; 15 cases reviewed.

County relief: Four applications were received, nine cases closed, and 42 families received $915.40 from county relief funds.

During the month 227 field and office visits were made by workers, and 292 households received assistance or service from all programs, the report showed.

Andrews Bound Over To District Court On Stabbing Charges

Robert Andrews late Friday waived preliminary hearing before County Judge Paul E. Fauquet and was bound over to district court for trial on charges of stabbing with intent to wound John Stumpf. Andrews was released under $500 bond.

The charges were the outgrowth of an argument between the two men on the night of Aug. 1, the sheriff's office said.

During the argument Andrews is alleged to have stabbed Stumpf in the left side. Four stitches were taken to close the wound, according to the sheriff's report.

Slides Will Be Used For Sunday Night Masonic Home Sing

Slides will be used Sunday evening at the community sing to project the words of the songs on the screen, it was announced Saturday morning.

The sing will be held on the lawn of the Masonic home. The screen and broadcasting facilities will be set up on the east porch of the home. Song leader will be Lester Thimgan, with Mrs. Jess Hodges accompanying at the piano.

The program of songs will be as planned. Special numbers will be given by Carol Lou Bernhardt and by a quartette composed of Mrs. Earl Carr, Mrs. Edgar Glaze, Miss Ethel McCamley, and Mrs. Edgar Newton. A trumpet solo will be given by Ruth Nelson.

The sing will not begin until 8:30, so that it will be dark enough for the words to show up well on the screen.

In case of rain the sing will be postponed.

John Tidball Gets Promotion to First Lieutenant AAF

ELEVENTH AF HEADQUARTERS, ALEUTIANS—John L. Tidball, Plattsmouth, Nebraska, now serving as a pilot with the eleventh air force in the Aleutian islands, has been advanced to the grade of first lieutenant, headquarters of major general John B. Brooks announced recently.

Lieut. Tidball received his commission at La Junta, Colo., on May 23, 1944 upon completion of the advanced flight training there and the pre-flight school at Santa Ana, Calif., primary at Oxnard, Calif., and basic at LeMoore. He has served for eight months in the Aleutians and is authorized to wear the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with the Kurile bronze star.

Prior to entering the service, he was a student of the Doane college in Crete, Neb.

His wife, Mrs. Arlene Sue Tidball, resides in Nebraska City, Nebraska.

As a member of the eleventh AF, Lieut. Tidball is part of the first air force to bomb the Japanese homeland in this war. After routine bombings of Attu in 1943, the Eleventh AF lent air support to the ground troops retaking that island, then pounded Kiska daily until the Japanese deserted that island and, with the Aleutians retaken, crossed 1,000 miles of water to hit the Kuriles and become the first air raiders to hit the Japanese homeland since General Doolittle's famous Tokyo raid in 1942. First attempt as daring reconnaissance missions, those Paramushiru and Shimushu bombings, and deeper Kuriles raids, are now routine.
