vanced to second class and Glen Hamilton, Kenneth Rozell and Gordon Green, star scouts. Also promoted were Bob Cappell, George McConkey and Bill Baumgart to life scouts. Merit badges were awarded to Glen Hamilton, horsemanship, farm home planning and carpentry; George McConkey for cooking, life saving, swimming, pioneering, reading and physical development; Bob Cappell, physical development; Gordon Green, personal health, public health, Bill Baumgart, athletics, pioneering, civics; Lavay Rozell, handicraft.

Elmwood

MRS. GRACE PLYBON, Correspondent

The Nebraska department of health tuberculosis survey car was in town the latter part of the week and on Saturday over a hundred persons availed themselves of the opportunity to have free X-ray chest pictures taken.

On Friday afternoon Howard Capwell drove to Bennett accompanied by Si Mairs, Jim Wade and Walter Plybon, where they enjoyed the horse show.

Mrs. Rhoda Earnst had the Women's Council meeting at the Christian church on Friday.

A birthday dinner honoring Oscar Turner was held last Sunday noon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Orrest Cook, with the other family members as guests, also.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bronn were Lincoln shoppers on Monday.

Ray Parsell is having a poultry fence built this week around his large acreage in West Elmwood. Among the workers are two war prisoners from the Weeping Water camp.

School lunches were served this week for the first time this year. Mrs. Frisbie, Mrs. Gertrude Davis, and Mrs. Monning kindly offered their services to help out at the school. They enjoyed using the new refrigerator and fine cooking dishes.

Canning peaches still is a popular occupation for the ladies, now that the home grown ones are ripe.

On last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Clements celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. An evening dinner was enjoyed by the family members. Mrs. Eva Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Hedges of Waverly, and Mr. Clark Gonzales and Charles of Eagle. The Sanford Clements family came from Peru and the Dick Clements group from Lincoln. The sons, Guy, Orley and Vernon, with their families and Miss Alma Clements are at home here. The Methodist church remembered them with an appropriate bouquet.

Mrs. George Hall is improving from her recent illness. Her daughter, Mrs. Marjory Hall, is here from Lincoln and the grandson, David Bornemeier, who came from army service is here now, too. The granddaughter, Mrs. Dorothea Redd, is now in Lincoln, after having spent six months with her husband at his camp station.

Miss Grace Wood has been kept at home this week with the flu. She is feeling better at this time.

The people who have been participating in the Saturday evening dances have organized into a group, making it more like a club dance in the future.

On Monday evening a group of committee members met at the Methodist church parsonage to discuss the work for the new year. Rev. and Mrs. Lind served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Clarence Frohlich entertained Mr. and Mrs. Mutschler and children, the soldier family, who are living here, in her home on Friday evening.

Mrs. Ruth Monning and Mrs. Emily Gonzales accompanied Mr. and Mrs. James Miller of Murdock when they drove to Seward on Monday to attend a sale given by their brother-in-law, Mr. Walker.

Famous Kentucky bourbon received that name because the product was made in Bourbon county, Ky.
