Mr. and Mrs. Akert Altshaffl, 1209 Lincoln Ave. have received word that their son, S-Sgt. John Altshaffl has been recommended for the award of the Silver Star for "Gallantry in Action." The news came in a letter from their son's commanding officer, Brig. General Hanford McNider.

The letter read as follows: "Dear Mr. Altshaffl: I have just had the privilege and satisfaction of approving and forwarding to higher authority for action a recommendation for the award of the Silver Star for 'Gallantry in Action' to Staff Sergeant John Altshaffl.

"Your son is a first class fighting man and a credit to his organization and to the army. You can be proud of him as are all of us who have been associated with him in this command."

Sgt. Altshaffl arrived home Monday morning to begin a 30 day leave from the General Hospital in Santa Fe, New Mexico. He was recently operated on for a wound received while in action on Luzon.

A member of the armed forces since June 1943, Sgt. Altshaffl saw two years of service in the South Pacific, participating in several major battles. Besides the Silver Star he was awarded the purple heart and oak leaf clusters. He is scheduled to report back to the General Hospital at the expiration of his leave on November 1st.

Pvt. George Altshaffl, his brother, is in a training camp in San Diego now, having enlisted last June. Another brother, Cpl. Albert, is stationed now in Pennsylvania at a separation center having been overseas for 9 months in Germany.

Ivan Jones Talks At Womans Club

Ivan E. Jones, district supervisor in the vocational rehabilitation department of the state at Lincoln, spoke Monday night at the Plattsmouth Womans Club meeting in St. John's hall.

Jones said the purpose of the rehabilitation department is to assist people who are physically handicapped to establish themselves in some vocation where they can be happy and useful. Where financial aid is needed, he explained, they get in touch with various local organizations in town and ask their cooperation.

"We determine what the individual is best fitted for and then either send him to school for training or find work," Jones cited several cases where it was necessary to perform an operation to relieve the physical handicap and when this was done the individual was more able physically and mentally to do his chosen work.

Dr. Kate Hansen, for many years Dean of the women's conservatory of the Christian College in Japan, also spoke at the meeting. Dr. Hansen said that the occupation of Japan and the freedom of speech Gen. MacArthur is bringing into Japan is like opening a house and letting in fresh air.

The meeting Monday was the Woman's Club annual membership tea and some 40 ladies were present. The decorations were in the form of fall flowers with a color scheme of purple and gold.

Mrs. F. R. Gobelman was hostess assisted by the members of the social committee: Mrs. Karl Grosshans, chairman; Mrs. J. C. Petersen; Mrs. Phil Hirz; Mrs. Joe McMaken; Mrs. Sanford Short and Mrs. Philip Rihm.

Mrs. F. I. Rea, president of the club presided and Mrs. Edward Ofc lead in devotions, followed by the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Mrs. Rea presented Clementine Woster and Catherine Feldhausen, who gave a piano duet. The guests of the evening were then presented: Mrs. H. R. Wolfer, Mrs. F. Lillie, Mrs. Clyde Rosborough, Mrs. C. L. Green, Mrs. Louis Naevie and Mrs. Fred J. Feldhausen.

Group singing was then led by Mrs. Hansen said that the occasion was a luncheon. The serving table was covered with a lace cloth and crystal and silver settings were used. Serving was presided over by Mrs. F. R. Gobelman and Mrs. L. W. Egenberger.

Truck Overturns in Accident Tuesday

The driver of the Bond bread truck in Plattsmouth escaped injury Tuesday morning when his truck overturned after colliding with a car driven by Phil Haldiman of Plattsmouth. The accident occurred about 6:30 a. m. at Fifth and Avenue A.

The truck was traveling east on Avenue A and the car was going south on Fifth street. The car apparently hit the truck in the side, causing it to overturn. The front end of Haldiman's car was badly smashed. The bread in the truck had to be removed to another truck. Many of the loaves were broken open and could not be used.

Pays Old Debt to Library By Sending Four Books

Miss Verna Leonard, librarian at the public library, received four books in the mail Saturday and therein lies a story.

It all began about four years ago when certain articles started disappearing from the current magazine files. Miss Leonard discovered that someone was clipping the articles against the rules of the library, but she was never able to catch the person responsible.

Then it was one day last July, a young chap, well known to Miss Leonard, walked up to her and asked if she ever knew who had taken the clippings. She said she didn't know.

"I took them," the fellow told her. "I've just realized I was wrong to do it and I would like to give you the money to replace the magazines."

Miss Leonard explained that it was impossible to replace the material he had taken.

Well, the young fellow felt pretty bad about it. He hadn't realized at the time how much damage he was causing. He said he'd be willing to do almost anything if he could repay the loss. But there was nothing Miss Leonard could suggest.

The boy left then and a short time later moved out of Plattsmouth. Miss Leonard considered it a closed incident until she received a postcard from the boy saying that he was sending some books to the library in payment for the damage he had done to the magazines.

The books arrived Saturday. There were four of them. . . a leather-bound edition of Bryon's Poems, The Story of Dr. Wassell and two volumes of collected poems.

Kenneth Morehead On Seaplane Tender

Kenneth Leo Morehead, Plattsmouth, seaman, first class, USNR, was aboard the USS Suisun, a seaplane tender, when that ship moved into Tokyo Bay several days before the formal surrender ceremonies.

The Suisun saw action in the Marshalls, the Marianas, the Carolines, the Palaus, and at Okinawa. In the latter campaign she served as a Fleet Air Wing 1 air-sea rescue unit.

Farmers' Banquet Attracts Crowd In Weeping Water

Some two hundred people turned out at 7:30 Tuesday night to attend the first annual Farm Bureau "Kick-off" banquet in the Agricultural Hall in Weeping Water. The banquet marks the beginning of a three-day membership drive by the Cass county Farm Bureau.

Featured speaker of the evening was G. Y. Thompson, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation. His subject was "We Farmers Look Ahead."

Thompson said the Farm Bureau is important for two main reasons; it enables the farmer to know what is going on and what benefits he can get, and it enables him to make his viewpoint known to others.

"The point I want to stress," Thompson said, "is that the farmer can't crystallize his ideas without the bureau. We don't want the same drop in prices to come after this war that came after the first one. The farmer can well afford to take time off from his regular work to see that those things don't happen again."

Also featured on the entertainment program was the Plattsmouth high school quartet. The boys in the quartet were Bob Tritsch, Kenneth Fitch, Keith Fitch and Kenneth Tiekotter. They sang two songs, a negro spiritual and a specially arranged bit of close harmony. Orville Nielsen accompanied them at the piano. Bob Tritsch also sang a solo of "Lord's Prayer."

The program during the banquet was as follows:

Presiding, Luther Harmon, president of Cass county Farm Bureau; invocation, by Rev. T. Porter Bennett; song leader, Robert Maack; accompanist, Mrs. Robert Maack.

Following the banquet the group went upstairs to the main auditorium. After two group songs, Richard Cole and Henry Vinduska played a cornet and trumpet duet. Luther Harmon then introduced the county officers, visiting guests and the committees for the banquet. Duncan McCallum gave a short talk on "Pass the Buck or Pass the Resolution."

Committees for the banquet were the following: banquet, Mrs. John Rieke, Mrs. Fred Rehmeier; entertainment, Mrs. Gerald Keil and Miss June Keil; tickets, Luther Harmon and Gilbert Erickson; organization of teams, John Maack; arrangements for the building, Fred Rehmeier; program, John Maack; invitation for out-of-town guests, Mrs. Virgil Owens, and Mrs. Walter Farmer; reception, Lester Meisinger, John Maack, and Lester Wagener.

Officers of the Cass county Farm Bureau are Luther Harmon, president; Fred Rehmeier, vice-president; John Lefler, secretary; Robert Maack, treasurer; Mrs. John Rieke and Mrs. Donald Born board members.

Presidents of the community units are John W. H. Maack, Donald Born and Lester Meisinger.

Implement Company Opens in Murdock

MURDOCK—(Special to the Daily Journal) The grand opening of the Paul Stock Implement Company building on Tuesday was deemed to be a huge success by those present. People were there from Omaha, Lincoln and Plattsmouth, as well as many other places in south east Nebraska.

During the home talent show, which was held in the basement of the building, standing room was at a premium. There was no estimate of the number of people there but it was found that 100 watermelons and 200 dozen doughnuts had been consumed by the crowd.

Paul Stock is considered to be one of the most enterprising men in this part of Nebraska. His system of public auction and other activities, which he has sponsored, have brought hundreds of people to Murdock from all parts of Nebraska.

His new structure with its modern equipment caused considerable favorable comment from out-of-town visitors. It was said to be one of the best in this part of the state. Ten thousand dollars has been spent in erecting and improving the building and equipment.

The Stock Implement company together with the large Alfalfa mill being erected by Rev. P. C. Krey and the residence under construction by August Welkin are all adding to the property value in Murdock and further prospects of building are being encouraged there.

Questionnaire to Be Published By Recreation Group

A special questionnaire addressed to all citizens of Plattsmouth will be published in the Journal Thursday. The questionnaire was devised by the Plattsmouth recreation planning committee to find out what the townspeople think is the town's most immediate need.

The recreation committee decided at their meeting Tuesday night in the court house that this would be the best method of obtaining everyone's viewpoint before drafting a final plan of action.

The five questions will be: 1. In your opinion, do you think Plattsmouth needs to plan for adequate recreation facilities? 2. State in order of importance three or four projects which should receive immediate attention. 3. What should be done to realize the projects you suggest and what would you advise the recreation committee to do? 4. Do you think much serious objection would be raised to a tax levy which would provide the citizens of Plattsmouth recreation facilities which citizens of other Nebraska communities enjoy? Would you object? 5. What is your "pet peeve" regarding the city of Plattsmouth?

Everyone will be urged to cut out the questionnaire and mail it to the committee.

Father Tuckek, one of the chairmen of the committee said, "we hope to receive a great many replies to the questionnaire to be used as a guide to what the people really want. Once we know what the public reaction will be we can take definite steps to get a project started."
