The Plattsmouth Journal

Published semi-weekly, Mondays and Thursdays, at 409-413 Main Street, Plattsmouth, Cass County, Nebraska, by The Journal Publishing Company.

Publisher LESTER A. WALKER General Manager B. J. ALCOTT ROBERT B. STAUFFER ... Managing Editor

Entered at the Postoffice at Plattsmouth, Nebraska, as second class mail matter in accordance with the Act of Congress of March 3.

SUBSCRIPTION RATE: - $3 per year, cash in advance, by mail outside the Plattsmouth trade area.

DAILY JOURNAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES:- Delivered by carmer in the City of Plattsmouth, 15 cents per week, or $7.00 per year cash in advance; by mail in the Plattsmouth trade area: $3 per year, $1.75 for six months, $1.00 for three months, cash in advance. By mail outside the Plattsmouth trade area, $5.00 per year, $3.00 for six months, 60 cents per month, cash in

Jurisdictional Czar?

Labor Secretary Schwellenbach has suggested to labor unions that they might find a solution of jurisdictional disputes, once and for all, by hiring a "Czar" such as the motion picture industry and professional baseball now have.

If there is a possibility that an inter union czar could accomplish what his movie and baseball counterparts have then the plan is an excellent one. But it seems to us that the suggestion should come from within organized labor rather than from a friend of labor in government.

When Judge Kenesaw M. Landis was appointed High Commissioner of Baseball in 1920, and Will Hays was asked to head the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors Association two years later, both the sport and the entertainment industry were in the public doghouse.

The Black Sox scandal of 1919 had shocked and saddened the sports-following public. And when Mr. Hays took over, both the movie colony's private lives and the studios' products were in such a mess of bad morals and bad taste as to create a real wave of popular indignition

Both industries-if they may be called such-quickly saw the light, They realized that their livelihoods and very existence, both dependent on public favor, were threatened. Their first concern seems to have been to reapture public confidence before working out elaborate machinery for ending their troubles and preventing their recurrence.

So each selected a well-known figtire of unquestioned integrity from outside its own organization. (Baseball first sought the services of former President Taft before engaging Judge Landis.) Each then drew up a rigid set of rules and gave its czars authoritarian power to enforce them.

These far-sighted moves by baseball and Hollywood achieved their purpose admirably.

Organized labor might ponder this story as it applies to jurisdictional strife. As President Truman told union representatives at the Labor-Management Conference, nothing is so destructive of public confidence as these disputes. The American people have little understanding of them, and less sympathy with them at a time when the whole industrial situation gives cause for legitimate worry.

But government appointment of an inter-labor czar holds little promise. bear no fruit until the striving unions realize that all labor is losing through jurisdictional strife and strikes, until there is a spontaneous desire for a Hays or Landis for labor from within th unions, together with a genuine wish to make and abide by their own rules for peaceful settlement.

Q—What is the total time peace has prevailed on a world-wide basis? A—The aggregate for all recorded history is only about 300 years.

Q-What is the composition of a cloud?

A-Water particles so fine that an 1800 cubic foot cloud could fill a water glass only one-seventh full.

Q-How is the shark-repelling chemical developed to enable "dunked" flyers to escape sharks to be used in peacetime? A-Mackerel seiners can use it to keep sharks from a net full of fish. Sharks not only attack the catch, but damage nets which cost several thousand dollars.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON-Here is one important tipoff showing the administration knew war was coming in the Pacific, but expected it in the Philippines . . . Adm. William Glassford, commanding U.S. gunboats in the Yangtze patrol, carefully shepherded his fleet out of Shanghai across tempestuous seas to Manila. They were flat bottomed boats, dangerous in rough, deepsea weather, but, knowing the Japs were about to strike, he made the emergency trip just before Pearl Harbor , . . At that time everyone expected the Japs to strike the Philippines. the Dutch East Indies or Singapore . . . One thing Pearl Harbor congressmen don't want to investigate is why, in view of these expectations, General MacArthur got caught with all his planes on the ground, losing 300 fighters and all his flying fortresses . . . If GOP congressmen do investigate--which they probably won't -they'll find that the air force ofticer in command of those planes urged Mac Arthur to let him take them off Clark Field where the Japs later smashed them.

John L. Lewis Orates

Beetle-Browed John L. Lewis delivered a speech in the secret sessions of the labormanagement conference last week which has both labor and industry delegates buzzing. 1

Though Lewis is the most feared and hated of all labor leaders, his speech brought cheers from industry members, frowns from certain balor leaders

What the mine union boss demanded at the closed-door meeting was wage increases, but and it was a very big but he also demanded price increases for industry, his cuts right underneath the whole position of President Truman and many labor leaders, namely that wage increases plus price increases are meaningless, would only mean that labor paid more for everything.

President Truman and advisers have maintained that, while this might bring temporary benefits for organized union labor, it would burt teachers, white-collar workers and, later, organized labor. Truman also maintains that industry has made enough profits from the war to afford wage increases and still make money, especially with taxes greatly reduced.

The fact that John L. Lewis opposed this indicated to insiders a three-way plan; (1) He wants to undercut ClO's Phil Murray, who favors the government's position of wage increases without price increases; (2) He is hidding to take AFL leadership away from Bill Green: (3) He isn't averse to wrecking the entire labor-management conference.

John L. also has been handing out statements needling the steel and auto workers. telling them that they are asking for piddling wage increases. The Lewis statements are calculated to stiffen auto and steel workers' backs, make them dissatisfied with ClO leadership. Also, they are likely to help precipitate a strike, and Lewis knows from his own sad experience in the recent coal strike that strikes right now can be most unpopular with the the admirals over who will replace Admiral King as Chief of Naval Operations, The combut admirals want Adm. Chester Nimitz. They saw nine operate in the Pacific, Admiral King himself is pushing Adm. Raymond Spruance, also an A-1 man. Secretary Forrestal is supporting Adm. R. S. Edwards, now Deputy Chief of Naval Operations and a leading promoter of navy imperialism . . . The first trial of the Kansas Kingfishes begins today when the head of the Kansas State Police faces a jury-if Judge Helvering doesn't postpone it . . . Last week Gen. Lucius Clay, No. 2 boss of Germany, announced publicly that U. S. authorities in Naziland have asked for an additional $30,000, woo worth of food for the German people. Yet, on October 16, in a secret meeting of American generals, General Clay stated privately that the U.S. zone has a special reserve of non-ann tons of food which it did not want to use until American public opinion favored feeding the Germans . . . Jesse Jones, the man whom Franklin Roosevelt kicked out of the cabinet, is now the man who really runs his aid job of federal loan administrator backstage. President Truman has closed his eyes to it , but Jones's position in Washington today is just about as powerful as ever. He operates from room 450 in the Statler Hotel and his phone is so busy that not even his wife can reach him . . . If you want to buy a jeep, a truck, a factory, an oil refinery or some oid tires, it's Jesse Jones's old outfit which handles Little Business Break Hard-working Attorney General Tom Clark has written a confidential memo to the White House advising that the smaller war plants corporation cannot be gobbled up by the commerce department and Jessie Jones's old RFC without an act of Congress . . . This is a break for fittle business . . . The smaller war plants corporation has been doing a real job for the smaller husinessman, also had won prestige on capitol bill . . . John Synder, the small town banker, now war reconverter, wanted to transfer it by executive order without congressional okay. In fact, the executive order was already drawn up when this columnist broke the story. following which the problem was referred to the attorney general. Assistant Secretary of Labor Carl Moran is another of the A-1 public servants deserting the administration. He is going back to Maine, from whence he came, despite White House entreaties that he stay John Gibson of Detroit, a C10 man, will take his place. This will balance the two assistant secretaries of labor between the ClO and

Roosevelt College Behind Mrs. Roosevelt's dedication of Roosevelt College in Chicago today is a unique story. Formerly, Chicago's YMCA College, a low-cost institution in the Loop, was supervised by leading banks. Suddenly they awoke to the fact that 25 per cent of the student body was negro, asked President James Sprawling to put a quota on further Negro students. He refused, then handed in his resignation . . . Simultaneously, 92 per cent of the faculty resigned plus 97 per cent of the students. The bankers found themselves without a college Marshall Field, The Julius Rosenwald foundation, plus Chicago citizens then raised a million to found a new low-cost college in the Loon. The old YMCA College is no more and Roosevelt College begins today . . . It's the first time that both students and faculty warked out simultaneously.

· Also Can Be a Dangerous Thing A Little Curiosity

I FALL IN LOVE

XXXI A MONG the friends that were so kind to me was George Frame me he not only wr a drawback When I was able to to the act but als could mean his kind invitation to convalesce of return to town I reluctantly Captain Strudwick. This was ties, New York.

Whil talkin over the visit, h suggested bring my rigging with me, also it, and try to practice take any dates as yet but was a little agai, with view to building up my morale. The doc- to practic with a few hours every tors had been dubious about day, when I received a letter whether or not I could ever work again, on account of the back in jury, but that very doubt made ling's whom my friends had recme more determined to have a try ommended. He asked me to reat it anyway. Other aerial artists ply if I was read to use him, and who visited me were dead set suggested leaving his present ocagainst my ever attempting to use Bill in my work again and offered to New York. I hesitated ento find a more responsible person gaging a full-time assistant when -a younger one-who could be I was not able o work, but bedepended on to hang my appastill far from well enough to talk once. intelligently or pay very much attention to his personality, but I The more I talked to him, the Bill and my dog for George pains as best I could. Brown's place in the country.

and been overcautious.

More Civil Service

Jobs Are Available

tions reopened. All qualified percants must have had six months sons are invited to apply.

cupation immediately and coming fore I had time answer his letter, the young gendeman in ques-They brought a young man to tion arrived at my hotel, announcsee me one evening, when I was ing his readiness to begin work at rigger. His imitations of Bill swinging me, and the fact that he

I was still in no condition to contemplatin" employing someone signed Robert F. Matz, Jr. This was the young man from Ring-suggested leaving his present oc-

did notice that in neither appear- more i realized that a rigger with ance nor manner of speaking was his build and appearance was too he the usual type of rough-and- rare an asset to my act for me to ready rigger from the circus. He let go. He was tall and very fair, was working with the Ringling in his lean thirties with Nordic show, somewhere near New York, blue eyes and a smile that nad and when he left, I forgo, all sunshine in it. When I discovabout my promise to let him know ered he had an unusual love for when I needed someone for my all saimals, which gave us much dressing tent, waiting for my act act, nor did I remember it when in common, I started practicing to go on, when suddenly instead setting out in the car with old with him, hiding my aches and GRADUALLY I became strong land, where there was plenty of seillaise." My hands grew cold enough to swing again and room and height, and all through while listening, and I questioned soon realized I would be able to the beautiful summer days, as we a passing performer about the prove to the doctors that they drove to and from New York, I reason for it. He answered that Before leaving for New York, and that I liked him. To make a band played it, unless by mistake, George, who had watched me long story short, I accepted a date having got the score mixed in practice every day, said very seri- at Playland, Rye Beach, without their music in some unusual way. ously that I should get another the slightest idea as to how I would get the strength to work but feeling that I had to get started for preusing financial reasons While struggling through my act and suffering the tortures of hell. our romance grew, and through that, I somehow got the necessary will to keep going—though several imes I nearly fell from weak-embarked in Montevideo, where through the services of Or. Fizwalk again, I gratefully accepted another disaster befor long. Upon simon, btamed my liberty from after mother's death, we had decided upon is course.

ful had ortnight at Rye Play- chance to stretch their legs, and illiating experience, the lady jurous land, Boobie and ' drove down to Baltimore and, with my dog as best man, were married. We spent bie prepared 'iis own trapeze act and a endeavored to get my health back and practice with him. We played the usual tour of vaudeville houses all over the states. and my act, which now included some double tricks with him, began to get good press notices.

The following summer of 1939 brought better salaries and reputation than ever.

We were playing the Erie Fair when the declaration of war came over the air one quiet Sunday afternoon while we were in our hotel. As we listened, a chill crept over me, and an icy hand seemed to be crushing my heart.

When we arrived at the fairground that afternoon, a strange thing happened. I was in my of the familiar music of the "Beer Barrel Polka," which the band From New York I transferred played for ne of the acts, I heard my rigging to a lot in Long Is- the stirring strains of the "Marfound, out he especially liked dogs, nobody could understand why the that applicants living in Washing-| sentatives - who had succeeded in ton, D. C., or vicinity may apply postponing OPA action on the if they are 16. There is no maxi- automobile dealers discount had The United States Civil Services mum age limit, Applicants for heard him challenge the conten-Commission has announced new Engineering Draftsman will be action that his proposed program Commission has announced new cepted until January 8, 1946.

examinations for positions in Civil Engineering Aid positions Under the OPA's suggested dealers Washington, D. C., as Engineering paying $2,100 and $2,320 a year discount schedule the dealers Draftsman, Civil Engineering Aid. are open to applicants with two "will make far more money next and Stationary Foreman. These and three years respectively of year than they made before the #### examinations have been opened appropriate experience or techni- war," Bowles said. to the general public because a cal training. sufficient number of eligibles cannot be obtained from among vet- Rejects Demand for

erans entitled to have examina- Higher Auto Prices

WASHINGTON, W.B. - Price Administrator Chester Bowles Tues- AN advance tip: Do your Christ-Positions such as Engineering day rejected demands of the Na- the crush. Draftsman pay from $1.704 to tional Automobile Dealers Associ-$2,980 a year. To qualify as Engi- ation for a more generous profit neering Draftsman, appli- margin in the price of new cars. He defended the OPA's price of drafting experience or compar- plan as highly advantageous to able training above the high dealers. school level. Additional experience' . Bowles told the House small own were arrested for throwing or training is required for posi- business committee that the NADA tions at the higher salaries. The had engaged "the greatest single please move next door to us! positions are in the following pressure group operation since branches of drafting: aeronanti- OPA was established. cal, architectural, civil, electrical, He declared that a favored price lathographic, archanical; ship, control resulted from careful constatistical, structural, topographic sideration? an her than price conand general. Applicants must be trol by jobby pressure. An estimatat least 1712 years of age excepted more than 200 NADA repre-

BARBS

BY HAL COCHRAN

mas mailing early and avoid

The fur coats now being shown came from skinning dumb animals-and we don't mean father!

Two neighbors in an Illinois coal. Will one or both of them

We suspect some prices have taken the old oath-"We will never take another drop."

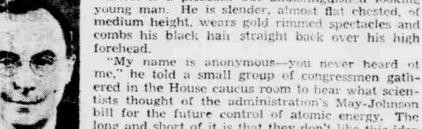

One objection to a child being born with a silver spoon in its mouth is that it's often hard getting it to stir for itself later on.

EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, D. C .- Temporary head of the new Federation of

Atomic Scientists is Dr. Lyle B. Borst, a 32-year-old Ph. D. from he University of Chicago. During the war he worked on the atomic comb project at the Clinton Engineer Works, Oak Ridge, Tenn. Borst is a pleasant but undistinguished looking

"My name is anonymous-you never heard of me," he told a small group of congressmen gathered in the House caucus room to hear what scienlists thought of the administration's May-Johnson bill for the future control of atomic energy. The long and short of it is that they don't like this idea of having the military forces dictate what shall be done. They don't like the idea even a little bit, and they say so in no uncertain terms. Young Dr. Borst was backed in this position by three older and more experienced scientists: Berlin-born Dr. Leo Szilard, one of the pioneers in atomic energy development who worked on the project at both Columbia and Chicago Universities; Dr. Harold C. Urey, Nobel prize winner of Chicago; Dr. J. C. Stearns, dean of the science faculty at Washington University, St. Louis,

"YOU never heard of any of these people," says Dr. Borst. "The work could not have been done without the older men, but we have been the backbone, the working men on this project.'

Their average age is under 30. Their job was not always interesting, Dr. Borst explains. They could not see where they were going. They went to these atomic projects directly from the graduate schools. They are interested in knowing where they go from here. After all, they are the atomic scientists of the future,

As to their objectives, Dr. Borst puts it simply: "We want to live at peace with the world and with our consciences." Having produced this instrument of destruction, it worries them. They want to live their futures in a world where there is free discussion, where they can talk about atomic energy on street cars, without the use of code words and without having to get permission from the military whenever ten or more of them get together.

SOME of the leaders among these young scientists took their worries to the military authorities last winter. Their idea was that plans should be made then for the control of atomic energy after the war was over. They were told not to concern themselves, that the subject was in good hands. So the young scientists went back to their job. When first drafts of the May-Johnson bill for the control of atomic energy were made public early in October, the reaction among the young scientists was spontaneous. At the four atomic research centers in Los Alamos, N. Mex.; Oak Ridge, Tenn.; University of Chicago, and the Manhattan Engineer district of Columbia, Yale and Princeton, local organizations were formed to work for a better national understanding of the issues involved (

Women Refuse to Ride "Black Maria"

first ear that Denver has ever aren't too comfortable for walk had women serving on juries. As | jurors they are fine, except they'- a fleet of taxis on hand to take re just too stylish!

was so jittery that an audience ON my way out from Europe the problem of transportation to idea. some months before I had dis- the downtown part of town for Along came the day when the claimed, and besides, what would well, take in the scenery. Then along came women jury their friends think?

sisting they're equal to a man and have resorted to the saying about women being the "weaker sex". Al DENVER -(U.R) This is the so pointing out that high heels ing, the gals have refused to walk.

The district judges tried having the ladies to distant cafes, but The trouble all centers around the shortage of cabs foiled that jurors left for lunch and found In the old days when the jurors the "Black Maria" - only in Denwere all male, the bailiff would ver they're white and look like at his countr, home in Sauger- let the old man go feeling sorry something had hesitated to just line up his men when lunch- ambulances - waiting for them. It about it but restizing George was do, for eligious reasons, but fa- time rolled around and march served its purpose, but the ladies them to a cafe. The men jurors - mouned that no respectable wo hale and hearty, they were-liked man would be seen either entering Now, after finishin a wonder- the noonday walk. It gave them a or laving a "Cop-cab." It was hum-> the rest of the summer in a cot- members. Some of them aren't the Now the court is waiting for the tage n Long Island, where Bob- hale and hearty athletic type- time when a stylish station wagon

Cut, Finished and Tailored For That Well Groomed Look

Men of distinction buy their suits here and with good reason. For our suits have about them that 'know how" air so important for the well groomed look. Our stocks are broken but you can still find here the hard-to-get

Wescotts