AS ALL OUR CUSTOMERS KNOW
For years we have been balancing their car wheels statically and dynamically with precision and accuracy.
One of the common causes of undue tire wear and wheel tramp or shimmy is wheels that are out of balance, either statically or dynamically or both, which our equipment detects instantly.
But there are other quite common and numerous causes of undue tire wear and shimmy or wheel tramp. Wheels out of alignment, negative wheel camber, excessive positive wheel camber, uneven caster setting and worn tie rod ends may be causing abnormal tire wear. As you know, we have all the equipment for checking and correcting these faults.
