Eagles Win 12-7 In Sunday Tilt With Louisville

Plattsmouth Eagles won their second straight D-S-C League game Sunday when they downed the Louisville Sluggers 12-7 on the latter's diamond.

It was a see-saw game all the way until the eighth inning, with the lead changing four times, but the big eighth brought five runs on six hits for the Eagles and saw the third Louisville pitcher take his place on the mound before the barrage was brought under control.

Ault was the leading Plattsmouth hitter, getting four hits out of five trips to the plate. He was followed by "Rip" Vromb who got three hits out of four tries. Wolever got two hits, while O'Brien, Louisville, collected two for four.

Bill Fox again went the route for the Plattsmouth, giving only seven hits, but was occasionally in a tight spot as the result of errors by the Eagle's infield.

Louisville boasts a population of 977 and everyone of them was on hand to witness the game. Platt-

Saddle Horse Show Will Be September 18th

The Cass County Saddle Horse show will be held in Plattsmouth this year instead of at Weeping Water as in previous years. The announcement was made by Mrs. Chester Wiles, publicity spokesman for the Cass County Saddle Horse show association which came to this decision at its meeting last week.

The show will be held one day only, rather than the two days as in other years. It will be on Sept. 18, which will be Farmers day at the Cass County King Korn Carnival.

The association last week also voted to make a $50 contribution to the Plattsmouth Athletic Field fund.

The saddle horse show will be held at the athletic field.

Bob Grey, Weeping Water, is the president of the county association.

Public Invited to Iris Gardens of Arnold Schliefert

Flowers lovers will soon be making their way to the Arnold Schliefert home a mile northwest of Manley to admire and examine the colorful display of iris blooming in their gardens. In cultivating a hobby, Mr. and Mrs. Schliefert have also cultivated a large number of unusual varieties of the iris plant for which they are becoming noted in garden circles.

Through painstaking efforts and care this plant has been brought to prominence by such gardeners as the Schlieferts. In recent years it has become a lovely addition to any garden instead of the lowly blue and yellow flag it once was.

The Schlieferts cordially invite the public to visit them and enjoy the flowers which will soon be in full bloom. Last year more than 200 people viewed the gardens. The owners anticipate a larger crowd this year, according to Mr. Schliefert.

Local Woman Is First In State To Build Houses

Believed to be the only woman in the state to be embarked upon a housing project Mrs. Mary Troop has two dwellings completed and will soon begin construction of another.

The buildings, located at 206 and 208 Second avenue, have been sold to veterans. They were begun on March 26 and completed last week. Both buildings are known as "starter houses" and can be added to at a later date. The work on the two homes was supervised by Mrs. Troop's father, C. E. Carter.

Mrs. Troop plans to put up a small duplex with brick veneer at Fourth Avenue and 11th street. Following this she will erect another dwelling on the adjoining lot. This will be a companion type structure.

Other plans on the Troop housing program include the erection of additional houses for veterans. These will be the G-T-S (General Timber Service) panel houses, a variation of the prefab type. They can be assembled in two or three days by a crew of eight men. To date no panel houses have been built here.

Mrs. Troop emphasizes the fact that the homes she is building are for veterans only.

Council Passes New Traffic Code For City

On another page of this issue of the Journal appears Ordinance No. 308 passed by the City Council at their regular meeting held at the City hall on May 12.

The new code regulates the operation and parking of motor vehicles in the City of Plattsmouth, regulates traffic, limits speed, prohibits drunken driving and driving under the influence of drugs, provides for the erection of signs and standards, regulates parking, following fire or police cars and trucks, and provides for penalties for violations of any section of the ordinance.

Motorists of Plattsmouth and Cass county are urged to read this new ordinance and study its provisions. It goes into effect immediately following its publication in today's issue of the Journal and local police will start enforcing its provisions Tuesday.

The City Council and police department will appreciate the cooperation of the motoring public in their efforts to make life safer and easier on the streets of Plattsmouth.

Five of the victims were Cass County residents, riding in the Pollard car. Mrs. Pollard and Mrs. Fred Rehmer had been at Fremont attending the state meetings of the Order of Eastern Star. On Thursday afternoon Pollard and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norris, Weeping Water, went to Fremont to take in the last sessions of the meeting. Upon their return trip all five were in the Pollard car when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Byers, in company with her husband, Dr. Byers, attempted to pass the Pollard car and struck it from the rear, causing the truck car to burst into flames.

Although Pollard was suffering from facial injuries, he dragged his wife from the burning car. Mrs. Norris was able to help herself. Norris was stunned but able in getting the women away from the flames.

Telephone Strike Ended 7 O'clock Monday Morning

At seven o'clock this Monday morning, telephone operators and maintenance men, who have been on strike since April 7, filed back to their jobs with the final chapter written on a disruption of public service that played havoc for several days during the early period of the strike.

In Plattsmouth, twelve operators and five maintenance men were back on duty, while at Louisville five operators returned. Weeping Water also served out of the Plattsmouth office, had seven operators and three maintenance men return to work.

In the final settlement made between the unions and the telephone companies, maintenance department employees were given increases of from $2.50 to $4.00 per week, with those employed out of Plattsmouth receiving the low bracket wage increase. Operators were given a small increase and reinstated on company records.

While the strike disrupted service in many localities, through the efforts of Mr. Adrian Newsom, local manager of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co., and the fine service of non-striking employees and past employees, near-normal service was maintained through the Plattsmouth office. It required long and extra hours, but they proved equal to the task.

With the Explorer group acting as counselors for boys along the trail, the Camporee will be an overnight camp for putting the skills of scouting into practice. The camp is to be held at old Camp Quivera near Louisville.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 20, 21 and 22, have been set aside by the City Council of Plattsmouth as "Clean-Up Days" for the city. On these three days city department employees will devote their full time to the hauling away of rubbish, tin cans and other refuse accumulated during the winter months.

According to the schedule given the Journal by Clyde Rosborough, street commissioner, trucks will work the residential district on the south side of Main street on Tuesday, May 20. On Wednesday and Thursday, May 21 and 22, the men and trucks will haul from the north section of the city.

While city employees will make every effort to haul away all refuse to the city dump, local citizens are requested to place the accumulations in containers or piles easily accessible to trucks. Keep all ashes, glass and bottles separate as this will not be hauled away by city trucks.

No charge is being made residents for this service and city officials urge home-owners to cooperate in every way to clean and brighten up the city. Get the rubbish to the dumps where it belongs and Plattsmouth will take on an even brighter and cleaner hue.

Remember the dates, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and do your part to aid the city in this worthwhile drive.

Dial Telephones Go Into Service At Louisville

A general program of improvement in the telephone system at the Louisville exchange, which will include the conversion of this service to dial operation, is nearly completed. This was announced this week by A. M. Newsom, area manager of the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Company at Plattsmouth. The dial equipment has been installed in the present telephone building by a special installation crew headed by Mr. George Keith, district installation supervisor. The cutover to the new dial system is planned to take place the first part of next week.

Telephone instruments for all town and rural subscribers were changed some time ago to the new dial type. For the past two years this has enabled subscribers on farm lines to enjoy the advantages of common battery rather than magneto type service. The former instruments were removed and after necessary reconditioning were placed in service at other exchanges. The construction work in connection with the repair and modernizing of the system having been completed about two years ago, according to Mr. Newsom.

Mary Borremeyer, who is well known to subscribers in Louisville for her capable work as chief operator, will continue her

STEWART'S SPRINTERS SCORE AT STATE MEET

The Plattsmouth high school track team climaxed their most successful season in many years by scoring 13 points to rank fifth in the state class B track and field championship at Lincoln Friday and Saturday.

Bob Tritsch, local speed merchant, won second place in the 220-yd. dash and in so doing he defeated Jones of Central City who the day before had forced Bobby to be satisfied with a second in the prelims. Only Richard Beltner, Bayard's fine sprinter, could stay in front Saturday.

The relay team of Wiles, Meisinger, White and Tritsch, stayed in front all the way to win the second heat in their fastest time, 1:36.3 This was good enough for third place.

Emerson Wiles just missed qualifying in the 100 and 220 dashes Friday.

All the boys are sporting State Meet medals and are justly proud of them, says Coach Merle Stewart.
