Rev. Wichman Visits Here Sunday

Last Sunday the Rev. O. G. Wichman, former pastor of the St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church, made a surprise visit to the church where he had once preached. Visiting from Denver with his daughter, Miss Eva Wichman in Omaha, the pastor, in company with his sister, Mrs. Zimmerman of Council Bluffs, his daughters, Miss Hildergarde of Denver and Miss Dora of Portland, Ore., arrived here shortly before the worship services began. Called upon to address the congregation he gave a brief report about himself and his family. The group left for Omaha immediately after the services.

Rev. Wichman is now living with his daughter in Denver. He has been in Portland this summer and his daughter there accompanied her father and sister on their trip east. Another daughter in Wisconsin was also able to join the group, enabling all four sisters to be together with their father. The travelers planned to leave Omaha Monday for Denver.

Located here for nearly eight years, Rev. Wichman served the church from 1925 to 1933.

SAVE LOTS OF MONEY

Dear Friends:
I am saving plenty at my IGA store. Prices surely have come down. My husband Frank thinks I am the greatest buyer in the world. But it's no trick at all—it just so happens that I buy everything for my table at IGA. I divulged my secret to Frank last night and he said IGA's doing a lot for this country to which I heartily agreed.
