

Sheriff Chases Suspects Into Glenwood, Ia.

Two men, carrying Washington State license plates on their car led Sheriff Tom Solomon on a chase that ended in Glenwood, across the river, after their suspicious actions had aroused the attention of a Plattsmouth resident.

The two men were observed in a local tavern where they attempted to get a check cashed. Refused they tried two other business places before they were again seen at this time covering the license plates of their car near the library.

The pair then drove on Highway 34 to the Plattsmouth bridge where, following a running start, they sped past the toll keepers. Sheriff Solomon, who was on the lookout for the two, was notified and gave chase. Catching up with the two men in Glenwood, he was unable to locate either Mills county Sheriff, his deputy, or a member of the city police.

Having no authority to hold the men, he was forced to turn them loose. He immediately notified the Iowa State Highway Patrol, giving them a description of the two men and of their car.

Up to this time no further clue has been found leading to the whereabouts of the pair.

Services Held For Pioneer Resident of City

Last rites were held Tuesday morning for Mrs. Emma Schulhof, 87, who died at Omaha Saturday, July 26. Services were held in St. John's Catholic church at 9:00 a. m. with the Rev. Father Casper Bobrowski officiating. John Clodt, accompanied by Mrs. Clodt, sang two selections, "There Is No Heart Like Thine" and "Thy Will Be Done."

Palbearers were John M. Meisinger, Ed Fitzgerald, William H. Woolcott, William Swatek, William Fitzgerald and L. D. Hiatt.

Burial was in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

The rosary was recited Monday evening in the Caldwell chapel.

Born March 31, 1860, Miss Schulhof came with her parents, Henry and Margaret Schulhof from Richmond, Ind., when a small child. Locating here, they were early settlers of Plattsmouth. Miss Schulhof was truly a pioneer. She lived in the family home here for more than 50 years.

After the death of her parents she continued to live here with her brother, Ed, who died seven years ago.

The last of her generation, Miss Schulhof was also preceded in death by another brother, John, in California, and three sisters, Mrs. Emma Smith, Plattsmouth, Mrs. Zetta Lewis, Denver, and Mrs. Henrietta Hebert, Omaha. She leaves several nieces and nephews.

She was a distant cousin of Miss Marie Fitzgerald and her brothers, Ed, William, and Bradley.

Since last fall she had made her home in Omaha with her niece, Mrs. James Hanna, at 4306 Lake street.

Mrs. Tom Svoboda Buried in Omaha

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Svoboda, 57, were held at 8:00 a. m. Wednesday in the Sacred Heart church, Omaha. Burial was in the Bohemian National cemetery, Omaha.

Palbearers included two Plattsmouth men, John Svoboda and Vincent Pihly.

Attending the funeral from here were Mrs. Hermie Svoboda and daughter, Dorothy, Mrs. Joe Woster, Mrs. John Fleming, Mrs. Charles Janda, Mrs. Rose Bookmeyer, Mrs. Josephine Janda, Mrs. George Koehnke and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Koukal, Seattle, Wash.

At The Cass County Court House

A marriage license was issued July 30 to LeRoy Arnold Schalk, 18, Plattsmouth, and Joyce La Vern Hobbs, 20, also of Plattsmouth, at the office of County Judge Paul Fauquet.

Fred W. Smith, Ventura, California, is the new president of the International Association of Lions Clubs. He was advanced by unanimous vote from the first vice-presidency at the 30th annual convention of the association which closed at San Francisco. Smith succeeds Clifford D. Pierce of Memphis, Tenn.

'No Comment' Say County Commissioners

County Commissioners Parr Young, A. G. Reid, and Charles Stoehr in their regular meeting at the courthouse Wednesday replied, "No Comment", when contacted by a Journal reporter regarding the suit filed Monday in District Court asking for an injunction preventing further expenditures and recovery of money already expended in the repair and redecoration of the city building.

"To our knowledge we have not made violation of any statute of Nebraska in making these necessary repairs, if so, it certainly was unintentional," was the unanimous opinion of the board members.

The suit, filed Monday, July 28, in District Court by William P. Kraeger, Plattsmouth, identifying himself as a taxpayer, was made a matter of record through his attorney, James Begley, also of Plattsmouth.

No answer has been filed, nor has any date been set for hearing on the petition.

Band Concert At City Park Sunday Night

The high school band will give the fourth of its summer concerts at Garfield park Sunday night at eight o'clock. The program has not yet been completed but it will include a variety of selections that will hold the interest of all.

In the absence of Walt Smith the numbers were announced, last time, by Carl Schneider at the public address system who did a good job of punch-hitting. Smith is expected to be back for Sunday night's concert.

The band members have been busy rehearsing for extra activities along with regular rehearsals. With Korn Carnival rehearsals not so far off they are preparing to get right into the swing of things and help create the festival spirit.

Store Has New Air Conditioner Installed

Plattsmouth first true air-conditioner was installed at the Cass Drug the first of the week by the Bauer Plumbing and Heating Company.

The new unit, a Chrysler Air-temp, using a regular compressor or refrigeration unit that cools water through which the air is filtered, maintains an even temperature in the building of around 72 degrees, and regulates the humidity.

Bauer Plumbing and Heating have the exclusive distributorship of the Air-Temp in this territory and from present indications other installations will be made in the near future.

Pfc. Bob Lehnst Now In San Pedro Harbor

Pfc. Bob Lehnst, USMC, son of Albert Lehnst of Plattsmouth, is serving aboard the light cruiser USS Astoria, which is undergoing repairs at the Naval Shipyard, Terminal Island, San Pedro, Calif.

The Astoria recently returned to the United States after an extensive tour of duty in the Pacific area.

Lugsch Cleaners Put New Truck Into Service

A new International delivery truck was put into service here the past week by the Lugsch Cleaners, replacing a Ford delivery that had been in service on the streets of Plattsmouth since 1941. The new truck, painted a bright red and carrying the Lugsch name on each panel, is an attractive addition to the fleet.

The retired panel job, put into service in 1941, traveled a total of over 250,000 miles through the streets of the city and over Cass and Sarpy county roads making deliveries for this Plattsmouth institution. It was still in good running condition when turned in on the new truck. The Lugsch cleaners, combined with the Midwest Cleaners and rebuilders of Athletic Equipment, is a much larger institution than most Journal readers realize.

Today, a total of 19 persons are employed in the combined plant where a complete cleaning service is offered the public. In addition, Mr. Lugsch employs four representatives traveling six states contracting with schools and colleges for the annual repair and reconditioning of athletic equipment. Near 800 schools took advantage of this service, during 1947, sending in for full equipment including helmets, breeches, and other pieces in top condition, plus other sports equipment. Large shipments go out of Plattsmouth daily forwarding this equipment after processing here ready for the season's workout on athletic fields all over the midwest—a service to the school and another to Plattsmouth in furnishing employment to a large group of men and women, many of them in the employ of the company for many years.

Legion Auxiliary At Convention

Delegates and other interested members attended the state convention of the American Legion Auxiliary held in Omaha Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Representing the local unit officially were Mrs. Alpha Matuz, unit president, Mrs. Reed Wolcott, past president, Mrs. Leonard Brothers, vice-president, Mrs. Bob Slavick, alternate to the secretary, Miss Ida Patton, Mrs. C. J. Baumgart, Mrs. Dorothy Janacek, Mrs. Cora Baumgart, Mrs. Karl Grosshans and Mrs. Glenn McClure.

A full report of the convention activities will be given at the next regular meeting of the Auxiliary on August 7.

Three of the delegates attended the banquet Monday night at the Hotel Fontenelle for presidents and past presidents, the Gold Star Mothers Tea late Tuesday afternoon in the Legion club and the banquet Tuesday evening at the local delegates, Mrs. Matuz, Mrs. Slavick and Mrs. Brothers, executive delegates, attended these social functions. They were also at the Child Welfare Breakfast Wednesday morning.

Men Needed For Coast Guard

The Coast Guard, back on a peacetime basis as the strong arm of the Treasury Department, announced that it is in need of men. There is an urgent need for men between the ages of 17 and 25 for original enlistments and ex-service men from 17 to 35 plus previous service. Service schools are in full swing and men wishing to broaden their education or learn a trade can do so in this service. All benefits of the GI Bill of Rights are still offered. Basic training is given original enlistees at Mayport, Florida, beneath the beautiful palm trees. Further information can be obtained by contacting the Coast Guard Recruiting Office, 317 Post Office Building, Omaha, Nebraska.

Band to Appear At Tabor Tonite; Program at 8:30

Tonight at 7:00 o'clock the Plattsmouth high school band and their leader, David Fowler, will leave for Tabor, Iowa, where they will participate in a drilling and marching exhibition program on the fair grounds. The program will begin at 8:30 p. m.

The exhibition will include two other bands, the Tabor band and the Glenwood school band. This will be a non-competitive show demonstrating the skill and abilities of the groups. In exchange, the Tabor band will be here to participate in the King Korn Carnival.

This is the first marching exhibition the Plattsmouth band has taken part in since its re-organization a year ago in April. For the past two weeks the band members have been practicing intensively each day at 1:00 p. m. in the heat and glare of the sun. They expect to make a good showing, Mr. Fowler said.

The group will go in cars and will be accompanied by several of the parents who will furnish transportation.

Entries Place At Glenwood Show

Cass county potato racers beat Malvern, Iowa last Saturday night in the Glenwood Horse show. Don Born, Neurt Sullivan, Tom Crosshans and Gerald Keil made up the winning team.

Gilbert Peterson's entry in the Boys Western class placed first in Sunday evening's show. Bud Amgwert of Murdock put on an exhibition with the Tennessee walking horse recently purchased by the Cass County Horse Show association. This is the horse which will be given away during the horse show at the King Korn Carnival.

Other entries which placed were Gerald Keil's Duchess taking fourth in the Men's English Pleasure class; Lon Born's Lady Rex Anna, second, in Foals of '47; Chet Stone, Nehawka, fourth in Foals of '46; Gerry Smith, Murdock, fourth place with his palomino in Foals of '45.

Janice Wiles, entering her horse, Black Magic, in the pleasure horse section for boys and girls under 12, took fourth; Kenneth Tschirren's Prince was fourth for boys and girls over 12.

In the three girl open class Tom Grosshans' entry, Queen Rex Anna, placed fourth. Lyle Schaefer's Traveler placed fourth in the five gaited open class. Schaefer is from Nehawka. Gilbert Peterson's entry in the Men's Western class placed fourth.

In the barrel exhibition Gilbert Peterson was third and Sandy Babbitt was fourth.

NEW ARRIVAL

County Assessor William Puls is wearing a broad smile since the arrival of a great granddaughter, Judy Eileen Puls, last Saturday. The new arrival is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Puls, Omaha. Her mother is a former Plattsmouth girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carey, now of Omaha. Judy Eileen is the third great granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Puls.

FUNERAL FRIDAY FOR MRS. OSSENKOP

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2:00 p. m. in the Methodist church, Louisville, for Mrs. H. Ossenkop who died at her home there following a long illness.

Survivors are her husband and two sons, Charles of Callo-way, and John of Louisville.

Frost Dates Come Middle of October

A lot of folks over Nebraska have been wondering about the possibility of "soft corn" this fall as a result of the unusual weather the Cornhusker state has been experiencing. Many of them say it all depends upon the time when frost comes.

A check through the Weather Bureau records by the College of Agriculture shows the long time average killing frost date for Lincoln as October 6. That date varies by years. For example, it frosted at Lincoln on October 11 last year—but back in 1940 the first killing frost did not come until November 10.

Last year it frosted at Lexington on October 11, at Hastings on October 12 and at North Platte on October 8 and at Scottsbluff on September 23.

Cass Red Cross Completes Local Disaster Work

Elmer Hallstrom, treasurer of the Cass County Chapter of the Cass American Red Cross, has announced that the Red Cross has completed its work in disaster rehabilitation following the June floods.

Families in Louisville, Weeping Water, Nehawka and Union as well as in the rural areas were assisted. The total amount of assistance given was $2,371.46. This assistance included help with the repair of buildings, payment of rent, and the purchase of household furnishings, food, clothing and poultry.

Although the money spent was from the local chapter treasury, Miss Besse Allen, from the Midwestern Area Office of the American Red Cross, assisted with the work of rehabilitation at the request of the chapter.

Mrs. Henry Dankliff, Publicity Chairman.

Kids Do Whale of a Business On Drinks

Four kids did a "whale of a business" on the corners of Fourth and Fifth on Main for a short time Tuesday, until their tempting offerings became too inviting for the sellers and they started drinking up their stock in trade.

Edward Eestberger, Dick Mullee, at Fourth, and Danny Luckin and Bill Mullee, stationed at Fifth, were selling a good looking, if not palatable red drink (plenty of ice and little sugar), at 5c a glass and had plenty of customers until the gang themselves got thirsty—in 10 minutes flat the business folded.

Little Daney Lockins, about three and dolled up like a King Korn Carnival "hula dancer" informed a Journal reporter that he was "buthneal manied" but even he was unable to get the situation under control once his partners started "tippin" the jug—but it made ice cream money while it lasted.

ROTARY CLUB HEARS COACH MERLE STEWART

As chairman of the program committee at Rotary meeting Tuesday noon, Stephen Davis introduced Coach Merle Stewart who gave a talk on the summer recreation program and outlined the activities included in the daily schedule.

Davis, business manager of the Junior Legion Baseball club, gave a resume of the Juniors' baseball season which has just ended.

Richard Peck will be in charge of the program next week.

MRS. WEAVERLING BURIED AT TOPEKA

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Weaverling, 73, were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in the Wall Dependofus Funeral home at Topeka, Kansas.

Mrs. Weaverling died at the Masonic home Sunday afternoon. She had been a resident there since May 17th.

Frank Robbins Breaks Hip in Fall Tuesday

Frank Robbins, 58, baker at Wilson's Bakery, is in Methodist hospital at Omaha suffering with a broken hip received in a fall at the bakery about 7 a. m. Tuesday morning.

Mr. Robbins, who goes on duty at the bakery during the early morning hours, stepped into a storage closet in the rear of the building and fell to the basement through the floor entrance to the basement stairs that had been left open in an attempt to lower the temperatures in the building.

Removed from the building in Caldwell's ambulance, Mr. Robbins was taken to Methodist hospital where examination disclosed the broken hip. This Thursday morning an operation is to be performed to place a peg in the hip to hold it in place while healing.

Mr. Robbins' son, Gordon, arrived in Plattsmouth to be with his father and also to take over his duties at the bakery during Mr. Robbins' absence.

Winterburn Wins Nebraska Plow Terrace Contest

Lyle Winterburn, of Douglas County, won the Nebraska Plow Terracing Contest Wednesday, scoring 119 points out of a possible 125 to take first place in the senior division. Second place went to Joe Macholan, with 116.6 points.

The contest, attracting 32 entrants in junior and senior divisions, was held on the Charles Warner farm near Waverly.

Five thousand persons saw the two winners qualify to enter the National Plow Terrace Contest to be held on the Alvin Ochlerling farm north of Weeping Water, August 27.

Ronald H. Orr, Gage County, placed third with 116.2 points in the senior division. In the Junior class, Ray H. Dell, Gage County, scored 115.92 points to win. Mancel McGill, Lancaster, was second with 112, and Don Erberspacher, Seward, was third with 109.5 points.

Carl Graves Visits At Journal Plant

Carl Graves, now of Los Angeles where he is now employed on the Times, was a visitor to his old haunts in the Journal plant this week. Carl learned his trade and was Linotype operator at the Journal for several years before moving to Los Angeles in 1942. There he has associated himself with one of the country's finest newspapers, is making high wages and well pleased with his location.

He, with his wife and children, are spending their vacation in Plattsmouth with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Graves.

SCOUT TROOP SELLS POP

Boy Scout Troop No. 367 is building up its treasury by running a pop concession at the Athletic field while softball games are played.

Twelve Pages In Today's Journal

Confidence in the present owner of the Journal, and the support of Plattsmouth business people is making it possible for the management to continue getting the county a bigger and better paper than ever before.

Today's issue, comprised of 12 pages, is the largest single issue coming from the plant in several years. Every effort is being made to fill its pages with local and Cass County news and this policy will continue in the future.

While present day costs of publishing a newspaper are far out of line, readers and advertisers can be assured the present management will give Plattsmouth a newspaper it can be proud of, disregarding profits.

City Street Flusher Is Back On Job

Plattsmouth City's street flusher that was taken to Kansas City a few weeks ago by Bob Bestor for the installation of a new type pump, has been back in service for two weeks and to date is meeting all requirements, according to reports of the City Council.

From the time the new flusher was purchased, operators had experienced considerable difficulty with the pump on the tanker and on a few occasions had had repair work done locally, with no success. Notifying the company, the city was informed the pump on the first of these flushers had failed to stand up.

Orders came from the builders of the flusher to bring it to Kansas City and a new pump of an entirely different type would be installed without charge. This was done about three weeks ago. To date the machine is performing its duties on the streets of the city in excellent shape and the street departments anticipate no further trouble following this recent installation.

Eagles Meet Millard Here This Sunday

Plattsmouth Eagles, back into a winning streak after a slump that cost them a game or two, will meet Millard on the Plattsmouth Athletic Field here Sunday in the first home game to be played here this season.

Attempting to hold their position in second place in the DSC league, the locals promise to put forth their best efforts to take the Millard aggregation, one of the stronger teams in the league, to the trimmers here Sunday.

The game is called for 2:30 p. m. and the admission price is low. Plattsmouth fans should turn out in droves to give the Eagles the kind of support they deserve and to welcome them on their home field for the first time this year.

Drum Corps Is In Legion Parade

Plattsmouth's High School Drum and Bugle Corps under the direction of David Fowler, music instructor, paraded with the American Legion at Omaha Wednesday in their annual meeting. The local group, in full uniform made a colorful sight and added their bit towards making the parade a success.

An early model two-cylinder Buick car, owned by the local Legion club, got prominent mention and a picture in the World-Herald for its trip to the city and participation in the parade. Although the car was minus one tire due to the failure of a new one to arrive, it made the entire route without mishap and attracted considerable attention.

MVA Issue To Be On Radio Network

The MVA issue will be discussed on a national hookup of the Columbia radio stations on Saturday August 2, at 2:30 p. m. DST, according to an announcement by the Missouri Valley Development Association.

Participating in the program will be John B. Quinn, executive director of the association, and Russell Smith, legislative secretary of the National Farmers Union Association.

CHANGE IN POSTAL CARRIERS MADE

Effective August 1, 1947, Theodore E. Ptak will transfer from the city carrier service to Route 1 of the post office rural service, according to an announcement by Acting Postmaster Edward M. Ezenberger.

Ptak will replace John L. Beckman who has been serving Route 1 under a war service appointment.

Willard N. Brink, jr. will be promoted from sub-carrier to city carrier. He will serve the route which Ptak is giving up.

Billie Eilsen Dawson, 16-year-old brunette of Topeka, Kans., and Woodward, Oklahoma, who will preside as queen over Wood- ward Elks Rodeo on Aug. 3-9-10. Rodeo profit will be shared with the Woodward tornado relief fund now at $350,000.
